Regionalism In Post Suharto Indonesia:

Regionalism in Post-Suharto Indonesia Maribeth Erb, Carol Faucher, Priyambudi Sulistiyanto, 2013-01-11 Since the fall of the Suharto regime forces pressing for regional autonomy have strengthened in Indonesia with some people arguing that the country is in danger of disintegrating This book examines a range of issues connected with decentralization and regional autonomy in Indonesia especially focusing on various local contexts The multiple issues that are dealt with in this volume include ethnic revival and violence corruption collusion and nepotism the complexities of administrative reorganization and the forging of new networks reshaping of cultural identity new emerging social hierarchies and new conflicts over the use of environment The Revival of Tradition in Indonesian Politics Jamie Davidson, David Henley, 2007-03-12 This important resource provides detailed coverage of the growing significance of adat in Indonesian politics It identifies its origins the historical factors that have conditioned it and the reasons behind its recent blossoming

Political Change and Territoriality in Indonesia Ehito Kimura, 2013 What makes large multi ethnic states hang together At a time when ethnic and religious conflict has gained global prominence the territorial organization of states is a critical area of study This book explores how multi ethnic and geographically dispersed states grapple with questions of territorial administration and change While some scholars argue that states organize and change territorial administration to maximize political and economic efficiency this book argues otherwise Historical Dictionary of Indonesia Audrey Kahin, 2015-10-29 This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Indonesia contains a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Indonesia The Politics of Religion in Indonesia Michel Picard, Rémy Madinier, 2011-05-13 Indonesia is a remarkable case study for religious politics While not being a theocratic country it is not secular either with the Indonesian state officially defining what constitutes religion and every citizen needing to be affiliated to one of them This book focuses on Java and Bali and the interesting comparison of two neighbouring societies shaped by two different religions Islam and Hinduism The book examines the appropriation by the peoples of Java and Bali of the idea of religion through a dialogic process of indigenization of universalist religions and universalization of indigenous religions It looks at the tension that exists between proponents of local world views and indigenous belief systems and those who deny those local traditions as qualifying as a religion This tension plays a leading part in the construction of an Indonesian religious identity recognized by the state The book is of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asia religious studies and the anthropology and sociology of religion Financial Fragility and Instability in Indonesia Yasuyuki Matsumoto, 2007-01-24 This highly relevant study provides an incisive analysis of a critical phase in recent East Asian financial history exploring the underlying causes of the financial crisis that struck Indonesia during the second half of 1997

Matsumoto's extensive commercial experience in Indonesian finance during these critical years allows him to skilfully argue that the roots of the crisis lay in the period of capital liberalization undertaken during the boom years from 1994 to 1997 which encouraged the development of fragile and unstable financial structures involving increased corporate leverage reliance on external debt and the introduction of riskier and more complicated financial instruments and transactions. In depth fieldwork data and four detailed case studies illuminate the microeconomic foundations of the crisis showing how Indonesian capitalists sought to liquidate their Indonesian assets without losing control of their corporate empires by taking advantage of increased access to foreign loans and complex financial re engineering actions which ultimately precipitated instability and crisis throughout the entire financial system. Finally it reflects upon the policy implications of this episode putting forward the case for comprehensive capital controls for open and developing economies until they establish appropriate financial institutions to monitor and manage the level of indebtedness and the volatility of capitalists behaviour.

Community, Environment and Local Governance in Indonesia Carol Warren, John F. McCarthy, 2012-09-10 This book explores the forces reconfiguring local resource governance in Indonesia since 1998 drawing together original field research undertaken in a decade of dramatic political change. Case studies from across Indonesia's diverse cultural and ecological landscapes focus on the most significant resource sectors agriculture fisheries forestry mining and tourism providing a rare in depth view of the dynamics shaping social and environmental outcomes in these varied contexts. Debates surrounding the tragedy of the commons and environmental governance have focused on institutional considerations of how to craft resource management arrangements in order to further the policy objectives of economic efficiency social equity and environmental sustainability. The studies in this volume reveal the complexity of resource security issues affecting local communities and user groups in Indonesia as they engage with wider institutional frameworks in a context driven simultaneously by decentralizing and globalizing forces. Through ground up investigations of how local groups with different cultural backgrounds and resource bases are responding to the greater autonomy afforded by Indonesia's new political constellation the authors appraise the prospects for rearticulating governance regimes toward a more equitable and sustainable commonwealth. This volume offers valuable insights into questions of import to scholars as well as policy makers concerned with decentralized governance and sustainable resource management.

