Past Event And Present Salvation:

Past Event and Present Salvation Paul S. Fiddes, 1989-01-01 How can an event that has taken place in the past have an effect upon the human experience of salvation in the present In examining one of the essential questions of the Christian faith Paul S Fiddes explores the limits as well as the gains to be made in speaking about crucifixion as a historical event and considers the relationship of the crucifixion to the continuing process of God's saving activity He considers the relevance of a past act of atonement to such areas of practical experience as forgiveness liberation and suffering

Salvation in the New Testament Jan G. van der Watt, 2005-11-01 Salvation in the New Testament offers an analysis of the soteriological perspectives and language of the different books of the New Testament Special attention is given to the imagery used in expressing soteriological ideas Salvation deals with becoming part of the people of God In Salvation in the New Testament special attention is given to the nature and power of the salvific language used in the New Testament to express the dynamics of salvation Individual articles on the different books of the New Testament highlight the diverse perspectives offered in these documents The emphasis especially falls on the different images and metaphors which were used to express the event and moment of salvation rather than on the results ethics or behaviour of salvation An overview of the different perspectives on soteriology in the New Testament offers the opportunity to compare similarities and differences in concepts and expressions It also illustrates the dynamic interaction between historical situations and salvific language and expression

James Baldwin and the Short Story Benedict Ushedo, 2018-03-21 This book examines the range of issues that echo in James Baldwin's short stories It articulates and defends the claim that the stories in the collection Going to Meet the Man are driven by the autobiographical memory of the author To support this line of thought and the related proposition that the stories feed into themes relevant to self knowledge vicarious suffering love and forgiveness their effectiveness as transformative and revelatory texts is highlighted By drawing on contemporary studies and challenging the view that short stories are no more than miniature pieces merely echoing major works of their authors this book demonstrates that the short story genre can be profoundly forceful and effective in the articulation of complex human issues This study shows also that the humanistic import of the Baldwin stories is amplified by their ability to accumulate moral tension as they elicit the participation of the reader in an imaginative quest for a better world

The Justifying Judgement of God Justyn Terry, 2008-02-01 This monograph argues that the doctrine of atonement may be presented more coherently by recognizing judgement as the principle metaphor of the reconciling work of Christ Judgement understood not only as condemnation but as the whole process of bringing about justice provides the pattern to which victory redemption and sacrifice may be compared and to which they should be related The first section is a study of twentieth century British atonement theology to understand the assumptions that give rise to the difficulties in proclaiming the atonement The second section examines Karl Barth's account of reconciliation in terms of the judgement of Jesus Christ and its relationship to victory redemption and sacrifice The proposal is made that judgement is the paradigmatic metaphor of the doctrine of atonement The implications of this claim are then considered for the response to the work of Christ and how repentance baptism Eucharist and holiness are related to judgement

Within the Love of God Anthony Clarke, Andrew Moore, 2014 David C Parker looks at how new methodology changes what an edition is for and how we use it using the example of the New Testament texts The Spirit of Atonement Steven M. Studebaker, 2021-01-14 Steven M Studebaker proposes a Pentecostal approach to a major Christian doctrine the atonement The book moves Pentecostal theology of the atonement from a primarily Christocentric and crucicentric register to one that articulates the pneumatological and holistic nature of Pentecostal praxis Studebaker examines the irony of Classical Pentecostalism relying on the Christocentrism of Protestantism evangelical atonement theology to articulate its experience of the Holy Spirit as well as the Pneumatological nature of Pentecostal praxis He then develops a Pentecostal theology of atonement based on the biblical narrative of the Spirit of Pentecost and returns to re imagine an expanded vision of Pentecostal praxis based on the theological formation of the biblical narrative The result is a Pentecostal atonement theology that shows the integrated nature of pneumatology creation and Christology in the biblical narrative of redemption It gives theological expression to not only the pneumatological nature of Pentecostal praxis but also the fundamental role of the Holy Spirit in the biblical narrative of redemption The book challenges popular western atonement theologies to re think their Christocentrism and crucicentrism as well as their atomistic tendency to separate soteriology into objective Christological and subjective pneumatological categories

Four Views on Salvation in a Pluralistic World Zondervan, 2010-09-21 Religious pluralism is the greatest challenge facing Christianity in today's Western culture The belief that Christ is the only way to God is being challenged and increasingly Christianity is seen as just one among many valid paths to God In Four Views on Salvation in a Pluralistic World four perspectives are presented by their major proponents Normative Pluralism All ethical religions lead to God John Hick Inclusivism Salvation is universally available but is established by and leads to Christ Clark Pinnock Salvation in Christ Agnosticism regarding those who haven't heard the gospel Alister McGrath Salvation in Christ Alone Salvation depends on explicit personal faith in Jesus Christ alone R Douglas Geivett and W Gary Phillips This book allows each contributor to not only present the case for his view but also to critique and respond to the critiques of the other contributors The Counterpoints series presents a comparison and critique of scholarly views on topics important to Christians that are both fair minded and respectful of the biblical text Each volume is a one stop reference that allows readers to evaluate the different positions on a specific issue and form their own educated opinion

