Passing The Colors Engaging Visual Culture In The 21st Century:

Passing the Colors Chris Stoffel Overvoorde, 2002 This beautifully illustrated volume describes the artistic journey of Overvoorde from his early days as a metal worker in the shipyards of Rotterdam to the years spent passing on his artistic vision as a college professor Featuring original artwork in full color Creative Church Handbook J. Scott McElroy, 2015-04-17 Now is the time for the church to reclaim its role as a center of creativity Among your members are artists and musicians whose gifts can enhance your worship inform your theology and impact your community Christian arts advocate J Scott McElroy gives a comprehensive vision and manual for unleashing creativity in your congregation The Visual Culture of Catholic Enlightenment Christopher M. S. Johns, 2015 Investigates the response of the Roman Catholic Church to European Enlightenment critiques of revealed religion and clerical governance through the lens of its art architecture urbanism and material culture Cartographic Expeditions and Visual Culture in the Nineteenth-Century Americas Ernesto Capello, Julia B. Rosenbaum, 2020-11-16 During the nineteenth century gridding graphing and surveying proliferated as never before as nations and empires expanded into hitherto unknown territories Though nominally geared toward justifying territorial claims and collecting scientific data expeditions also produced vast troves of visual and artistic material This book considers the explosion of expeditionary mapping and its links to visual culture across the Americas arguing that acts of measurement are also aesthetic acts Such visual interventions intersect with new technologies with sociopolitical power and conflict and with shifting public tastes and consumption practices Several key questions shape this examination What kinds of nineteenth century visual practices and technologies of seeing do these materials engage How does scientific knowledge get translated into the visual and disseminated to the public What are the commonalities and distinctions in mapping strategies between North and South America How does the constitution of expeditionary lines reorder space and the natural landscape itself The volume represents the first transnational and hemispheric analysis of nineteenth century cartographic aesthetics and features the multi disciplinary perspective of historians geographers and art historians The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Art, Visual Culture, and Climate Change T. J. Demos, Emily Eliza Scott, Subhankar Banerjee, 2021-02-25 International in scope this volume brings together leading and emerging voices working at the intersection of contemporary art visual culture activism and climate change and addresses key questions such as why and how do art and visual culture and their ethics and values matter with regard to a world increasingly shaped by climate breakdown Foregrounding a decolonial and climate justice based approach this book joins efforts within the environmental humanities in seeking to widen considerations of climate change as it intersects with social political and cultural realms It simultaneously expands the nascent branches of ecocritical art history and visual culture and builds toward the advancement of a robust and critical interdisciplinarity appropriate to the complex entanglements of climate change This book will be of special interest to scholars and practitioners of contemporary art and visual culture environmental studies
