Mancoff, 2009-12-22 What gives beauty such fascinating power Why is beauty so easy to recognize but so hard to define Across cultures and continents and over the centuries the standards of beauty have changed but the desire to portray beauty to praise beauty and to possess beauty has never diminished Icons of Beauty offers an enthralling overview of the most revered icons of female beauty in world art from pre history to the present From images of Eve to Cindy Sherman's self portraits from Cleopatra to Madonna from ancient goddesses to modern celebrities this interdisciplinary set offers fresh insight as to how we can use perceptions of beauty to learn about world cultures both past and present Each chapter looks at an individual work of art to pose a question about the power of beauty What makes beauty modern What is the influence of celebrities How do women portray their own beauty in a different manner than men In depth profiles of the icons reveal how specific ideas about beauty were developed and expressed offering a full analysis of their history cultural significance and lasting influence In addition to renowned works of art Icons of Beauty also looks at icons in literature film politics and contemporary entertainment Interdisciplinary and multicultural in its approach chapters inside this set also feature sidebars on provocative topics and issues such as foot binding and body adornment myths and practices opinions and interpretations and even related films songs and even comic book characters Generously illustrated this rich set encompasses history politics society women's studies and art history making it an indispensable resource for high school and college students as well as general readers The Passionate Spectator Jane Burr, 1921 Extraordinary Aesthetes Joseph Bristow, 2023-04-14 The fin de siècle not only designated the end of the Victorian epoch but also marked a significant turn towards modernism Extraordinary Aesthetes critically examines literary and visual artists from England Ireland and Scotland whose careers in poetry fiction and illustration flourished during the concluding years of the nineteenth century This collection draws special attention to the exceptional contributions that artists poets and novelists made to the cultural world of the late 1880s and 1890s The essays illuminate a range of established increasingly acknowledged and lesser known figures whose contributions to this brief but remarkably intense cultural period warrant close attention Such figures include the critically neglected Mabel Dearmer whose stunning illustrations appear in Evelyn Sharp's radical fairy tales for children Equally noteworthy is the uncompromising short fiction of Ella D Arcy who played a pivotal role in editing the most famous journal of the 1890s The Yellow Book The discussion extends to a range of legendary writers including Max Beerbohm Oscar Wilde and W B Yeats whose works are placed in dialogue with authors who gained prominence during this period Bringing women's writing to the fore Extraordinary

Aesthetes rebalances the achievements of artists and writers during the rapidly transforming cultural world of the fin de siècle

Eavesdropping John L. Locke, 2010-06-24 Who among us hasn't eavesdropped on a stranger's conversation in a theater or restaurant? Indeed, scientists have found that even animals eavesdrop on the calls and cries of others. In Eavesdropping, John L. Locke provides the first serious look at this virtually universal phenomenon. Locke's entertaining and disturbing account explores everything from sixteenth-century voyeurism to Hitchcock's Rear Window from chimpanzee behavior to Parisian café society from private eyes to Facebook and Twitter. He uncovers the biological drive behind the behavior and highlights its consequences across history and cultures. Eavesdropping can be a good thing: an attempt to understand what goes on in the lives of others so as to know better how to live one's own. Even birds who listen in on the calls of distant animals tend to survive longer. But Locke also concedes that eavesdropping has a bad name. It can encompass cheating to get unfair advantage, espionage to uncover secrets, and secretly monitoring emails to maintain power over employees. In the age of CCTV, phone tapping, and computer hacking, this is eye-opening reading.

Passionate Spectator Eric Kraft, In Passionate Spectator, memoirist Peter Leroy and his wife Albertine are living by the skin of their teeth in Manhattan. Casting about for a source of income, Peter purchases a book from a homeless peddler, Creative Self Promotion for Taxidermists, hoping he can adapt its techniques to promote his fledgling business. Memoirs While You Wait That book opens into a beguiling journey from fiction to truth and back again, involving Peter, his childhood friend Matthew Barber, who is undergoing emergency heart surgery, and Peter's witty, urbane alter ego, Bertram W. Beath, an erotic opportunist and passionate spectator of life's pageant.

The Walker Matthew Beaumont, 2021-11-09 From Charles Dickens' London to today's megacities, a fascinating exploration of what urban walking tells us about modern life. For fans of Rebecca Solnit's The Lonely City and literary history, a labyrinthine journey into the literature of walking and thinking as seen in the lives and works of Edgar Allan Poe, Virginia Woolf, Ray Bradbury, and other literary greats. Guardian: "There is no such thing as a false step. Every time we walk, we are going somewhere. Especially if we are going nowhere. Moving around the modern city is not a way of getting from A to B, but of understanding who and where we are. In a series of riveting intellectual rambles, Matthew Beaumont retraces episodes in the history of the walker since the mid-19th century. From Dickens's insomniac night rambles to restless excursions through the faceless monuments of today's neoliberal city, the act of walking is one of self-discovery and self-escape, of disappearances and secret subversions. Pacing, stride for stride, alongside literary ambler and thinkers such as Edgar Allan Poe, André Breton, H.G. Wells, Virginia Woolf, Jean Rhys, and Ray Bradbury, Beaumont explores the relationship between the metropolis and its pedestrian life. Through these writings, Beaumont asks: Can you get lost in a crowd? What are the consequences of using your smartphone in the street? What differentiates the nocturnal metropolis from the city of daylight? What connects walking philosophy and the big toe? And can we save the city or ourselves by taking to the pavement?"