Once and for All Tom Smail, 2005-05-02 To articulate a credible doctrine of the atonement in today's cultural situation is fraught with difficulties How can we do justice to the central New Testament claim that the work of Christ at one point in history is decisive for God's relationship to the whole of humanity at every other point in history Tom Smail takes the connection between the atonement and the Trinity as the underpinning of Once and for All If we recognize that the work of the cross has to be seen to involve all three persons and their relationships to one another we have a structure that enables us to deal with the problems the doctrine of the atonement raises This presentation of Christ's atoning work in his cross and resurrection both does justice to its decisive character as a once and for all historical event and at the same time explores the sense in which a long past historical act can be universally relevant to and effective for everyone Tom Smail makes contemporary theological thinking on this subject accessible and also in investigating the spiritual and pastoral dimensions of the gospel of the cross gives expression to his personal struggle with it throughout fifty years of ministry It is his own confession of the cross guided by the Scriptures and the many diverse strands of the Christian tradition that are precious to him Once and for All will help us all to understand better and to enter into the unique and enduring mystery at the heart of our faith

Who Will be Saved? Paul R. House, Greg Thornbury, 2000 Some of the most significant figures in evangelical theology explore the traditional view of the doctrine of salvation and its impact on evangelism in this age Beginning with the doctrine of God as the author of salvation pressing issues such as the exclusivity of the gospel and modern evangelism strategies are examined It's a forceful clear presentation of how to stay true to biblical doctrines and faithful to the Great Commission in postmodern times

Atonement and the New Perspective Stephen Burnhope, 2018-08-10 Atonement has been described as the central doctrine of Christianity and yet surprisingly the church has never insisted on a particular understanding of how redemption in Christ was achieved Instead a miscellany of metaphors has been employed each picturing something of Christ's work Recent debate within Reformed Evangelicalism has been characterized by claims for hegemony to be granted to penal substitution versus counter arguments for a kaleidoscopic multi model understanding Notably absent in these discussions however are two considerations One is any common nexus to draw atonement thought together The other is any positive theological contribution deriving from God's preexisting relationship with Israel the presumed role of which has rather been to provide a negative contrast of law versus grace and works versus faith as the dark background against which the light of Christ may shine more brightly Recent scholarship however particularly the new perspective on Paul has comprehensively dismantled the old stereotypes concerning first century Judaism This book asks how differently we might think about the atonement once it is brought into conversation with the new scholarship It concludes by proposing a new perspective on atonement in which Christ is central Israel and Torah are affirmed and the traditional metaphors continue to find their place

Gandhi and Jesus Terrence J. Rynne, 2015-02-25 At a time when so many insist on countering violence with violence this exploration of the life of Jesus and the often misunderstood teachings of Gandhi puts nonviolent action at the very heart of Christian salvation

Images of Redemption Patrick Sherry, 2003-05-01 After discussing the arts of redemption and their rivals and introducing soteriology the theology of salvation Patrick Sherry argues that the Christian Drama of Redemption has three Acts The next five chapters discuss the three Acts namely salvation history our present human life and the life to come In each case Sherry explains how art and literature can lead to an understanding of what is at stake here His main concern is with the present life hence three of those chapters deal with that phase of redemption one of them specifically with novels of redemption The last substantial chapter of the book takes up the general issue of how art and literature contribute to religious understanding Sherry argues that they may be primary expressions of religious belief as well as illustrations and that as such they may criticise or complement theology or in turn be open to criticism themselves from that quarter Finally he summarises the main theme and briefly discusses some of the particular problems of assessing the arts of redemption The book s most distinctive feature is the way in which it uses art and literature as a means of religious and theological understanding It is not a survey of the arts of redemption though it uses a wide variety of examples including ancient Greek drama Flemish and Italian painting religious music and 19th 20th century novels These examples are used as a tool for understanding what is one of the most difficult areas of theology

Atonement Theories Ben Pugh, 2015-02-26 With the subject of the atonement of Christ attracting such a lot of polemical work at this time it is easy to conclude that the current debate is generating more heat than light Atonement Theories presents the beginning student pastor or researcher with an accessible and fair treatment of every school of thought on this subject Atonement Theories significantly updates previous histories of the doctrine providing analysis of some fascinating and highly significant recent developments It also intriguingly highlights at various points where aspects of this central message of Christianity might find a connection within contemporary culture It aims to empower the reader to quickly gain a working knowledge of current debates and the history behind them

Nonconformist Theology in the Twentieth Century Alan P.F. Sell, 2012-09-17 This book is the first comprehensive study of the systematic doctrinal and constructive theology produced within the major Nonconformist traditions during the twentieth century By the end of the nineteenth century modern biblical critical methods were fairly widely adopted evolutionary thought was in the air and doctrinal modifications especially concerning the fatherhood of God were underway Sell charts the influence on Nonconformist thinking in the twentieth century of the New Theology associated with R J Campbell the First World War the reception of Karl Barth the theological excitement of the 1960s and growing religious pluralism The second lecture concerns the major Christian doctrines of God Christ the Holy Spirit and the Trinity Whereas in the early decades of the century there was considerable emphasis upon the atonement during the concluding two decades the Trinity received more attention than had formerly been the case In Lecture Three attention is directed to ecclesiological and ecumenical themes The Nonconformists are presented as Protestant and as displaying some zeal in propagating their particular understanding of the Church The doctrinal aspects of their national and international moves toward inner family unity and of their broader ecumenical relationships are considered Eschatology is treated in the concluding lecture prior to Sell s assessment of the significance of twentieth century Nonconformist theology and his observations regarding its current state its future content and its practitioners

