Regional Guide South 2006:

Regional Economic Communities and Integration in Southern Africa Leon Mwamba Tshipaka, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Inocent Moyo, 2021-05-07 This book examines regional integration in Africa with a particular focus on the Southern African Development Community SADC. It argues that the SADC's pursuit of a rationalist and state-centric form of integration for Southern Africa is limited as it overlooks the contributory role and efficacy of non-state actors who are relegated to the periphery. The book demonstrates that civil society networks in Southern Africa constitute well-governed self-organised entities that function just like formal regional arrangements driven by state actors and technocrats. The book amplifies this point by deploying New Institutionalism and the New Regionalism Approach to examine the role and efficacy of non-state actors in building regions from below. The book develops a unique typology that shows how Southern African regional civil society networks adopt strategies, norms and rules to establish an efficient form of alternative integration in the region. Based on a critical analysis of this self-organised regionalism, the book projects the reality that alternative regionalism driven by non-state actors is possible. This book expands the study of regionalism in the SADC and makes a significant and innovative contribution to the study of contemporary regionalism. World-Regional Social Policy and Global Governance Bob Deacon, Maria Cristina Macovei, Luk Van Langenhove, Nicola Yeates, 2009-12-04 This volume explores the case for and the prospects of the development of world regional social policies as integral elements of a pluralistic equitable and effective system of global governance. Focusing on transnational regionalism, this book examines the trajectory and crossing over of the three strands of scholarly analysis within the past decade which have given rise to this volume: the perceived negative impact of neo-liberal globalisation upon national social policy; the need for but the difficulty of securing reforms in the institutions of global social governance; and the increasing salience of the world regional level of governance in handling cross-border issues. The authors develop an intellectual and research agenda that will also inform the political development of an international programme concerned with the social policy dimensions of regional governance. Combining the perspectives and collective expertise of a team of international scholars and activists, the book features theoretical and policy cases for a focus on regionalism and social policy. A mapping and analysis of social policy dimensions of regional integration processes and formations in four continents. An assessment of the regional dimensions of global agencies in particular of the UN, ILO, WHO, UNESCO, UNDP including the approach to regional social policy of the UN Regional Economic Commissions and Development Banks. An articulation of a multi-levelled conceptualisation of global social governance within which regional associations of countries play a significant part. The book will be of interest to students and scholars of social policy, development studies, international relations and political science, especially those focused on the public policy dimensions of globalisation, regionalisation and international development. Changing Climates, Ecosystems and Environments within Arid Southern Africa and Adjoining Regions Jörgen Runge, 2015-10-30 This book is volume 33 of the yearbook
