The Regional Novel in Britain and Ireland K. D. M. Snell,1998-12-10 The Regional Novel In Britain and Ireland 1800 1990 will be of interest to literary and social historians as well as cultural critics      The Literary North K. Cockin,2012-06-07

According to Orwell the North was a strange country In an industrial landscape its inhabitants seem to inhabit a bleak world caught in the gaze of 1930s realism Such stereotypes have been tenacious This book challenges these stereotypes establishing the strategic and mobile nature of the North and the effects of literary realism      A Companion to the Victorian Novel Patrick Brantlinger,William Thesing,2008-04-15 The Companion to the Victorian Novel provides contextual and critical information about the entire range of British fiction published between 1837 and 1901 Provides contextual and critical information about the entire range of British fiction published during the Victorian period Explains issues such as Victorian religions class structure and Darwinism to those who are unfamiliar with them Comprises original accessible chapters written by renowned and emerging scholars in the field of Victorian studies Ideal for students and researchers seeking up to the minute coverage of contexts and trends or as a starting point for a survey course      Modernity and the English Rural

Novel Dominic Head,2017-04-07 This book examines the persistence of the rural tradition in the English novel into the twentieth century In the shadow of metropolitan literary culture rural writing can seem to strive for a fantasy version of England with no compelling social or historical relevance Dominic Head argues that the apparent disconnection is in itself a response to modernity rather than a refusal to engage with it and that the important writers in this tradition have had a significant bearing on the trajectory of English cultural life through the twentieth century At the heart of the discussion is the English rural regional novel of the 1920s and 1930s which reveals significant points of overlap with mainstream literary culture and the legacies of modernism Rural writers refashioned the conventions of the tradition and the effects of literary nostalgia to produce the swansong of a fading genre with resonances that are still relevant today      The Cambridge

History of the English Novel Robert L. Caserio,Clement Hawes,2012-01-12 The Cambridge History of the English Novel chronicles an ever changing and developing body of fiction across three centuries An interwoven narrative of the novel s progress unfolds in more than fifty chapters charting continuities and innovations of structure tracing lines of influence in terms of themes and techniques and showing how greater and lesser authors shape the genre Pushing beyond the usual period centered boundaries the History s emphasis on form reveals the range and depth the novel has achieved in English This book will be indispensable for research libraries and scholars but is accessibly written for students Authoritative bold and clear the History raises multiple useful questions for future visions of the invention and re invention of the novel

British Literature in Transition, 1980-2000 Eileen Pollard,Berthold Schoene-Harwood,2019 This volume shows how British literature recorded contemporaneous historical change It traces the emergence and evolution of literary trends from 1980 2000      George Mackay Brown and the Philosophy of Community Timothy C Baker,2009-06-23 In this book Timothy C

Literature of the 1950s: Good, Brave Causes Alice Ferrebe, 2012-04-10 Challenges the myths about apathy and smugness surrounding British literature of the period Alice Ferrebe's lively study rereads the decade and its literature as crucial in twentieth century British history for its emergent and increasingly complicated politics of difference as ideas about identity authority and belonging were tested and contested By placing a diverse selection of texts alongside those of the established canon of Movement and Angry writing a literary culture of true diversity and depth is brought into view The volume characterises the 1950s as a time of confrontation with a range of concerns still avidly debated today including immigration education the challenging behaviour of youth nuclear threat the post industrial and post imperial legacy a consumerist economy and a feminist movement hampered by the perceivedly comprehensive nature of its recent success Contrary to Jimmy Porter's defeatist judgement on his era in John Osborne's 1956 play Look Back in Anger the volume upholds such concerns as good brave causes indeed

Literature of the 1950s Alice Ferrebe, 2015-09-30 This lively study challenges the myths about apathy and smugness surrounding British literature of the period It rereads the decade and its literature as crucial in twentieth century British history for its emergent and increasingly complicated politics

Crime Fiction and National Identities in the Global Age Julie H. Kim, 2020-05-05 To read a crime novel today largely simulates the exercise of reading newspapers or watching the news The speed and frequency with which today's bestselling works of crime fiction are produced allow them to mirror and dissect nearly contemporaneous socio political events and conflicts This collection examines this phenomenon and offers original critical essays on how national identity appears in international crime fiction in the age of populism and globalization These essays address topics such as the array of competing nationalisms in Europe Indian secularism versus Hindu communalism the populist rhetoric tinged with misogyny or homophobia in the United States racial religious or ethnic others who are sidelined in political appeals to dominant native voices and the increasing economic chasm between a rich and poor More broadly these essays inquire into themes such as how national identity and various conceptions of masculinity are woven together how dominant native cultures interact with migrant and colonized cultures to explore insider outsider paradigms and identity politics and how generic and cultural boundaries are repeatedly crossed in postcolonial detective fiction

Across the margins Glenda Norquay, Gerry Smyth, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license The concept of margins denotes geographical economic demographic cultural and political positioning in relation to a perceived centre This book aims to question the term marginal itself to hear the voices talking across borders and not only to or through an English centre The first part of the book examines debates on the political and poetic choice of language drawing attention to significant differences between the Irish and Scottish strategies It includes a discussion of the complicated dynamic of woman and nation by Aileen Christianson which explores the work of twentieth century Scottish and Irish women writers The book also explores masculinities in both English and Scottish writing from Berthold Schoene which deploys sexual difference as a means of testing postcolonial theorizing A different perspective on the notion of marginality is offered by addressing Englishness in relation to migrant writing in prose concerned with India and England after Independence The second part of the book focuses on a wide range of new poetry to question simplified margin centre relations It discusses a historicising perspective on the work of cultural studies and its responses to the relationship between ethnicity and second generation Irish musicians from Sean Campbell The comparison of contemporary Irish and Scottish fiction which identifies similarities and differences in recent developments is also considered In each instance the writers take on the task of examining and assessing points of connection and diversity across a particular body of work while moving away from contrasts which focus on an English norm