Law and Religion in Indonesia Melissa Crouch, 2013-11-12 Understanding and managing inter religious relations particularly between Muslims and Christians presents a challenge for states around the world. This book investigates legal disputes between religious communities in the world's largest majority Muslim democratic country Indonesia. It considers how the interaction between state and religion has influenced relations between religious communities in the transition to democracy. The book presents original case studies based on empirical field research of court disputes in West Java a majority Muslim province with a history of radical Islam. These include criminal court cases as well as cases of judicial review relating to disputes concerning religious education permits for religious buildings and the crime of blasphemy The book argues that the democratic law reform process has been influenced by radical Islamists because of the politicization of religion under democracy and the persistence of fears of Christianization It finds that disputes have been localized through the decentralization of power and exacerbated by the central government's ambivalent attitude towards radical Islamists who disregard the rule of law Examining the challenge facing governments to accommodate minorities and manage religious pluralism the book furthers understanding of state religion relations in the Muslim world This accessible and engaging book is of interest to students and scholars of law and society in Southeast Asia as well as Islam and the state and the legal regulation of religious diversity

The Technological State in Indonesia Sulfikar Amir, 2012-11-12 Using a historical sociology approach this book illustrates the formation of the technological state in Indonesia during the New Order period 1966-1998 It explores the nexus between power, high technology development and authoritarianism situated in the Southeast Asian context The book discusses how the New Order regime shifted from the developmental state to the technological state which was characterized by desire for technological supremacy The process resulted in the establishment of a host of technological institutions and the undertaking of large scale high tech programs Shedding light on the political dimension of socio-technological transformation this book looks at the relationship between authoritarian politics and high technology development and examines how effectively technology serves to sustain legitimacy of an authoritarian power It explores into multiple features of the Indonesian technological state covering the ideology of development, the politics of technocracy, the institutional structure and the material and symbolic embodiments of high technology and goes on to discuss the impact of globalization on the technological state The book is an important contribution to studies on Southeast Asian Politics

Development and Science Technology and Society STS Corruption and Law in Indonesia Simon Butt, 2017-05-31 Indonesia has transformed from one of South East Asia's most repressive and centralised political systems to its most decentralised and democratic Despite these obstacles still remain that hinder Indonesia achieving the rule of law and in particular the country is consistently ranked as having one of the highest levels of corruption in the world This book assesses Indonesia's anti corruption reforms over the past decade focusing on the Anti corruption Commission KPK and the Anti corruption Court ACC The book discusses how both institutions have been largely successful since they began operating in 2004 Before 2008 the KPK and ACC largely focused on mid senior level targets and faced resistance primarily in the form of constitutional challenges to their jurisdictions and powers From 2008 however the KPK began targeting politically powerful figures drawing resistance that now threatens the future efficacy of both institutions It is largely in Indonesia's courtrooms and lawmaking institutions that key battles between reformists and those preferring the status quo have played out This book describes and analyses these judicial processes and legal changes It shows that despite persistent claims that Indonesia's legal system is dysfunctional law is far from irrelevant in modern day Indonesia The book is a useful contribution to South

