Pastoral Cities Urban Ideals And The Symbolic Landscape Of America:

Pastoral Cities James L. Machor, 1987 What has the city meant to Americans James L. Machor explores this question in a provocative analysis of American responses to urbanization in the context of the culture's tendency to valorize nature and the rural world Although much attention has been paid to American rural urban relations Machor focuses on a dimension largely overlooked by those seeking to explain American conceptions of the city While urban historians and literary critics have explicitly or implicitly emphasized the opposition between urban and rural sensibilities in America an equally important feature of American thought and writing has been the widespread interest in collapsing that division Convinced that the native landscape has offered special opportunities Americans since the age of settlement have sought to build a harmonious urban pastoral society combining the best of both worlds Moreover this goal has gone largely unchallenged in the culture except for the sophisticated responses in the writings of some of America's most eminent literary artists Pastoral Cities explains the development of urban pastoralism from its origins in the prophetic vision of the New Jerusalem applied to America in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries through its secularization in the urban planning and reform of the 1800s Machor critiques the sophisticated treatment of urban pastoralism by writers such as Emerson Whitman Hawthorne Wharton and James by skillfully combining cultural analysis with a close reading of urban plans travel narratives sermons and popular novels The product of this multifaceted approach is an analysis that works to reveal both the strengths and weaknesses of the pastoral ideal as cultural mythology

Landscapes of Desire William Alexander McClung, 2002-05-31 An imaginative and provocative interpretation of the meaning of Los Angeles carefully thought out and beautifully written Robert Winter editor of Toward a Simpler Way of Life The Arts and Crafts Architects of California McClung's sharp eye and his ability to be both critic and analyst combine to make this a book of real timeliness It is unusual and it is smart William Deverell author of Railroad Crossing Californians and the Railroad 1850-1910

Fleeing the City M. Thompson, 2009-08-31 This collection of essays explores the phenomenon of antiurbanism the antipathy fear and hatred of the city Antiurbanism has been a pervasive counter discourse to modernity and urbanization especially since the beginning of industrialism and the dawning of modern life Most of the attention on modernity has been focused on urbanization and its consequences But as the essays collected here demonstrate antiurbanism is an equally important reality as it can be seen as playing a crucial role in cultural identity in the formation of the self within the context of modernity as well as in the root of many forms of conservative politics and cultural movements

A City in Blue and Green Peter G. Rowe, Limin Hee, 2019-08-30 This open access book highlights Singapore's development into a city in which water and greenery along with associated environmental technical social and political aspects have been harnessed and cultivated into a liveable sustainable way of life It is also a story about a unique and thoroughgoing approach to large scale and potentially transferable water sustainability within largely urbanized circumstances which can be achieved along with complementary roles of environmental conservation ecology public open space management and the greening of buildings together with infrastructural improvements

Modern Architecture and the Sacred Ross Anderson, Maximilian Sternberg, 2020-11-26 This edited volume Modern Architecture and the Sacred presents a timely reappraisal of the manifold engagements that modern architecture has had with the sacred It comprises fourteen individual chapters arranged in three thematic sections Beginnings and Transformations of the Modern Sacred Buildings for Modern Worship and Semi Sacred Settings in the Cultural Topography of Modernity The first interprets the intellectual and artistic roots of modern ideas of the sacred in the post Enlightenment period and tracks the transformation of these in architecture over time The second studies the ways in which organized religion responded to the challenges of the new modern self understanding and then the third investigates the ways that abstract modern notions of the sacred have been embodied in the ersatz sacred contexts of theatres galleries memorials and museums While centring on Western architecture during the decisive period of the first half of the 20th century a time that takes in the early musings on spirituality by some of the avant garde in defiance of Sachlichkeit and the machine aesthetic the volume also considers the many varied appropriations of sacrality that architects have made up to the present day and also in social and cultural contexts beyond the West

