Past Is A Foreign Country:

The Past is a Foreign Country, 1993 The Past is a Foreign Country David Lowenthal, 1985-11-14 Lowenthal looks at the benefits and burdens of the past how we study the past and how we change it My Past Is a Foreign Country: A Muslim feminist finds herself Zeba Talkhani, 2019-06-27 A story of faith feminism and finding yourself for fans of Educated and The Good Immigrant Touching on often taboo subjects Talkhani's story of grit is a portrait of a young woman who refused to let others define her ELLE 28 year old Zeba Talkhani charts her experiences growing up in Saudi Arabia amid patriarchal customs reminiscent of The Handmaid's Tale and her journey to find freedom in India Germany and the UK Talkhani offers a fresh perspective on living as an outsider and examines her relationship with her mother and the challenges she faced when she experienced hair loss at a young age Rejecting the traditional path her culture had chosen for her Talkhani became financially independent and married on her own terms in the UK Drawing on her personal experiences Talkhani shows how she fought for the right to her individuality as a Muslim feminist and refused to let negative experiences define her A brave new voice that reaches out to us all Miranda Doyle author of A Book of Untruths Notes on a Foreign Country Suzy Hansen, 2017-08-15 Pulitzer Prize Finalist Hansen's principal injunction to Americans to understand how others view them and their country's policies is timely and urgent The Washington Post Winner of the Overseas Press Club of America's Cornelius Ryan Award A New York Times Notable Book Named a Best Book of the Year by New York Magazine and The Progressive In the wake of the September 11 attacks and the US led invasion of Iraq Suzy Hansen who grew up in an insular conservative town in New Jersey was enjoying early success as a journalist for a high profile New York newspaper Increasingly though the disconnect between the chaos of world events and the response at home took on pressing urgency for her Seeking to understand the Muslim world that had been reduced to scaremongering headlines she moved to Istanbul She arrived with romantic ideas about a mythical city perched between East and West and with a naive sense of the Islamic world beyond Over the course of her many years of living in Turkey and traveling in Greece Egypt Afghanistan and Iran she learned a great deal about these countries and their cultures and histories and politics But the greatest most unsettling surprise would be what she learned about her own country and herself an American abroad in the era of American decline It would take leaving her home to discover what she came to think of as the two Americas the country and its people and the experience of American power around the world She came to understand that anti Americanism is not a violent pathology It is Hansen writes a broken heart a one hundred year old relationship Blending memoir journalism and history and deeply attuned to the voices of those she met on her travels Notes on a Foreign Country is a moving reflection on America's place in the world It is a powerful journey of self discovery and revelation a profound reckoning with what it means to be American in a moment of grave national and global turmoil Her fascinating insider's view of Recep Tayyip Erdogan's rise upends Western simplicities The Atlantic Vividly captures the disorientation we experience when our preconceived notions collide with uncomfortable discoveries Rare and refreshing The Washington Post A deeply honest and brave portrait of an individual sensibility reckoning with her country's violent role in the world The New York Times Book Review A fluid amalgam of memoir journalism and political critique and a very readable challenge to American exceptionalism The Financial Times

A Foreign Country Fotios Sarris,2020-11-17 Alex Doukas had big dreams but at 45 his life is in ruins Now he s trying to make sense of his failure His quest takes him past Mile End in the fifties when young Greeks like his parents flocked to Montreal back to war torn Athens and a girl hiding under a bed Then forward again through the torments of youth to flight from his immigrant ghetto and the turbulent romance that leads to a violent unravelling even as his parents spiral to their dooms But if life is anguish nobody else got the memo not the old Greek men in their windbreakers trumpeting for Achilles not the unstoppable force that is a Greek mother offering drinks to an unthirsty boy not the supremely wise 10 year old with brothers as he lectures on female anatomy Because Mile End doesn't slow down for something as familiar as tragedy A Foreign Country explores the burdens of history the bonds of tribe and family and the ferocious pull of love And from one man's tale of failure something wondrous unfolds a profound moving sometimes tragic often hilarious portrait of a family and panorama of an age
