The World of Persian Literary Humanism Hamid Dabashi, 2012-11-20 Humanism has mostly considered the question What does it mean to be human from a Western perspective Dabashi asks it anew from a non European perspective in a groundbreaking study of 1 400 years of Persian literary humanism He presents the unfolding of this vast tradition as the creative and subversive subconscious of Islamic civilization An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy, 2018-06-05 In An Accented Cinema Hamid Naficy offers an engaging overview of an important trend the filmmaking of postcolonial Third World and other displaced individuals living in the West How their personal experiences of exile or diaspora translate into cinema is a key focus of Naficy's work Although the experience of expatriation varies greatly from one person to the next the films themselves exhibit stylistic similarities from their open and closed form aesthetics to their nostalgic and memory driven multilingual narratives and from their emphasis on political agency to their concern with identity and transgression of identity The author explores such features while considering the specific histories of individuals and groups that engender divergent experiences institutions and modes of cultural production and consumption Treating creativity as a social practice he demonstrates that the films are in dialogue not only with the home and host societies but also with audiences many of whom are also situated astride cultures and whose desires and fears the filmmakers wish to express Comparing these films to Hollywood films Naficy calls them accented Their accent results from the displacement of the filmmakers their alternative production modes and their style Accented cinema is an emerging genre one that requires new sets of viewing skills on the part of audiences Its significance continues to grow in terms of output stylistic variety cultural diversity and social impact This book offers the first comprehensive and global coverage of this genre while presenting a framework in which to

Exiled Memories Zohreh Sullivan, 2010-09-23 I feel I am the wandering Jew who has no place to which she belongs I thought I could settle down but can't imagine staying Whenever I bought a bar of soap and two came in the package I thought there would be no need to buy a package of two because I would never last through the second Why Because I knew I was returning to Iran tomorrow So too I would buy the smallest size of toothpastes and jars of oil Putting down roots here is an impossibility These are the words of one Iranian emigre driven from Tehran by the revolution of 1979 They are echoed time and again in this powerful portrayal of loss and survival Impelled by these words and her own concerns about nationality and identity Zohreh Sullivan has gathered together here the voices of sixty exiles and emigres The speakers come from various ethnic and religious backgrounds and range in age from thirteen to eighty eight Although most are from the middle class they work in a variety of occupations in the United States But whatever their differences here they engage in remembering the past producing a discourse about their lives and negotiating the troubled transitions from one culture to another Unlike many other Iranian oral history projects Exiled Memories looks at the reconstruction of memory and identity through diasporic narratives through a focus on the Americas rather than on Iran The narratives included here reveal the complex ways in which events and places transform identities how overnight radicals become conservatives friends become enemies the strong become weak Indeed the narratives themselves serve this function serving to transfer or transform power and establish credibility They reveal a diverse group of people in the process of knitting the story of themselves with the story of the collective after it has been torn apart

Strange Times, My Dear Nahid Mozaffari, Ahmad Karimi-Hakkak, 2012-01-13 When Arcade Publishing originally contracted this extraordinary collection of poetry and literature the Department of the Treasury was attempting to censor the publication of works from countries on America's enemies list Arcade along with the PEN American Center the Association of American Publishers Professional and Scholarly Publishing Division and the Association of American University Presses filed a lawsuit in federal court against the United States government Their landmark case forced the Office of Foreign Assets Control to change their regulations regarding editing and publishing literature in translation and Arcade is proud to reissue this anthology that showcases the developments in Iranian literature over the past quarter century Since the Iranian revolution of 1979 the United States has been virtually cut off from that country s culture Despite severe difficulties imposed by social political and economic upheavals as well as war repression and censorship a veritable cultural renewal has taken place in Iran over the past quarter century not only in literature but in music art and cinema Over forty writers from three generations contributed to this rich and varied collection or to use the Persian term golchine a bouquet one that provides a much needed window into a largely undiscovered branch of world literature In the wake of the Green Revolution and sweeping changes in the region this particular golchine is more relevant than ever and will bring literary enjoyment as well as a fuller understanding of a complex and ever shifting culture

Eminent Persians Abbas Milani, 2022-09-01 As the 25th anniversary of the Islamic Revolution approached Abbas Milani realized that very little if any attention had been given to the entire prerevolutionary generation Political upheavals and a tradition of neglecting the history of past regimes have resulted in a cultural memory loss erasing the contributions of a generation of individuals Eminent Persians seeks to rectify that loss Milani s groundbreaking portrait of modern Iran reveals the country s rich history through the lives of the men and women who forged it Consisting of 150 profiles of the most important innovators in Iran between World War II and the Islamic Revolution the book includes politicians entrepreneurs poets artists and thinkers who brought Iran into the modern era with brilliant success and sometimes terrible consequences The biographies and essays weave a richly textured tapestry of lives ideas and events that reveals the true story of these decades in the life of a nation The two volumes are divided into sections on politics economics and culture each accompanied by an introductory essay that places the individual stories in their broader historical context Drawn from interviews extensive archival material and private correspondence Eminent Persians is a treasure trove of original documents many appearing in print for the first time Detailed sketches of personalities and personal foibles offer a compelling and highly readable account of this remarkable period of history on a human scale
