Past Meets Future Saving Americas Historic Environments:

Past Meets Future Antoinette J. Lee, 1995-07-19 Emanating from a special National Preservation Conference leading experts present 33 essays on future trends in the historic preservation field Topics range from cultural diversity to the future of American communities This book will guide preservations and anyone concerned about our built environment into the next quarter century Heritage Conservation in the United States John H. Sprinkle, Jr., 2023-05-25 Heritage Conservation in the United States begins to trace the growth of the American historic preservation movement over the last 50 years viewed from the context of the civil rights and environmental movements The first generation of the New Preservation 1966 1991 was characterized by the establishment of the bureaucratic structures that continue to shape the practice of heritage conservation in the United States The National Register of Historic Places began with less than a thousand historic properties and grew to over 50 000 listings Official recognition programs expanded causing sites that would never have been considered as either significant or physically representative in 1966 now being regularly considered as part of a historic preservation planning process The book uses the story of how sites associated with African American history came to be officially recognized and valued and how that process challenged the conventions and criteria that governed American preservation practice This book is designed for the historic preservation community and students engaged in the study of historic preservation Revitalising Historic Urban Quarters Tim Heath, Taner Oc, Steve Tiesdell, 2013-09-13 This book synthesizes urban design and urban regeneration by examining the revitalization of a number of historic urban quarters Its focus is on quarters or areas where there is a significant number of historic buildings concentrated in a small area with places and area based approaches Many cities have such quarters that confer on them a sense of place and identity through their historic continuity and cultural associations The quarters are often an integral element of the city s image and identity The lessons and observations from the experience of the revitalization of such historic urban quarters forms the core of this book with a number of case study examples from North America and Europe showing a variety of approaches to and outcomes of revitalization Science and Technology in Historic Preservation Ray A. Williamson, Paul R.

Nickens, 2012-12-06 Technology transfer has played an increasingly important role in historic preservation during the latter half of the twentieth century a situation attested to by the undertaking of an important congressional study in 1986 that assessed the role of federal agencies in the field In this book leading researchers update the earlier findings and contribute state of the art reviews and evaluations of technological progress in their areas of expertise Cultural Landscapes

Richard W. Longstreth, 2008 Preservation has traditionally focused on saving prominent buildings of historical or architectural significance Preserving cultural landscapes the combined fabric of the natural and man made environments is a relatively new and often misunderstood idea among preservationists but it is of increasing importance The essays collected in this volume case studies that include the Little Tokyo neighborhood in Los Angeles the Cross Bronx Expressway and a rural island in Puget Sound underscore how this approach can be fruitfully applied Together they make clear that a cultural landscape perspective can be an essential underpinning for all historic preservation projects Contributors Susan Calafate Boyle National Park Service Susan Buggey U of Montreal Michael Caratzas Landmarks Preservation Commission NYC Courtney P Fint West Virginia Historic Preservation Office Heidi Hohmann Iowa State U Hillary Jenks USC Randall Mason U Penn Robert Z Melnick U of Oregon Nora Mitchell National Park Service Julie Riesenweber U of Kentucky Nancy Rottle U of Washington Bonnie Stepenoff Southeast Missouri State U Richard Longstreth is professor of American civilization and director of the graduate program in historic preservation at George Washington University Sustaining Heritage Tony Gilmour,2007 Sustaining Heritage chronicles a moment in the history of heritage conservation and has a particularly Australian focus Gilmour s thoughtful analysis informative case studies and conclusions provide some valuable insight and relevant messages Historic Preservation, Third Edition: An Introduction to Its History, Principles, and Practice (Third Edition) Norman Tyler,Ilene R. History Comes Alive M. J. Rymsza-Pawlowska,2017-10-03

During the 1976 Bicentennial celebration millions of Americans engaged with the past in brand new ways They became absorbed by historical miniseries like Roots visited museums with new exhibits that immersed them in the past propelled works of historical fiction onto the bestseller list and participated in living history events across the nation While many of these activities were sparked by the Bicentennial M J Rymsza Pawlowska shows that in fact they were symptomatic of a fundamental shift in Americans relationship to history during the 1960s and 1970s For the majority of the twentieth century Americans thought of the past as foundational to but separate from the present and they learned and thought about history in informational terms But Rymsza Pawlowska argues that the popular culture of the 1970s reflected an emerging desire to engage and enact the past on a more emotional level to consider the feelings and motivations of historic individuals and most importantly to use this in reevaluating both the past and the present This thought provoking book charts the era s shifting feeling for history and explores how it serves as a foundation for the experience and practice of history making today

An examination of the struggle to conserve biodiversity in urban regions told through the story of the threatened coastal California gnatcatcher A well written and thoroughly researched book Provides a detailed examination of the struggle to conserve biodiversity in urban areas Susan Catherine

Cork Conservation Biology The story of the threatened coastal California gnatcatcher is a parable for understanding the larger ongoing struggle to conserve biodiversity in regions confronted with intensifying urban development Because this gnatcatcher depends on vanishing coastal sage scrub in Southern California it has been regarded as a flagship species for biodiversity protection since the early 1990s But the uncertainty of the gnatcatcher's taxonomic classification and whether it can be counted as a listable unit under the Endangered Species Act has provoked contentious debate among activists scientists urban developers and policy makers Synthesizing insights from ecology environmental history public policy analysis and urban planning as she tracks these debates over the course of the past twenty five years Audrey L Mayer presents an ultimately optimistic take on the importance of much neglected regional conservation planning strategies to create sustainable urban landscapes that benefit humans and wildlife alike Yesterday Tobias Becker,2023-12-05
