Pharmaceutical Patent Protection and World Trade Law Jae Sundaram, 2018-05-08 Patents including pharmaceutical patents enjoy extended protection for twenty years under the TRIPs Agreement The Agreement has resulted in creating a two tier system of the World Trade Organisation Member States and its implementation has seen the price of pharmaceutical products skyrocket putting essential medicines beyond the reach of the common man The hardest hit populations come from the developing and least developed countries which have either a weak healthcare system or no healthcare at all where access to essential and affordable medicines is extremely difficult to achieve Pharmaceutical Patent Protection and World Trade Law studies the problems faced by these countries in obtaining access to affordable medicines for their citizens in light of the TRIPS Agreement It explores the opportunities that are still open for some developing countries to utilise the flexibilities available under the TRIPS Agreement in order to mitigate the damage caused by it The book also examines the interrelationship between the world governing bodies and the right to health contained in some of the developing country s national constitutions

Patents John V. Martin, 2002 The American patent system is designed to protect innovation and thus to make possible further innovation The major problems surround the tradeoffs involved and whether the system is tilted at any given time more to industry or more to the public interest Although in theory protection of industry s innovation would seem to be directly to the public's best interest this is not the case when industry uses the patent laws to charge exorbitant prices in the name of further innovation which becomes a catch all justification for whatever industry wants Nor is it really aided when industry attempts through every legal manoeuvre conceivable to the human mind and some not even that to circumvent the termination period of lucrative patents This book presents important new information on current issues and laws in this field The Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory, 2004 Research Handbook on Intellectual Property Exhaustion and Parallel Imports Irene Calboli, Edward Lee, 2016-06-24 From the Americas to the European Union Asia Pacific and Africa countries around the world are facing increased pressure to clarify the application of intellectual property exhaustion This wide ranging Research Handbook explores the questions that pose themselves as a result Should exhaustion apply at the national regional or international level Should parallel imports be considered lawful imports Should copyright patent and trademark laws follow the same regime Should countries attempt to harmonize their approaches To what extent should living matters and self replicating technologies be subject to the principle of exhaustion To what extent have the rise of digital goods and the Internet of things redefined the concept of exhaustion in cyberspace The Handbook offers insights to the challenges surrounding these questions and highlights how one answer does not fit all