Thomas Hardy's Shorter Fiction Sophie Gilmartin, 2007-12-15 This critical study of Hardy's short stories provides a thorough account of the ruling preoccupations and recurrent writing strategies of his entire corpus as well as providing detailed readings of several individual texts It relates the formal choices imposed on Hardy as contributor to Blackwood's Magazine and other periodicals to the methods he employed to encode in fiction his troubled attitude towards the social politics of the West Country where most of the stories are set No previous criticism has shown how the powerful challenges to the reader mounted in Hardy's later stories reveal the complexity of his motivations during a period when he was moving progressively in the direction of exchanging fiction for poetry Unique in providing a comprehensive criticism of Hardy's entire output of short stories Full detailed close readings of a number of key stories make this useful as a potential teaching resource Draws on the work of social historians to make clear the background of social and political unrest in Dorset that is partly uncovered and partly hidden in Hardy's portrayals of his fictional Wessex Offers fascinating insights into Hardy's near obsession in his mature phase with the marriage contract and with its legal binding of erratic men and women

Literary Representations of the Irish Country House M. Kelsall, 2002-12-10 This innovative new study examines the significance given to the country house in Ireland under the Union and how this is represented in the works of Edgeworth Lever Trollope Martin and Somerville Bowen and Lady Gregory The Irish country house is set in a classical and European context as the centre for the good life and the pinnacle of civilisation In Ireland that inherited tradition was challenged by an alternative culture nominated as savage This book explores how the Irish country house was the focus of conflict between and symbiosis of civilisation and savagery

Sources of Regionalism in the Nineteenth Century Linda Van Santvoort, Tom Verschaffel, 2008 Architectural concepts and styles seem to flourish from the most local of contexts to the global This book investigates the regional often conceived today as a late nineteenth century phenomenon primarily on account of the preservation and restoration movements that arose An interdisciplinary approach to regionalism as manifested not only in architecture but also in art and literature necessitates a more thorough examination of the complexity and multilayered quality of the phenomenon The research is limited in time to the nineteenth century plus the years leading up to the First World War and in place to Western Europe with an emphasis on Belgium France and England and to a lesser extent on the Netherlands Germany and Spain BOOK JACKET The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction, 1945-2010 David James, 2015-10-06 The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction since 1945 provides insight into the critical traditions shaping the literary landscape of modern Britain Transatlantic Stowe Denise Kohn, Sarah Meer, Emily B. Todd, 2009-11 Blending historical and cultural criticism and drawing on fresh primary material from London and Paris Transatlantic Stowe includes essays exploring Stowe's relationship with European writers and the influence of her European travels on her work especially the controversial travel narrative Sunny Memories of Foreign Lands and her Italian novel Agnes of Sorrento Jacket "What Country's This? And Whither Are We Gone?" Rosa E. Penna, Karoline Szatek-Tudor, Janet Hadley Williams, 2010-09-13 In the summer of 2008 the twelfth in a series of biennial conferences on the Literature of Region and Nation was held at Aberdeen University in the North East of Scotland Over fifty scholars representing no fewer than twenty different countries convened for the occasion and twenty two of the papers presented are included in this volume As at previous conferences in the series the papers range widely in approach in subject matter and in geographical coverage readers of this book will find explorations of literature from all five continents The papers are arranged thematically the central concepts of region and nation are examined in the first section and subsequent sets of papers go on to consider literary and pictorial representations of places and peoples literature of diaspora and exile a keynote topic of the conference the use of language particularly non standard languages in literary texts and artistic interactions between cultures All the papers have been peer reviewed and some extensively revised The collection demonstrates the vitality of scholarship in the field of regional literary studies The Hyperlocal in Eighteenth- and Nineteenth-Century Literary Space Nicholas Birns, 2019-08-26 This book surveys the hyperlocal in the works of authors such as Jane Austen John Keats and Charles Dickens It shows that the hyperlocal space or object though particular reaches beyond itself affording an elasticity that can allow those things that seem beneath notice to reveal broader cultural significance Resistant Reproductions Fran Bigman, 2024-03-29 Resistant Reproductions asks why narratives of pregnancy and abortion emerged in the early twentieth century and what kinds of stories these narratives conveyed Is it only once pregnancy becomes plannable that it becomes a story worth telling Abortion is often considered resistant and feminist while pregnancy is considered domestic and conventional How can readings of literary narratives challenge this reductive binary Resistant Reproductions the first book length study of both pregnancy and abortion in British culture addresses these questions by examining pregnancy narratives including abortion narratives in British fiction and film from 1907 to 1967 Fiction became a way for writers to explore what new possibilities of reproductive control would mean for the individual yet there was also much anxiety about who would have control individuals or the state While exploring intimate personal experiences of pregnancy and abortion Resistant Reproductions also asks how literary narratives used reproductive plots to address political issues of gender class and eugenics
