Passionate Sociology:

Passionate Sociology Ann Game, Andrew Metcalfe, 1996-06-20 Offering a major challenge to established textbooks and pointing to inspiring new ways of approaching sociology this book presents a notable shift in introductory sociology Too often the subject is taught as a dry and detached system of thought and practice Passion is regarded as something to avoid or to treat with inherent suspicion By asking questions about sociology and its relation to passion the authors seek to revitalize the subject The book introduces and develops a number of themes such as identity knowledge magic desire power and everyday life It argues that students should analyze these themes through practices including reading writing speaking storytelling and organizing The authors aim to introduce students to sociology by a controlled engagement with practical sociological ideas and ways of seeing In this way they hope that readers will participate in the creative possibilities of sociology The

Passion for Music: A Sociology of Mediation Dr Antoine Hennion, 2015-07-28 Music is an accumulation of mediators instruments languages sheets performers scenes media and so on Learning from music this art of infinite mediations allows us to confront sociology with a different way of considering objects For this task Hennion draws on aesthetics art history science technology and popular music studies He shows us that music is a collective process which must always be performed again and again As part of that project he presents a wide ranging series of case studies restoring attention to the rich and varied intermediaries through which music is brought to life This is the first English translation of one of the most important works of French scholarship on music and society Passionate Politics Jeff Goodwin, James M. Jasper, Francesca

Polletta, 2009-03-09 Emotions are back Once at the center of the study of politics emotions have receded into the shadows during the past three decades with no place in the rationalistic structural and organizational models that dominate academic political analysis With this new collection of essays Jeff Goodwin James M Jasper and Francesca Polletta reverse this trend reincorporating emotions such as anger indignation fear disgust joy and love into research on politics and social protest The tools of cultural analysis are especially useful for probing the role of emotions in politics the editors and contributors to Passionate Politics argue Moral outrage the shame of spoiled collective identities or the joy of imagining a new and better society are not automatic responses to events Rather they are related to moral institutions felt obligations and rights and information about expected effects all of which are culturally and historically variable With its look at the history of emotions in social thought examination of the internal dynamics of protest groups and exploration of the emotional dynamics that arise from interactions and conflicts among political factions and individuals Passionate Politics will lead the way toward an overdue reconsideration of the role of emotions in social movements and politics generally Contributors Rebecca Anne Allahyari Edwin Amenta Collin Barker Mabel Berezin Craig Calhoun Randall Collins Frank Dobbin Jeff Goodwin Deborah B Gould Julian McAllister Groves James M Jasper Anne Kane Theodore D Kemper Sharon Erickson Nepstad Steven Pfaff Francesca Polletta Christian Smith Arlene Stein Nancy Whittier Elisabeth Jean Wood Michael P Young Passionate

Sociology Ann Game,1996 What is passionate sociology Does sociology merit passion Too often sociology is taught as a detached system of thought and practice Passion is regarded as something to be avoided or treated with suspicion Now at last we have a book that frankly argues for passion as being necessary for sociology The text is not simply about passionate sociology it demonstrates passionate sociology

The Trouble with Passion Erin Cech,2021-11-09 Probing the ominous side of career advice to follow your passion this data driven study explains how the passion principle fails us and perpetuates inequality by class gender and race and it suggests how we can reconfigure our relationships to paid work Follow your passion is a popular mantra for career decision making in the United States Passion seeking seems like a promising path for avoiding the potential drudgery of a life of paid work but this passion principle seductive as it is does not universally translate The Trouble with Passion reveals the significant downside of the passion principle the concept helps culturally legitimize and reproduce an exploited overworked white collar labor force and broadly serves to reinforce class race and gender segregation and inequality Grounding her investigation in the paradoxical tensions between capitalism s demand for ideal workers and our cultural expectations for self expression sociologist Erin A Cech draws on interviews that follow students from college into the workforce surveys of US workers and experimental data to explain why the passion principle is such an attractive if deceptive career decision making mantra particularly for the college educated Passion seeking presumes middle class safety nets and springboards and penalizes first generation and working class young adults who seek passion without them The ripple effects of this mantra undermine the promise of college as a tool for social and economic mobility The passion principle also feeds into a culture of overwork encouraging white collar workers to tolerate precarious employment and gladly sacrifice time money and leisure for work they are passionate about And potential employers covet but won t compensate passion among job applicants This book asks What does it take to center passion in career decisions Who gets ahead and who gets left behind by passion seeking The Trouble with Passion calls for citizens educators college administrators and industry leaders to reconsider how we think about good jobs and by extension good lives

