Maghreb Regional and Global Integration

Gary Clyde Hufbauer, Claire Brunel, 2008-10-01 Increasing terrorist activity has led the Maghreb countries Morocco Algeria Tunisia Mauritania and Libya to focus on antiterrorism efforts unintentionally at the expense of full fledged economic reform These countries have tightened their border restrictions on the flow of people and goods reducing commerce and depressing economic activity In fact Maghreb has one of the lowest rates of intra regional trade in the world other factors like rigid economic structures slow productivity growth and modest investment levels continue to stymie progress toward economic integration Do these countries diverse circumstances symbolize insurmountable obstacles in achieving economic cooperation and an improved standard of living for citizens How can the United States and European Union facilitate economic progress Maghreb Regional and Global Integration A Dream to Be Fulfilled utilizes two distinct econometric tools to assess four key sectors energy banking and insurance transport and agribusiness and outlines achievable sector specific recommendations This book not only assesses the gains from economic integration among the Maghreb countries but also focuses on the tangible benefits from enhanced economic ties between the region and the world economy With this critical analysis the authors provide an in depth look at practical measures such as bilateral trade and investment agreements regional arrangements and financial assistance that can significantly boost short term success and ensure long term gains through integration in an unstable region Connecting South Asia and Southeast Asia

ADBI,2016-03-08 This report analyzes how closer regional connectivity and economic integration between South Asia and Southeast Asia can benefit both regions with a focus on the role played by infrastructure and public policies in facilitating this process It examines major developments in South Asian Southeast Asian trade and investment economic cooperation the role of economic corridors and regional cooperation initiatives In particular it identifies significant opportunities for strengthening these integration efforts as a result of the recent opening up of Myanmar in political economic and financial terms This is particularly the case for land based transportation highways and railroads and energy trading The report s focus is on connectivity in a broad sense covering both hardware and software including investment in infrastructure energy trading trade facilitation investment financing and support for national and regional policies Capital Market Integration in South Asia Sourajit Aiyer,2016-11-03 Capital Market Integration in South Asia Realizing the SAARC Opportunity discusses the potential Capital Market Products Activities which can create closer inter linkage of the South Asian capital markets and help local global investors benefit from this economic opportunity While some ideas may be implementable now others have future promise as the regional markets further mature The book demonstrates both retail and institutional investor interest in this combined high growth region by offering scope for yield diversification and risk mitigation maximized upside from multiple growth markets minimized downside through low correlation constituents and more The book s core theme addresses the challenges towards deepening the awareness and acceptability of regional economies Only when this happens will the asset flows increase into the regional market products providing scale up that will aid viability for these products Presents unconventional ideas for converting SAARC s unique opportunities into ideas for capital markets Includes socioeconomic issues as a part of the discussion Offers a unique perspective on how the region s economic opportunities can be translated into actual products Includes numerous charts and figures on South Asia s economic state its financial opportunities and projected growth Regional Integration in South Asia Prabir De,2017 There is a general consensus among policymakers academicians and development practitioners that transport connectivity lies at the heart of deepening regional cooperation and integration in South Asia It is being increasingly recognised now that development of production networks and value chains and promotion of trade and investment depend critically on the efficacy of transport linkages within and across countries In absence of good transport connectivity exporters lose competitiveness domestic producers face cost hike and delay and consumers interests get undermined Throughout all his active life Dr M Rahmatullah had relentlessly championed the cause of multimodal connectivity in South Asia and also seamless movement of goods across all of Asia His dream was to build an integrated South Asia through corridors and gateways which will be well connected with pan Asian transport networks His seminal contributions had put connectivity as central to economic prosperity and regional economic integration in the region One recalls that member countries of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC had pledged to achieve the South Asia Economic Union SAEU by turn of the ongoing decade where an efficient secure and integrated transport network was identified to play a catalytic role Trade was to play a crucial part in this scenario Regrettably South Asia is a case in point where country specific constraints impeded trade between countries Consequently goods often lose competitiveness at home before being sold overseas One of the key tasks before South Asian countries is therefore to build gateways and multimodal corridors which are the building blocks for creating an integrated spatial economic region in South Asia In this backdrop this collection of essays in honour of Dr M Rahmatullah deals with a diverse range of issues concerning trade and integration in South Asia and assesses policy priorities implementation imperatives and emerging challenges in view of this Each chapter of the book tries to capture a vital segment of the cross cutting issues associated with closer transport and economic linkages in South Asia and attempts to draw relevant policy implications in this connection The volume reviews the progress made in terms of trade and connectivity in South Asia and suggests ways towards further strengthening of regional integration in the region We hope that the book will serve as a valuable reference source for policymakers academics and practitioners working on issues of regional integration in South Asia

JAIR Journal of International Relations Dhananjay Tripathi, Bhagaban Behera, Balaji Chandramohan, Debamitra Mitra, Nilimpa Ghosh, Rongheet Poddar, Ishani Moulik, Lipsa Dash, Sanskriti Singh, Sampurna Goswami, Swagata Saha, Pratim Ranjan Bose, 2016-06-30 JAIR Journal of International Relations JAIR J Int Relat is a biennial peer reviewed refereed journal of International Relations published by The Jadavpur Association of International Relations with the financial assistance from the Indian Council of Social Science Research ICSSR New Delhi

South Asian Regionalism Chakma, Bhumitra, 2020-07-22 Leading South Asia expert Bhumitra Chakma explains the politics of regionalism in South Asia and traces the origins and evolution of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC from its inception to the present day He takes an International Relations perspective and engages three major IR theoretical approaches neorealism institutionalism and constructivism to explain the complex dynamics of South Asian regionalism Using comparative perspectives based on the experiences of similar regional organizations the author provides an in depth analysis of the challenges of cooperation in the region and explores how progress might be made in the future