Believing in Jesus Christ Leanne Van Dyk, 2002-01-01 This book is a clear treatment in nontechnical language of the person and work of Jesus Christ especially focusing on the nature of atonement The chapters are arranged around several central questions Who is Jesus What do the Bible and the church tell us about him Just what is in the nature of the salvation he offers and how does it work Most of all what difference do the answers to these questions make for the church and for the world The Foundations of Christian Faith series enables readers to learn about contemporary theology in ways that are clear enjoyable and meaningful It examines the doctrines of the Christian faith and stimulates readers not only to think more deeply about their faith but also to understand their faith in relationship to contemporary challenges and questions Individuals and study groups alike will find these guides invaluable in their search for depth and integrity in their Christian faith

Atonement, Justice, and Peace Darrin W. Snyder Belousek, 2011-12-29 In this substantial study Darrin W Snyder Belousek offers a comprehensive and critical examination of penal substitution the most widely accepted evangelical Protestant theory of atonement and presents a biblically grounded theologically orthodox alternative Attending to all of the relevant biblical texts and engaging with the full spectrum of scholarship Belousek systematically develops a biblical theory of atonement that centers on restorative rather than retributive justice He also shows how Christian thinking on atonement correlates with major global concerns such as economic justice capital punishment the war on terror and ethnic and religious conflicts Thorough and clearly structured this book demonstrates how a return to biblical cruciformity can radically transform Christian mission social justice and peacemaking Against Returning to Egypt Jeff B. Pool, 1998 Against Returning to Egypt is study of a doctrinal statement recently adopted by the Southern Baptist Convention The Report of the Presidential Theological Study Committee Using criteria developed from the SBC's historic distinction between confessions of faith and creeds Professor Jeff Pool takes the measure of this doctrinal statement and finds it wanting He argues that the Report represents the greatest theological threat to the denomination in the history of the SBC This threat consists primarily in that the Report intentionally erases the historic Baptist distinction between confessions of faith and creeds and in addition in that it presents and in fact is based upon a radically Calvinistic revision of the SBC's historic perspectives on several central Christian doctrines This investigative study has significance for other traditions and histories during these tumultuous times rightly characterized as times of fundamentalist resurgence The principles motives and aspirations examined here appear not only in other denominational histories but in other political social and cultural realms as well

The Theologically Formed Heart Warner M. Bailey, Lee C. Barrett, James O. Duke, 2014-09-10 The Theologically Formed Heart invites the reader to consider the role of theology in the formation of virtues and passions and conversely the role of virtues and passions in understanding Scripture theology and living a Christian life The essays in this volume are offered in appreciation of the teaching scholarship and service to the church and world of Professor of Theology David J Gouwens They are organized in three sections theological reflections Reformed theology in service to the church and studies in the thought of Soren Kierkegaard Four important issues are explored from multiple perspectives the Church's coming to terms with religious pluralism in mission inter religious dialogue theological education and ecclesial life the gospel s invitation to welcome communities of difference Reformed aesthetics in Calvin s rhetoric and in contemporary hymnody and Kierkegaard s contribution to theology and ecclesial practice The aims of the book go beyond academic confines Through reading the different essays a personality will emerge who illustrates a life of scholarship that yields itself gladly to the God made known in Jesus Christ Thus beyond imparting new information the book may inspire its readers to their own practice of theologically forming their hearts

The Nature of the Atonement James K. Beilby, Paul R. Eddy, 2009-08-20 James K Beilby and Paul R Eddy edit a collection of essays on four views of atonement the healing view the Christus victor view the kaleidoscopic view and the penal substitutionary view This is a book that will help Christians understand the issues grasp the differences and proceed toward a clearer articulation of their understanding of the atonement

Decolonizing Contemporary Gospel Music Through Praxis Robert Beckford, 2023-08-24 Is contemporary Black British gospel music a coloniality What theological message is really conveyed in these songs In this book Robert Beckford shows how the Black British contemporary gospel music tradition is in crisis because its songs continue to be informed by colonial Christian ideas about God Beckford explores the failure of both African and African Caribbean heritage Churches to Decolonise their faith especially the doctrine of God biblical interpretation and Black ontology This predicament has left song leaders musicians and songwriters with a reservoir of ideas that aim to disavow engagement with the social historical world black Biblical interpretation and the necessity of loving blackness This book is decolonisation through praxis Reflecting on the conceptual social justice album The Jamaican Bible Remix 2017 as a communicative resource Beckford shows how to develop production tools to inscribe decolonial theological thought onto Black British music s The outcome of this process is the creation of a decolonial contemporary gospel music genre The impact of the album is demonstrated through case studies in national and international contexts