East Asian politics and Asian law Christianity, Islam and Nationalism in Indonesia Charles E. Farhadian, 2005-11-17 Although over eighty percent of the country is Muslim Indonesia is marked by an extraordinary diversity in language ancestry culture religion and ways of life This book focuses on the Christian Dani of West Papua providing a social and ethnographic history of the most important indigenous population in the troubled province It presents a fascinating overview of the Dani s conversion to Christianity examining the social religious and political uses to which they have put their new religion Based on independent research carried out over many years among the Dani people the book provides an abundance of new material on religious and political events in West Papua Underlining the heart of Christian Muslim rivalries the book questions the fate of religion in late modern times Local Politics in Indonesia Nankyung Choi, 2012-02-20 Competitive elections have become an institutionalized feature of contemporary Indonesia s politics This together with other considerations makes it reasonable to call Indonesia the world s third largest democracy Nonetheless democratic elections in Indonesia are both more complex and interesting than is commonly understood This book explores how local elections in Indonesia have affected the development and dynamics of Indonesia s fledgling democracy Based on fine grained analyses of elections in five localities the book shows how Indonesia s transition to direct elections of local government executives has transformed party politics and elite development at local levels of governance Employing the methods of political anthropology and informed by a critical reading of theories of democracy and decentralization the book presents detailed analyses of elections in five localities across four Indonesian provinces The book calls attention to the ambiguous relation between formal democratic reforms and political behavior It illustrates how local elite politics has evolved within the context of political and administrative reforms whose announced goals are to improve the representativeness and responsiveness of political institutions This book provides a window onto local political processes that will be of interest to students and scholars of politics in Southeast Asia and beyond Adolescents in Contemporary Indonesia Lyn Parker, Pam Nilan, 2013-07-18 The youth demographic is a large and growing cohort in Indonesia and adolescents embody the currents of social change Throughout the twentieth century they were significant agents of social protest leading to social and political transformation This book looks at the importance of adolescents in contemporary Indonesia and how they are spearheading not just globalisation and a growing consumer youth culture but also the Islamisation movement The book explores both the inner worlds and social selves of Indonesian adolescents It presents an in depth knowledge of Indonesian society and culture in various parts of Indonesia and discusses national patterns and trends Grounded in two field sites the book enables an analysis of young people s local ethnic and religious identities and their commitment to the Indonesian nation state It goes on to look at the physical age bracket of youth the definitions used by the Indonesian state and other agencies and the perceptions of youth themselves about adolescence and adulthood Providing a comprehensive study of young people in contemporary Indonesia the book addresses gender relations the importance of education for youth and youth engagement with popular culture and the moral issue concerning the sexual propriety of young people It is a useful contribution for students and academics of Asian Studies Sociology and Cultural Studies Separatist Conflict in Indonesia Antje Missbach,2017-05-31 This book describes analyses and interprets more than thirty years of long distance politics exercised by the Acehnese diaspora and the diasporans attempts to influence Aceh s homeland developments in the lead up to during and after the internal conflict that afflicted the region between 1976 and 2005 Identity Politics and Elections in Malaysia and Indonesia Karolina Prasad,2015-12-14 In recent social research ethnicity has mostly been used as an explanatory variable It was only after it was agreed that ethnicity in itself is subject to change were the questions of how and why it changes possible to answer This multiplicity of ethnic identities requires that we think of each society as one with multiple ethnic dimensions of which any can become activated in the process of political competition and sometimes several of them within a short period of time Focusing on Malaysia and Indonesia this book traces the variations of ethnic identity by looking at electoral strategies in two sub national units It shows that ethnic identities are subject to change induced by calculated moves by political entrepreneurs who use identities as tools to maximize their chances of winning elections or expanding support base and highlights how political institutions play an enormous role in shaping the modes and dynamics of these ethno political manipulations The book suggests that in societies where ethnic identities are activated in politics instead of analysing politics with ethnic distribution as an independent variable ethnic distribution can be taken as the dependent variable with political institutions being the explanatory one It examines the problems of voters behaviour and parties and candidates strategy in a polity that is to a significant extent driven by ethnic relations Pushing the boundaries of qualitative research on Southeast Asian politics by placing formal institutions at the centre of its analysis this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Race and Ethnic Studies and International Relations Chinese Big Business in Indonesia Christian Chua,2008-02-14 The disintegration of Indonesia s New Order regime in 1998 and the fall of Soeharto put an end to the crude forms of centralised authoritarianism and economic protectionism that allowed large Chinese conglomerates to dominate Indonesia s private sector Contrary to all expectations most of the major capitalist groups though damaged considerably Communal Violence and Democratization in Indonesia Gerry van Klinken,2007-01-24 Through close scrutiny of empirical materials and interviews this book uniquely analyzes all the episodes of long running widespread communal violence that erupted during Indonesia s post New Order transition Indonesia democratized after the long and authoritarian New Order regime ended in May 1998 But the transition was far less peaceful than is often thought It claimed about 10 000 lives in communal ethnic and religious violence and nearly as many as that again in separatist violence in Aceh and East Timor Taking a comprehensive look at the communal violence that arose after the New Order regime this book will be of interest to students of Southeast Asian studies social movements political violence and ethnicity Indonesia's Engagement with Africa Christophe Dorigné-Thomson,2023-11-14 This book provides a comprehensive study of Indonesia's contemporary foreign policy engagement with Africa highlighting the archipelago's recent reawakening to the continent. It explores thoughts on Afro-Asian relations in general and their future in the changing geopolitical context. It provides a vision of Indonesia's foreign policy and political situation at the highest level of leadership. It places Indonesia in a multi-comparison context which helps us reconsider Indonesia today and widens our views on Indonesia's needs to be better known through new perspectives and voices able to better convey the realities of its polity, aspirations and complexities. It proposes through the study of Indonesia's African endeavour to better grasp the contemporary Indonesian Zeitgeist and Weltanschauung. It also analyses the political power alliance formed by President Jokowi and former General Luhut Binsar Pandjaitan leading a state-led development through state capitalism mobilising State-Owned Enterprises (SOEs). The Bandung Conference host aspires to project its domestic development achievements towards Africa focusing on Africa for Africa and not merely as part of a sometimes abstract Afro-Asian discourse. Nonetheless, Afro-Asianism continues to be mobilised to facilitate market penetration and serve domestic interests. The book shows how Indonesia's foreign policy toward Africa relates to domestic political contestation and consolidation, political legacy and commodity-based industrial policy and Chinese and China in Africa networks and ideational influence foremost among other networks of influence in the Jokowi era. The book also underlines how Indonesia's knowledge production and academic deficiencies negatively impact its foreign policy capabilities notably as a potential robust alternative partner for Africa. It will be beneficial for students, academicians, researchers and diplomats.

