Puskas, 2009-01-01 The conclusion of Luke Acts is regarded as one of the most important chapters of Luke's two volume work Several significant Lukan themes are found in Acts 28 all of which make some contribution to the purpose and aim of the author in writing Luke Acts the Gentile mission the triumph of God's Word and the relationship of Christianity with Judaism and Rome Acts 28 contains many historical problems that have been debated for centuries including the we statements the figure of Paul in Acts 28 and the abrupt ending Puskas compares the conclusion of Acts with other important chapters of Luke Acts the introduction of the Gospel the conclusion of Acts the defense of Paul chapters as well as other passages In this significant chapter of Acts 28 there are still fundamental problems of exegesis that need to be addressed What is the literary function of Acts 28 What is Luke trying to tell his readers in the text

The Gospel of Matthew John Nolland, 2005-11-01 Having devoted the past ten years of his life to research for this major new work John Nolland gives us a commentary on the Gospel of Matthew that engages with a notable range of Matthean scholarship and offers fresh interpretations of the dominant Gospel in the history of the church Without neglecting the Gospel's sources or historical background Nolland places his central focus on the content and method of Matthew's story His work explores Matthew's narrative technique and the inner logic of the unfolding text giving full weight to the Jewish character of the book and its differences from Mark's presentation of parallel material While finding it unlikely that the apostle Matthew himself composed the book Nolland does argue that Matthew's Gospel reflects the historical ministry of Jesus with considerable accuracy and he brings to the table new evidence for an early date of composition Including accurate translations based on the latest Greek text detailed verse by verse comments thorough bibliographies for each section and an array of insightful critical approaches Nolland's Gospel of Matthew will stimulate students preachers and scholars seeking to understand more fully Matthew's presentation of the gospel narrative

Passion's Fictions from Shakespeare to Richardson Benedict S. Robinson, 2021 Passion's Fictions traces the intimate links between literature and the sciences of mind and soul from the age of Shakespeare to the rise of the novel It chronicles the emergence of new sciences of the passions between the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries and it argues that this history was shaped by rhetoric that contained the most extensively particularized discourse on the passions offering principles for moving and affecting the passions of others in concrete social scenes This rhetoric of the passions centered on narrative as the instrument of a non theoretical knowledge of the passions in their particularity predicated on an account of passion as an intimate relation between an impassioned mind and an impassioning world rhetoric offers a kind of externalist psychology formalized in the relation of passion to action and underwriting an account of narrative as a means of both moving passion and knowing it This volume describes the psychology of the passions before the discipline of psychology tracing the influence of rhetoric on theories of the passions from Francis Bacon to Adam Smith and using that history to read literary works by Shakespeare Milton Haywood Richardson and others Narrative offers a means of knowing and moving the passions by tracing them to the events and objects that generate them the history of narrative practices is thus a key part of the history of the psychology of the passions at a critical moment in its development

Formation of Papal Authority in Late Antique Italy Kristina Sessa, 2011-11-21 This book is the first cultural history of papal authority in late antiquity While most traditional histories posit a rise of the papacy and examine popes as politicians theologians and civic leaders Kristina Sessa focuses on the late Roman household and its critical role in the development of the Roman church from c 350 600 She argues that Rome's bishops adopted the ancient elite household as a model of good government for leading the church Central to this phenomenon was the classical and biblical figure of the steward the householder's appointed agent who oversaw his property and people As stewards of God Roman bishops endeavored to exercise moral and material influence within both the pope's own administration and the households of Italy's clergy and lay elites This original and nuanced study charts their manifold interactions with late Roman households and shows how bishops used domestic knowledge as the basis for establishing their authority as Italy's singular religious leaders
