Regional Economic Development In Italy:

Regional Economic Development in Italy Lloyd B. Saville, 1961
Economic Growth and Cohesion Policy Implementation in Italy and Spain Mattia Casula, 2020-05-20 This book concerns EU Cohesion Policy and the economic convergence of underdeveloped regions in Italy and Spain from the first programming period to the present it investigates the political and institutional factors that determine the success or failure of implementing EU Cohesion Policy at national and sub national level as well as their impact on economic growth On the wave of the American tradition of development studies this book suggests that public policy analysis can be fruitful for understanding economic growth and cohesion if it were to reconstruct domestic public interventions for development and the institutional characteristics of the subjects responsible for pursuing development goals To do so this book derives its theoretical foundations from the traditional debate on the role of state actors in promoting economic development and on the institutional characteristics that the public authorities involved in the process of economic development should display More precisely by adopting an Hirschmanian approach to development it elaborates an original framework to compare different Cohesion Policy implementations and to understand its economic results in different countries using Italy and Spain as pilot studies
Transitions in Regional Economic Development Ivan Turok, David Bailey, Jennifer Clark, Jun Du, Ugo Fratesi, Michael Fritsch, John Harrison, Tom Kemeny, Dieter Kogler, Arnoud Lagendijk, Tomasz Mickiewicz, Ernest Miguelez, Stefano Usai, Fiona Wislade, 2018-10-18 At a time of extraordinary challenges confronting the world this book analyses some of the profound changes occurring in the development of cities and regions It discusses the uncertainties associated with the stalling of hyper globalization and asks whether this creates opportunities for resurgent regional economies driven by local capabilities resource efficiencies and domestic production Theory and evidence on socio economic and environmental transitions underway in many regions are brought together Implications of the shifting balance of global power towards emerging economies in the East are explored along with the consequences of urbanization in the global South for politics and democracy Dilemmas surrounding migration are also discussed including whether incomers displace local workers and depress wages or bring benefits in the form of know how new technology and investment More integrative concepts of the region and theories of regional development are analysed recognising the role of human capital knowledge innovation finance infrastructure and institutions This was originally published as a special issue of Regional Studies
