The Passions of the Soul and Other Late Philosophical Writings René Descartes, 2015-11-12 Those most capable of being moved by passion are those capable of tasting the most sweetness in this life Descartes is most often thought of as introducing a total separation of mind and body But he also acknowledged the intimate union between them and in his later writings he concentrated on understanding this aspect of human nature The Passions of the Soul is his greatest contribution to this debate It contains a profound discussion of the workings of the emotions and of their place in human life a subject that increasingly engages the interest of philosophers and intellectual and cultural historians It also sets out a view of ethics that has been seen as a radical reorientation of moral philosophy This volume also includes both sides of the correspondence with Princess Elisabeth of Bohemia one of Descartes's keenest disciples and shrewdest critics which played a crucial role in the genesis of The Passions as well as the first part of The Principles of Philosophy which sets out the key positions of Descartes's philosophical system ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more

Act of Passion Georges Simenon, 1952 The Fiction of A.S. Byatt Louisa Hadley, 2017-09-16 This Guide examines the key critical responses to Byatt's fiction both her novels and short stories tracing the wider debates about realism postmodernism and feminism with which they engage The Guide also explores the themes which are central to Byatt's work such as her depiction of writer figures and her conception of artistic vision

Selected Writings--Volume 2 Christopher Alan Anderson, 2012-09-11 Four major writings on the man and woman relationship These writings reflect the maturing of the author's thoughts revealing the breadth and scope of this metaphysical embodiment Includes Mind and Spirit The Romantic Ideal The Two Forces of Creation and Dimensions in Consciousness The man and woman relationship is that which is It shows itself as reality at any point of consciousness existence creating through the two forces of male and female Male and female hold this sexual universe together securing form and reproducing it in their creative balance together Creative balance is their absolute conscious standing It is their knowledge of truth and their living of love One man and one woman Selected Writings Volume 2 Author Bio Christopher Alan Anderson 1950 received the basis of his education from the University of Science and Philosophy Swannanoa Waynesboro Virginia He resides in the transcendental romantic tradition that vein of spiritual creativity of the philosopher and poet His quest has been to define and express an eternal romantic reality from which a man and a woman could together stand in their difference and create a living universe of procreative love Mr Anderson began these writings in 1971 The first writings were published in 1985 On a personal note when Mr Anderson was asked to describe the writings and what he felt their message was he responded Spiritual procreation Mankind has yet to distinguish the two sexes on the spiritual level In this failure lies the root of our problems and why we cannot yet touch the eternal together The message of man and woman balance brings each of us together in love with our eternal other half right now

Passion of the Western Mind Richard Tarnas, 2011-10-19 This magnificent critical survey with its inherent respect for both the West's mainstream high culture and the radically changing world of the 1990s offers a new breakthrough for lay and scholarly readers alike Allows readers to grasp the big picture of Western culture for the first time SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE Here are the great minds of Western civilization and their pivotal ideas from Plato to Hegel from Augustine to Nietzsche from Copernicus to Freud Richard Tarnas performs the near miracle of describing profound philosophical concepts simply but without simplifying them Ten years in the making and already hailed as a classic THE PASSION OF THE WESTERN MIND is truly a complete liberal education in a single volume

Passion and Reason Richard S. Lazarus, Bernice N. Lazarus, 1994-11-03 When Oxford published Emotion and

Adaptation the landmark 1991 book on the psychology of emotion by internationally acclaimed stress and coping expert Richard Lazarus Contemporary Psychology welcomed it as a brightly shining star in the galaxy of such volumes Psychiatrists psychologists and researchers hailed it as a masterpiece a major breakthrough in our understanding of the emotional process and its central role in our adaptation as individuals and as a species What was still needed however was a book for general readers and health care practitioners that would dispel the myths still surrounding cultural beliefs about emotion and systematically explain the relevance of the new research to the emotional dramas of our everyday lives Now in Passion and Reason Lazarus draws on his four decades of pioneering research to bring readers the first book to move beyond both clinical jargon and feel good popular psychology to really explain in plain accessible language how emotions are aroused how they are managed and how they critically shape our views of ourselves and the world around us With his co author writer Bernice Lazarus Dr Lazarus explores the latest findings on the short and long term causes and effects of various emotions including the often conflicting research on stress management and links between negative emotions and heart disease cancer and other aspects of physical and psychological health Lazarus makes a strong case that contrary to common assumption emotions are not irrational our emotions and our analytical thought processes are inextricably linked While not a how to book Passion and Reason does describe how readers can interpret what lies behind their own emotions and those of their families friends and co workers and how to manage them more effectively Exploring fifteen emotions in depth from love to jealousy the authors show how the personal meaning we give to the events and conditions of our lives trigger such emotions as anger anxiety guilt and pride They provide fascinating vignettes to frame a biography of each emotion Some are composite case histories drawn from Dr Lazarus s long career but most are stories of people the Lazaruses have known over the years people whose emotional fears conflicts and desires mirror readers own The Lazaruses also offer a special chapter on the diverse strategies of coping people use in managing their emotions and another When Coping Fails on psychotherapy and its approaches to emotional stress and dysfunction from traditional Freudian psychoanalysis to continuing research into relaxation techniques meditation hypnosis and biofeedback Packed with insight and compellingly readable Passion and Reason will enrich all readers fascinated by our emotional lives