Love as Passion Niklas Luhmann,2014-12-08 In this important book Niklas Luhmann one of the leading social thinkers of the late 20th century analyses the emergence of love as the basis of personal relationships in modern societies He argues that while family systems remained intact in the transition from traditional to modern societies a semantics for love developed to accommodate extra marital relationships this semantics was then transferred back into marriage and eventually transformed marriage itself Drawing on a diverse range of historical and literary sources Luhmann retraces the emergence and evolution of the special semantics of passionate love that has come to form the basis of modern forms of intimacy and personal relationships This classic book by Luhmann has been widely recognized as a work of major importance It is an outstanding contribution to social theory and it provides an original and illuminating perspective on the nature of modern marriage and sexuality

Gender, Health and Healing Gill Bendelow,Mick Carpenter,Caroline Vautier,Simon Williams,2012-09-10

What do we mean by gender and how does this relate to health? How is biology best understood? What does a focus on the division of labour bring to our understanding of health work? Is gender equity in health possible? How have developments such as the resurgence of emotions and the new genetics affected these and other social relations at the turn of the century? These are just some of the questions addressed in Gender Health and Healing in which a whole range of issues are brought together and connected to emerging concerns in contemporary life such as the new genetics and transformations in biomedical knowledge and practices. It offers a challenging assessment of gender relations and embodied practices across the public-private divide using health and healing as paradigmatic examples. This thought-provoking volume lies at the intersection of gender studies, the sociology of health and healing, health policy, the critical analysis of scientific knowledge and the current debates around the body, health and emotions. Bringing together new and leading scholars in the field, it provides a unique critical overview of contemporary debates in health care for an interdisciplinary readership.

Processual Sociology Andrew Abbott, 2016-03-07 For the past twenty years noted sociologist Andrew Abbott has been developing what he calls a processual ontology for social life. In this view, the social world is constantly changing, making, remaking and unmaking itself instant by instant. In Processual Sociology, Abbott first examines the endurance of individuals and social groups through time and then goes on to consider the question of what this means for human nature. An Invitation to Environmental Sociology Michael Mayerfeld Bell, Loka L. Ashwood, 2015-07-01 This is not only the best environmental sociology text I've used, but it is the best text of any type I've used in college-level teaching. Dr. Cliff Brown, University of New Hampshire. Join author Mike Bell and new co-author Loka Ashwood as they explore the biggest community of all and bring out the sociology of environmental possibility. The highly anticipated Fifth Edition of An Invitation to Environmental Sociology delves into this rapidly changing and growing field in a clear and artful manner. Written in a lively, engaging style, this book explores the broad range of topics in environmental sociology with a personal passion rarely seen in sociology books. The Fifth Edition contains new chapters entitled Money and Markets, Technology and Science, and Living in an Ecological Society. In addition, this edition brings in fresh material on extraction between core and periphery countries, the industrialization of agriculture, the hazards of fossil fuel production, environmental security, and making environmentalism normal. Beyond Bauman Michael Hviid Jacobsen, 2016-10-26 Bringing together leading interpreters of Zygmunt Bauman's sociology, this volume thinks with and beyond Bauman's work in order to show its continued relevance as a theory in its own right, as an object of criticism, and as a stepping stone towards a fuller understanding of contemporary society. The volume deals with some proposed omissions and absences in Bauman's sociology with chapters comparing Bauman's ideas to those of other prominent social thinkers, as well as chapters devoted to teasing out some problems and pitfalls in his work. Paying attention to central concepts and themes of Bauman's thought, authors engage with various aspects of his work, considering potential deficiencies in his ethical perspective, his neglect of the religious dimensions of modernity, his lack of consideration for ethnicity and gender his overlooking the importance of socialisation in liquid modernity and his problematic argument for individual choice and freedom in a world that is increasingly closed down by consumer capitalism Beyond Bauman aspires to show that despite Bauman's status as a key sociological thinker there are also certain deficiencies in his work demand critical discussion It will be of use to scholars of sociology contemporary society social theory and modernity

