Passenger to Teheran Victoria West (Hon., Sackville-),1927      Virginia Woolf Eileen Barrett,Patricia Cramer,1997-07

The last two decades have seen a resurgence of critical and popular attention to Virginia Woolf's life and work. Such traditional institutions as The New York Review of Books now pair her with William Shakespeare in promotional advertisements; her face is used to sell everything from Barnes Noble books to Bass Ale. Virginia Woolf Lesbian Readings represents the first book devoted to Woolf's lesbianism. Divided into two sections, Lesbian Intersections and Lesbian Readings of Woolf's Novels, these essays focus on how Woolf's private and public experience and knowledge of same-sex love influences her shorter fiction and novels. Lesbian Intersections includes personal narratives that trace the experience of reading Woolf through the 60s, 70s, 80s, and 90s. Lesbian Readings of Woolf's Novels provides lesbian interpretations of the individual novels, including Orlando, The Waves, and The Years. Breaking new ground in our understanding of the role Woolf's love for women plays in her major writing, these essays shift the emphasis of lesbian interpretations from Woolf's life to her work.

Passenger to Teheran. [An account of a journey through Persia. With plates.] Victoria Mary Nicolson (Hon., formerly West.),1926      Women, Travel, and Writing in the Interwar Era Ann Catherine Hoag,2024-07-31

Women, Travel, and Writing in the Interwar Era engages feminist temporal and narrative theories to offer fresh examinations of interwar era accounts by women about travel and movement and considers the use and limitations of time as a subversive force in their texts. This book makes a significant contribution to the under-examined study of women's travel writing between the wars and synthesises and applies a variety of feminist narrative and postcolonial theories to excavate new understandings of the intersection between women travel and time in writing. The book studies the emergence of the aviatrix after the Great War and moves through to the representations of war in women's travel on the brink of World War II. Each chapter offers a unique theoretical framework and examines how experiences of time impact perceptions of women's bodies and identities, their engagement with history and discourse, and the problematic influence on colonialism. Women, Travel, and Writing in the Interwar Era is essential reading to any student or researcher in the field of women's travel writing as well as scholars of gender studies, war and interwar history, and cultural heritage.      The Shah Abbas Milani,2012-05-22 An Iranian scholar chronicles the life and legacy of the last Shah of Iran, including his role in the creation of the modern Islamic republic.

Excursions into Modernism Joyce Kelley,2017-05-15 Positioned at a crossroads between feminist geographies and modernist studies, Excursions into Modernism considers transnational modernist fiction in tandem with more rarely explored travel narratives by women of the period who felt increasingly free to journey abroad and redefine themselves through travel. In an era when Western artists, writers, and musicians sought primitive ideas for artistic renewal, Joyce E. Kelley locates a key similarity between fiction and travel writing in the way women authors use foreign experiences to inspire innovations with written expression and self articulation She focuses on the pairing of outward journeys with more inward introspective ones made possible through reconceptualizing and mobilizing elements of women s traditional corporeal and domestic geographies the skin the ill body the womb and the piano In texts ranging from Jean Rhys s Voyage in the Dark to Virginia Woolf s The Voyage Out and from Evelyn Scott s Escapade to Dorothy Richardson s Pilgrimage Kelley explores how interactions between geographic movement identity formation and imaginative excursions produce modernist experimentation Drawing on fascinating supplementary and archival materials such as letters diaries newspaper articles photographs and unpublished drafts Kelley s book cuts across national and geographic borders to offer rich and often revisionary interpretations of both canonical and lesser known works

Twelve Days in Persia Vita

Sackville-West,2009-10-13 A year after Vita Sackville West first travelled to Iran a journey described in the classic Passenger to Teheran she returned to the land that had so captured her imagination For twelve days with her husband and three friends she embarked on a difficult and often dangerous journey through the rugged and wildly beautiful Bakhtiari Mountains of south western Iran It was a landscape that affected Sackville West profoundly inspiring what is arguably some of her most lyrical prose in the same year she wrote her acclaimed poem The Land Interwoven with her magical descriptions of the landscape she also wrote of her encounters with the Bakhtiari tribe as they embarked on their epic annual migration The way of life of the Bakhtiari a people claiming descent from Fereydun hero of the Shahnameh has now all but disappeared the result of persecution by Reza Shah and the encroachments and temptations of modernity Sackville West's descriptions of their everyday life are thus a valuable and illuminating portrayal a vanished world A book that reveals as much about its author as the country through which she travelled Twelve Days in Persia is a classic of travel writing on Iran and a must have for all Bloomsbury devotees

Persian Mirrors Elaine Sciolino,2000-10-03 No American reporter has more experience covering Iran or more access to the private corners of Iranian society than Elaine Sciolino As a correspondent for Newsweek and The New York Times she has reported on the key events of the past two decades She was aboard the airplane that brought Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini to Tehran in 1979 she was there for the Iranian revolution the hostage crisis the Iran Iraq war the rise of President Mohammad Khatami and the riots of the summer of 1999 In Persian Mirrors Sciolino takes us into the public and private spaces of Iran the bazaars beauty salons aerobics studios courtrooms universities mosques and the presidential palace to capture the vitality of a society so often misunderstood by Americans She demystifies a country of endless complexity where on the streets women swathe themselves in black and behind high walls they adorn themselves with makeup and jewelry where the laws of Islam are the law of the land and yet the government advertises as tourist attractions the ruins of the pre Islamic imperial capital at Persepolis and the synagogue where Queen Esther is said to be buried and where even the most austere clerics recite sensual romantic poetry insisting that it refers to divine and not earthly love Iran is also a place with a dark side where unpredictable repression is carried out officially and unofficially by forces intent on maintaining power and influence Sciolino deftly uses her travels throughout Iran and her encounters with its people to portray the country as an exciting daring laboratory where experiments with two highly volatile chemicals Islam and democracy are being conducted Like the mirror mosaics found in Iran's royal palaces and religious shrines there is more to the whole of the country than the fragments revealed to outsiders Persian Mirrors captures this elusive Iran Sciolino paints in astonishing detail and rich color the surprising inner life of this country where a great battle is raging not for control over territory but for the soul of the nation

Travel and Modernist Literature Alexandra Peat,2012-03-28 Through close readings of works from Henry James to W E B Du Bois and from Virginia Woolf to Jean Rhys this book discusses how fictional travelers negotiate and adapt various tropes of travel such as quest expatriation displacement and exile as models for their own journeys Specifically Peat considers the ethical dimensions of modernist travel from two distinct vantages The first focuses on the relationship between the secular and the sacred in modernist travel literature arguing that the recurrent narrative of secular travel is haunted by a desire for spiritual transcendence The second posits modernist travel fiction as a potentially positive example of transcultural relations consciously arguing against the received notion that travel during an imperial era is always by nature itself imperialist Throughout particular attention is paid to the transnational nature of modernism and the various global flows traced by modernist literature Vita Sackville-West Vita
