Passion According To Saint Matthew:

The Gospel According to Matthew, 1999 The publication of the King James version of the Bible translated between 1603 and 1611 coincided with an extraordinary flowering of English literature and is universally acknowledged as the greatest influence on English language literature in history Now world class literary writers introduce the book of the King James Bible in a series of beautifully designed small format volumes The introducers passionate provocative and personal engagements with the spirituality and the language of the text make the Bible come alive as a stunning work of literature and remind us of its overwhelming contemporary relevance

St. Matthew Passion Hans Blumenberg, 2021-11-15 St Matthew Passion is Hans Blumenberg's sustained and devastating meditation on Jesus's anguished cry on the cross My God my God why have you forsaken me Why did this abandonment happen what does it mean within the logic of the Gospels how have believers and nonbelievers understood it and how does it live on in art With rare philological acuity and vast historical learning Blumenberg unfolds context upon context in which this cry has reverberated from early Christian apologetics and heretics to twentieth century literature and philosophy Blumenberg's guide through this unending story of divine abandonment is Johann Sebastian Bach's monumental Matth uspassion the parabolic mirror that bundled eighteen hundred years of reflection on the fate of the crucified and the only available medium that allows us post Christian listeners to feel the anguish of those who witnessed the events of the Passion With interspersed references to writers such as Goethe Rilke Kafka Freud and Benjamin Blumenberg gathers evidence to raise the singular question that in his view Christian theology has not been able to answer How can an omnipotent God be so offended by his creatures that he must sacrifice and abandon his own Son

Bach's St. Matthew Passion Victor Lederer, 2008-10 Johann Sebastian Bach's the St Matthew Passion stands as a singular expression of religious sensibility Highlighting the inspiration Bach drew from opera this book illuminates the hybrid forms that comprise the work thereby clarifying many of the composer's dramatic strategies

Fire of Mercy, Heart of the Word Erasmo Leiva-Merikakis, 2013-02-28 To the unstudied eye St Matthew's gospel can seem a terse narrative almost a historical document and not the tremendously spiritual and doctrinal storehouse that it is In his third volume of meditations on Matthew chapters 19-25 Erasmo Leiva continues to show Matthew's prose to be not terse so much as economical astoundingly so given its depth The lay reader can derive great profit from reading this Each short meditation comments on a verse or two pointing to some facet of the text not immediately apparent but rich with meaning Leiva's work is scholarly but eminently approachable by the lay reader The tone is very much of taste and see how good the Lord is and an invitation of friend come up higher The goal of the book is to help the reader experience the heat of the divine heart and the light of the divine Word Leiva comments on the Greek text demonstrating nuances in the text that defy translation He uses numerous quotes from the Fathers and the Liturgy of the Church to demonstrate the way the Tradition has lived and read the Word of

Jerome covers the entire text of Matthew's gospel by means of brief explanatory comments that clarify the text literally and historically. Text Genetics in Literary Modernism and other Essays Hans Walter Gabler, 2018-02-20 This collection of essays from world renowned scholar Hans Walter Gabler contains writings from a decade and a half of retirement spent exploring textual criticism, genetic criticism and literary criticism. In these sixteen stimulating contributions he develops theories of textual criticism and editing that are inflected by our advance into the digital era, structurally analyses arts of composition in literature and music and traces the cultural implications discernible in book design and in the canonisation of works of literature and their authors. Distinctive and ambitious, these essays move beyond the concerns of the community of critics and scholars. Gabler responds innovatively to the issues involved and often endeavours to re-think their urgencies by bringing together the orthodox tenets of different schools of textual criticism. He moves between a variety of topics ranging from fresh genetic approaches to the work of James Joyce and Virginia Woolf to significant contributions to the theorisation of scholarly editing in the digital age. Written in Gabler's fluent style, these rich and elegant compositions are essential reading for literary and textual critics, scholarly editors, readers of James Joyce, New Modernism specialists and all those interested in textual scholarship and digital editing under the umbrella of Digital Humanities. Fire of Mercy, Heart of the Word, Vol 1 Erasmo Leiva-Merikakis, 1996-01-01 To the unstudied eye, Matthew's gospel can seem a terse narrative, almost a historical document and not the tremendously spiritual and doctrinal storehouse that it is. Erasmo Leiva here acts as our guide, showing Matthew's prose to be not terse so much as economical, astoundingly so given its depth. The lay reader can derive great profit from reading this. Each short meditation comments on a verse or two, pointing to some facet of the text not immediately apparent. Leiva's work is scholarly but eminently approachable by the non-technical reader. The tone is very much gustate et