Emotion and Social Theory Simon Williams, 2001-02-27 The emotions have traditionally been marginalized in mainstream social theory This book demonstrates the problems that this has caused and charts the resurgence of emotions in social theory today Drawing on a wide variety of sources both classical and contemporary Simon Williams treats the emotions as a universal feature of human life and our embodied relationship to the world He reflects and comments upon the turn towards the body and intimacy in social theory and explains what is important in current thinking about emotions In his doing so readers are provided with a critical assessment of various positions within the field including the strengths and weaknesses of poststructuralism and postmodernism for examinin

The Opera Fanatic Claudio E. Benzecry, 2011-07-15 Though some dismiss opera as old fashioned it shows no sign of disappearing from the world's stage So why do audiences continue to flock to it Opera lovers are an intense lot Benzecry discovers in his look at the fanatics who haunt the legendary Col n Opera House in Buenos Aires

Feeling Power Megan Boler, 2004-11-23 First published in 1999 Megan Boler combines cultural history with ethical and multicultural analyses to explore how emotions have been disciplined suppressed or ignored at all levels of education and in educational theory FEELING POWER charts the philosophies and practices developed over the last century to control social conflicts arising from gen der class and race The book traces the development of progressive pedagogies from civil rights and feminist movements to Boler's own recent studies of emo tional intelligence and emotional literacy Drawing on the formulation of emotion as knowledge within feminist psychobiological and post structuralist theo ries Boler develops a unique theory of emotion missing from contemporary educa tional discourses

Timespace Jon May, Nigel Thrift, 2003-08-29 Timespace argues that the old dimensions of time and space do not exist singly but only as a hybrid process term the contributors introduce the concepts of time and space together across a range of disciplines

Rational Choice Theory Margaret S. Archer, Jonathan Q. Tritter, 2013-04-03 Rational Choice Theory is flourishing in sociology and is increasingly influential in other disciplines Contributors to this volume are convinced that it provides an inadequate conceptualization of all aspects of decision making of the individuals who make the decisions of the process by which decisions get made and of the context within which decisions get made The ciritique focuses on the four assumptions which are the bedrock of rational choice rationality the theory's definition of rationality is incomplete and cannot satisfactorily incorporate norms and emotions individualism rational choice is based upon atomistic individual decision makers and cannot account for decisions made by couples groups or other forms of collective action process the assumption of fixed well ordered preferences and perfect information makes the theory inadequate for situations of change and uncertainty aggregation as methodological individualists rational choice theorists can only view structure and culture as aggregates and cannot incorporate structural or cultural influences as emergent properties which have an effect upon decision making The critique is grounded in discussion of a wide range of social issues including race marriage health and education

The Emotional Self Deborah Lupton, 1998-04-15 This addition to a growing number of texts which approach emotions and emotionality from a social constructionist perspective is well written scholarly accessible and interesting There is both breadth and depth to this work Feminism and Psychology This broad ranging and accessible book brings together social and cultural theory with original empirical research into the nature of the emotional self in contemporary western societies The emphasis of the analysis is on the emotional self as a dynamic project that is continually shaped and reshaped via discourse embodied sensations memory personal biography and interactions with others and objects Using an interdisciplinary approach Deborah Lupton draws on a number of sociocultural approaches that adopt a post structuralist perspective She strongly emphasizes language and discourse as they construct and express concepts of the self and the emotions whilst also acknowledging the sensual embodied and unconscious dimensions of emotional experience