Cambodia and the Politics of Aesthetics Alvin Cheng-Hin Lim, 2013

Illuminating developments in contemporary Cambodia with political and aesthetic theory, this book analyses the country's violent transition from socialism to capitalism through an innovative method that combines the aesthetic approach and critical theory. To understand the particularities of the country's transition and Cambodia's unfolding encounter with neoliberal capitalism, the book pursues the circuits of desire connecting the constellation of objects and relations which is identified as Cambodia. Chapters focus on the pre-colonial empire of Angkor, the invasions of Siam and Vietnam in the nineteenth century, the devastation of the Khmer Rouge genocide and the subsequent Vietnamese occupation and the present rapacity of Hun Sen's neoliberal government. A creative combination of auto-ethnography, critical theory and area studies and the analysis of a historical moment, the book is of interest to academics working on comparative politics, Asian studies, holocaust studies, critical theory and in the politics of aesthetics.

The Politics of Securitization in Democratic Indonesia Yandry Kurniawan, 2017-08-21

The book presents a novel analytical perspective on Indonesia's security policies during its transition to democracy. Kurniawan's analysis revolves around extraordinary measures and normal politics in response to the existential threat to the Indonesian state. This perspective is at the centre of the analysis which examines the process of securitization and desecuritization taken by the Indonesian government. This volume is essential reading for practitioners, students of Indonesian politics and researchers alike.
