Global Issues Kristen Boon, Aziz Huq, 2009

Terrorism Commentary on Security Documents Volume 103

Global Issues continues the recent changes to this series that have justified a new publisher brand, a new title and a re-designed cover. That new title emphasizes the expert commentary now provided by three leading scholars in the field: Doug Lovelace, Director of the Army War College's Strategic Studies Institute; Kristen Boon of Seton Hall Law School; and Aziz Huq of the University of Chicago School of Law. In this particular volume, Lovelace updates researchers on new developments in various regions of the world. He devotes many pages to the debacle along the Afghanistan-Pakistan border where Pakistan harbors extremists conducting the insurgency in Afghanistan. Both the documents selected by Lovelace and his insightful commentary describe how the U.S. under advice from Special Envoy Dick Holbrooke has changed its approach to the problem.

by treating Afghanistan and Pakistan as one party instead of two Volume 103 Global Issues also examines the complex issue of China's possible assistance to terrorists overseas For example some weapons used against coalition forces in Afghanistan originate from China despite China's promise to help the U S in its war against terror Lovelace and the documents he presents also assess India's measured thoughtful reaction to allegations that Pakistan facilitated the November terrorist attacks in Mumbai The volume also alerts readers to disturbing developments in South America where such groups as FARC in Colombia and The Shining Path in Peru have persisted in their profit seeking campaigns of violence despite those countries general success in diminishing their power

Decentralization and Regional Disparities LI MENG, 2017-02-15

Decentralization as a method for tackling regional disparities has been implemented in countries throughout the world in the last two decades Some scholars have noticed that decentralization is a multi dimensional concept However there is still no consensus about the dimensions selection In this book based on the measurable and comparable principles the relationships between three dimensions of fiscal administrative and welfare decentralization are considered and the evolution of regional inequalities in OECD countries and in China are explored Economic data of 26 OECD countries 17 relatively rich countries and 9 relatively poor ones during the period from 1996 to 2009 was used to formulate regression models It was found that fiscal decentralization especially the decentralizing of tax authorities in relatively backward countries has been associated with a significant rise in regional disparities Moreover according to the statistical results for the countries in the sample welfare centralization and suitable local government size can lead to a reduction in regional disparities In the case of China data analysis and institutional one were paired in order to assess the dynamic relationships between decentralization and regional disparities from the three dimensions mentioned above An unstable nonstandard and asymmetrical fiscal decentralization system directly results in regional disparities which can be strengthened by a highly decentralized public service delivery system In addition rigid government size segmented government structures and yardstick competition mechanisms used for creating competition among local governments hinder coordination and cooperation in and among regions and further exacerbate regional disparities