Babygirl, You've Got This! April-Louise Pennant, 2024-02-22 How do Black women experience education in Britain Within British educational research about Black students gender distinctions have been largely absent male dominated or American centric Due to the lack of attention paid to Black female students relatively little is known about how they understand and engage with the education system or the influences which shape their long term strategies and decision making in order to gain educational success This book will illustrate the educational experiences and journeys of Black British women graduates and considers the influence of the intersections of race gender ethnicity culture and social class on their educational journeys April Louise Pennant uniquely documents the entire educational journey from primary school to university within both predominantly white PW and predominantly global majority PGM educational institutions in order to examine the various accessibility financial and academic hurdles which face Black girls and women The book combines theoretical frameworks such as Critical Race Theory Bourdieu s Theory of Practice and Black Feminist epistemology alongside the personal accounts of the author and a range of Black British women graduates Through analysis of the strategies choices and decisions made by Black British women in their educational journeys the book ultimately provides insights into how to navigate the education system effectively and provides alternatives to normalized understandings of educational success

Women in Relationships with Bisexual Men Maria Pallotta-Chiarolli, 2016-03-08 Framed by a comprehensive review of international research literature and film this book is an intimate journey into the experiences and insights of 79 Australian women in relationships with bisexual men It takes us into the daily lives sexual intimacies and families of MOREs mixed orientation relationships that span the gamut from extremely oppressive experiences with bi misogynist men to extremely liberating with bi profeminist men Aged 19 to 65 the women are in monogamous open and polyamorous relationships with bisexual identifying and or bisexual behaving men

The women themselves are bisexual lesbian heterosexual while others refuse to categorize their own sexualities The book addresses the discovery or disclosure of the man s bisexuality how the relationships work and where they flounder how the partners negotiate and establish new rules and boundaries to maintain their relationship and the impact of class rural urban setting ethnicity indigeneity race religion and education on these relationships But this book isn t only about MOREs The research revelations and reflections in this book tell us much about current and shifting global constructions and understandings of intimate relationships sexual desires and love and the socio cultural representations and labeling of genders and sexualities

Cultural Studies Vol18 Issue 2 Various Authors,2021-12-24 Issue 2 3 2004 includes articles on rethinking everyday life the myth of everyday life the persistence of everyday everyday tragedy and creation time and space in everyday life everyday utopianism profane illuminations a different life looking at Barthes and Foucault routine and ambiguity shame presences a mundane voice limitations and consumption of digital commodities in everyday life to name a few

The Ethnological Imagination Fuyuki Kurasawa,2004 Fuyuki Kurasawa unearths what he terms the ethnological imagination a substantial countercurrent of thought that interprets and contests Western modernity s existing social order through comparison and contrast to a non Western other Kurasawa traces and critiques the writings of some of the key architects of this way of thinking Jean Jacques Rousseau Karl Marx Max Weber Emile Durkheim Claude Levi Strauss and Michel Foucault In the work of these thinkers Kurasawa finds little justification for two of the most prevalent claims about social theory the wholesale postmodern dismissal of the social theoretical enterprise because of its supposedly intractable ethnocentrism and imperialism or on the other hand the traditionalist and historicist revival of a canon stripped of its intercultural foundations Kurasawa s book defends a cultural perspective that eschews both the false universalism of end of history scenarios and the radical particularism embodied in the vision of the clash of civilizations It contends that the ethnological imagination can invigorate critical social theory by informing its response to an increasingly multicultural world a response that calls for a reconsideration of the identity and boundaries of the West