Writing with Passion Tom Romano,1995 Romano

encourages teachers to help students explore their world through language A Passion for Books Harold Rabinowitz,Rob Kaplan,2007-12-18 A collection of sixty classic and contemporary essays stories lists poems quotations and cartoons that celebrates the joys of reading the feeling of spending hours browsing through a bookstore and the people for whom buying books is a necessity Booklovers will find themselves in good company within the pages of A Passion for Books beginning with science fiction great Ray Bradbury s foreword and throughout contributions like Umberto Eco s How to Justify a Private Library dealing with the question everyone with a sizable library is inevitably asked Have you read all these books Gustave Flaubert s Bibliomania the tale of a book collector so obsessed with owning a book that he is willing to kill to possess it and

Anna Quindlen's How Reading Changed My Life in which she shares her optimistic view on the role of reading and the future of books in the computer age. Interspersed throughout are entertaining lists: Ten Bestselling Books Rejected by Publishers, Twenty Times or More Norman Mailer's Ten Favorite American Novels and many more plus select writings on bookstores, book clubs, cartoons about books and a specially prepared bibliobibliography of books about books. Whether you consider yourself a bibliomaniac or just someone who enjoys reading, A Passion for Books will provide you with a lifetime's worth of entertaining, informative and pleasurable reading on your favorite subject: the love of books. All Passion Spent Vita Sackville-West, 2017-07-11 Irreverently funny and surprisingly moving, All Passion Spent is the story of a woman who discovers who she is just before it is too late. After the death of elder statesman Lord Slane, a former prime minister of Great Britain and viceroy of India, everyone assumes that his eighty-eight-year-old widow will slowly fade away in her grief, remaining as proper, decorative and dutiful as she has been her entire married life. But the deceptively gentle Lady Slane has other ideas. First she defies the patronizing meddling of her children and escapes to a rented house in Hampstead. There, to her offspring's utter amazement, she revels in her new freedom, recalls her youthful ambitions and gathers some very unsuitable companions who reveal to her just how much she had sacrificed under the pressure of others' expectations. The Mind Is Flat Nick Chater, 2018-08-07 In a radical reinterpretation of how the mind works, an eminent behavioral scientist reveals the illusion of mental depth. Psychologists and neuroscientists struggle with how best to interpret human motivation and decision making. The assumption is that below a mental surface of conscious awareness lies a deep and complex set of inner beliefs, values and desires that govern our thoughts, ideas and actions, and that to know this depth is to know ourselves. In this profoundly original book, behavioral scientist Nick Chater contends just the opposite: rather than being the plaything of unconscious currents, the brain generates behaviors in the moment based entirely on our past experiences. Engaging the reader with eye-opening experiments and visual examples, the author first demolishes our intuitive sense of how our mind works, then argues for a positive interpretation of the brain as a ceaseless and creative improviser. Nick Chater is professor of behavioral science at the Warwick Business School and cofounder of Decision Technology Ltd. He has contributed to more than two hundred articles and book chapters and is author, coauthor or coeditor of fourteen books. Ambrose: Selected Works and Letters Saint Ambrose, Iris Murdoch and Harry Weinberger Rebecca Moden, 2023-03-03 The novelist and philosopher Iris Murdoch and the painter Harry Weinberger engaged in over twenty years of close friendship and intellectual discourse centred on sustained discussion of the practice, teaching and morality of art. This book presents a reappraisal of Murdoch's novels, chiefly three mature novels: The Sea (1978), Nuns and Soldiers (1980) and The Good Apprentice (1985), and two enigmatic late novels: The Green Knight (1993) and Jackson's Dilemma (1995), which are perceived through the prism of her discourse with Weinberger. It draws on a run of almost 400 letters from Murdoch to Weinberger and on Murdoch's philosophical writings, Weinberger's private writings, the remarks of both artists in interviews and other material relating to their views on art and art history much of which is unpublished and has received no previous critical attention Scrutiny of their shared values methods and the imagistic dialogue that takes place in their art provides original perspectives on Murdoch s creativity and new ways of understanding her experimentation with the visual arts This book offers a new line of enquiry into Murdoch s novels and into the relationship between literature and the visual arts

Translating the Female Self across Cultures Eliana Maestri, 2018-01-15 Translating the Female Self across Cultures examines contemporary autobiographical narratives and their Italian and French translations The comparative analyses of the texts are underpinned by the latest developments in Translation Studies that place emphasis on identity construction in translation and the role of translation in moulding various types of identity They focus on how the writers textual personae make sense of their sexual artistic and post colonial identities in relation to the mother and how the mother daughter dyad survives translation into the Italian and French social political and cultural contexts The book shows how each target text activates different cultural literary linguistic and rhetorical frames of reference which cast light on the facets of the protagonists quest for identity the cult of the Madonna humour and irony gender and class mimesis and storytelling performativity and geographical sense of self The book highlights the fruitfulness of studying women s narratives and their translations and the polyphonic dialogue between the translations and the literary and theoretical productions of the French and Italian cultures