Taylored Lives Martha Banta, 1993 Scientific management Technology spawned it Frederick Winslow Taylor championed it Thorstein Veblen dissected it Henry Ford implemented it By the turn of the century practical visionaries prided themselves on having arrived at the one best way both to increase industrial productivity and to regulate the vagaries of human behavior Nothing escaped the efficiency craze and in this vivid wide ranging book Martha Banta explores its effect on the culture at large To the Taylorists everything needed tidying up government business warfare households and most of all the workplace with its unruly influx of strangers into the native scenes Taylored Lives gives us a striking sense of what it was like to live work love and die when time motion and emotions were checked off on worksheets and management charts Canvassing the culture Banta shows how the cause of efficiency was taken up in narratives of every sort in mail order catalogs popular romances newspaper stories and personal testimonials from below as well as in the canonical works of writers from Henry Adams and William James to Sinclair Lewis Nathanael West and William Faulkner The strategies of impassioned theorists and hands on practitioners affected the kinds of narratives produced in the controversy over the pros and cons of the management culture they bear an eerie resemblance to the means by which we today storytellers all keep trying to make sense of our own chaotic times This interdisciplinary work charts the development of a managerial culture from its start in the steel mills of Pennsylvania through its spread across the American experience in an interlocking series of social systems and everyday practices Banta scrutinizes narrative strategies employed by inscribers as diverse as Josephine Goldmark Theodore Roosevelt Charlotte Perkins Gilman Anzia Yezierska Richard Harding Davis Booker T Washington and Theodore Dreiser by Taylor himself as well as Veblen and Ford by women who toiled on the factory floor by writers of dream copy for ready made houses and by Buster Keaton in his silent treatment of the dysfunctional honeymoon home With its historical scope and its provocative readings of assorted narratives this richly illustrated book offers a complex and disturbing picture of a period as well as invaluable insights into the way theory making continually makes and breaks cultures A remarkable work Taylored Lives confirms Martha Banta's place as one of our leading cultural and literary critics

Creative Margins Alison L. Bain, 2013-01-01 Creative Margins interweaves stories of the challenges and opportunities presented by the creation of culture in suburbs focusing on Etobicoke and Mississauga outside Toronto and Surrey and North Vancouver outside Vancouver The book investigates whether the creative process unfolds differently for suburban and urban cultural workers as well as how this process is affected by the presence or absence of cultural infrastructure and planning initiatives

Blake and the City Jennifer Davis Michael, 2006 Though usually classified as a Romantic Blake subverts and dissolves the binaries on which Romanticism turns self and other art and nature country and city Rather than reject the city outright like many of his contemporaries Blake embraces it as the intricate workshop of human imagination Each chapter of this book focuses on a specific text of Blake's that illustrates a particular conception of metaphorical embodiment of the city These shifting metaphors emphasize the construction of all human environments and the need for imaginative labor to build and interpret them This study seeks to bridge a gap between transcendent and historicist readings of Blake while at the same time challenging assumptions that still color our view of the city in the twenty first century Jennifer Davis Michael is Associate Professor of English at the University of the South

Interpreting Environments Robert Mugerauer, 2014-10-14 In this pioneering book Robert Mugerauer seeks to make deconstruction and hermeneutics accessible to people in the environmental disciplines including architecture planning urban studies environmental studies and cultural geography Mugerauer demonstrates each methodology through a case study The first study uses the traditional approach to recover the meaning of Jung s and Wittgenstein s houses by analyzing their historical intentional contexts The second case study utilizes deconstruction to explore Egyptian French neoclassical and postmodern attempts to use pyramids to constitute a sense of lasting presence And the third case study employs hermeneutics to reveal how the American understanding of the natural landscape has evolved from religious to secular to ecological since the nineteenth century

Modernism in the Green Julia E. Daniel, Margaret Konkol, 2020-04-15

Modernism in the Green traces a trans Atlantic modernist fascination with the creation use and representation of the modern green From the verdant public commons in the heart of cities to the lookout points on mountains in national parks planned green spaces serve as felicitous stages for the performance of modernism In its focus on designed and public green zones Modernism in the Green offers a new perspective on modernism s overlapping investments in the arts politics urbanism race class gender and the nature culture divide This collection of essays is the first to explore the prominent and diverse ways greens materialize in modern literature and culture along with the manner in which modernists represented them This volume presents the idea of the green as a point of exploration as our contributors analyze social organic spaces ranging from public parks to roadways and refuse piles Like the term green one that evokes both more than human natural zones and crafted public meeting places these chapters uncover the social and spatial intersection of nature and culture in the very architecture of parks gardens buildings highways and dumps This book argues that such greens facilitate modernists exploration of how nature can manifest in an era of increasing urbanization and mechanization and what identities and communities the green now enables or prevents

The Environmental Imagination Lawrence Buell, 1995 With Thoreau s Walden as a touchstone Buell offers an account of environmental perception the place of nature in the history of Western thought and the consequences for literary scholarship of attempting to imagine a more ecocentric way of being In doing so he provides a profound rethinking of our literary and cultural reflections on nature
