Regions Spatial Strategies And Sustainable Development:

Regions, Spatial Strategies and Sustainable Development David Counsell, Graham Haughton, 2004-07-31 This book focuses on recent regional policy and planning debates in all the English regions Regions, Spatial Strategies, and Sustainable Development Graham Haughton, Dave Counsell, 2004-01-01 Sustainable City Regions: Tetsuo Kidokoro, Noboru Harata, L.P. Subanu, J. Jessen, A. Motte, E.P. Seltzer, 2008-04-17 How should regional cities develop regional development strategies for their sustainable future How can such strategies work effectively Regional cities are now at a crossroads will they decline or be regenerated under the impacts of globalization Their sustainable regeneration as creative regional centers will play a decisive role in their sustainable development as a whole but only with viable regional spatial strategies that strengthen the network of cities and their hinterlands The concern here lies in urban regeneration and strategic spatial planning at the city region level This book records observations of 12 dynamically changing regional cities in Asia Europe and the United States The form of the city region urban regeneration and strategic spatial planning as well as the local and regional governance of each city are examined Through this empirical and comparative analysis essential lessons are drawn which will add a new perspective to discussions on the sustainable future of regional cities in an age of globalization Local Development Frameworks Great Britain. Office of the Deputy Prime Minister, 2004 This document sets out planning policies applicable throughout England focusing on procedural aspects and the process of preparing local development documents These should be taken into account by local planning authorities in the preparation of local development frameworks and mineral and waste development frameworks This document complements other national planning policies and should be read in conjunction with them Also known as PPS 12 this document replaces Planning policy guidance note 12 on development plans PPG 12 1999 edition ISBN 1851123490 except that PPG 12 will remain in operation for development plans still being prepared under the 1999 Development Plan Regulations Spatial Planning and Sustainable Development Mitsuhiro Kawakami, Zhen-jiang Shen, Jen-te Pai, Xiao-lu Gao, Ming Zhang, 2013-02-28 This book attempts to provide insights into the achievement of a sustainable urban form through spatial planning and implementation here we focus on planning experiences at the levels of local cities and some metropolitan areas in Asian countries This book investigates the impact of planning policy on spatial planning implementation from multidisciplinary viewpoints encompassing land use patterns housing development transportation green design and agricultural and ecological systems in the urbanization process We seek to learn from researchers in an integrated multidisciplinary platform that reflects a variety of perspectives such as economic development social equality and ecological protection with a view to achieving a sustainable urban form Regional Spatial Strategies Great Britain. Office of the Deputy Prime Minister, 2004 The provisions of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act strengthen the role and importance of regional planning replacing regional planning guidance RPG with statutory regional spatial strategies RSS This document sets out details of procedural policy aspects of the RSSs which apply throughout England with the exception of London where the Mayor has responsibility for preparing a spatial development strategy It complements other statements of national planning policy and should be read in conjunction with them Also known as PPS11 this document replaces Planning policy guidance note 11 PPG11 2000 edition ISBN 0117535575 Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil

Adams,2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders Reanimating Regions James Riding,Martin Jones,2017-05-12 Writing regions undertaking a regional study was once a standard form of geographic communication and critique This was until the quantitative revolution in the middle of the previous century and more definitively the critical turn in human geography towards the end of the twentieth century From then on writing regions as they were experienced phenomenologically or arguing culturally historically and politically with regions was deemed to be old fashioned Yet the region is and always will be a central geographical concept and thinking about regions can tell us a lot about the history of the discipline called geography Despite taking up an identifiable place within the geographical imagination in scholarship and beyond region remains a relatively forgotten under used and in part under theorised term Reanimating Regions marks the continued reinvigoration of a set of disciplinary debates surrounding regions the regional and regional geography Across 18 chapters from international interdisciplinary scholars this book writes and performs region as a temporary permanence something held stable not fixed and absolute at different points in time for different purposes There is as this expansive volume outlines no single reading of a region Reanimating Regions collectively rebalances the region within geography and geographical thought In renewing the geography of regions as not only a site of investigation but also as an analytical framework through which to write the world what emerges is a powerful reworking of the geographic imagination Read against one another the chapters weave together timely commentaries on region and regions across the globe with a particular emphasis upon the regional as played out in the United Kingdom and regional worlds both within and beyond Europe offering chapters from Africa and South America Addressing both the political and the cultural this volume responds to the need for a consolidated and considered reflection on region the regional and regional geography speaking directly to broader intellectual concerns with performance aesthetics identity mobilities the environment and the body The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies Regional Planning John Glasson, Tim Marshall, 2007-11-21 This comprehensive introduction to the concepts and theory of regional planning in the UK Drawing on examples from throughout the UK is the essential up to date text for students interested in all aspects of this increasingly influential subject Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones, Anssi Paasi, 2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies This book drives the discussion further It stresses the complex forms of agency advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies Working Regions Jennifer Clark, 2013-05-29 Working Regions focuses on policy aimed at building sustainable and resilient regional economies in the wake of the global recession Using examples of four working regions regions where research and design functions and manufacturing still coexist in the same cities the book argues for a new approach to regional economic development It does this by highlighting policies that foster innovation and manufacturing in small firms focus research centers on pushing innovation down the supply chain and support dynamic design driven firm networks This book traces several key themes underlying the core proposition that for a region to work it has to link research and manufacturing activities namely innovation and production in the same place Among the topics discussed in this volume are the issues of how the location of research and development infrastructure produces a clear role of the state in innovation and production systems and how policy emphasis on pre production processes in the 1990s has obscured the financialization of intellectual property Throughout the book the author draws on examples from diverse industries including the medical devices industry and the US photonics industry in order to illustrate the different themes of working regions and the various institutional models operating in various countries and regions

Planning Regional Futures John Harrison, Daniel Galland, Mark Tewdwr-Jones, 2021-09-30 Planning Regional Futures is an intellectual call to engage planners to critically explore what planning is and should be in how cities and regions are planned This is in a context where planning is seen to face powerful challenges professionally intellectually and practically in ways arguably not seen before planning is no longer solely the domain of professional planners but opened up to a diverse group of actors the link between the study of cities and regions which traditionally had a disciplinary home in planning schools and the like steadily eroded as research increasingly takes place in interdisciplinary research institutes the advent of real time modelling posing fundamental challenges for the type of long term perspective that planning has traditionally afforded regional planning and its mixed record of achievement and the link between region and planning becoming decoupled as alternative regional and other spatial approaches to planning have emerged This book takes up the intellectual and practical challenge of planning regional futures moving beyond the narrow confines of existing debate and providing a forum for debating what planning is and should be for in how we plan cities and regions The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Regional Studies

Sustainable Development in Mountain Regions Georgi Zhelezov, 2016-01-11 This second edition of the book Sustainable Development of Mountain Regions Southeastern Europe integrates the scientific results and expertise of the researchers from the countries in Southeastern Europe The book consists of updated information for the topics observed in first edition and several new chapters with analysis of some problems in the mountain regions of four new for the edition countries in Southeastern European space The general themes in the book are related to Global problems and mountain regions Nature resources and land use in mountain regions Social economic and regional problems of mountain regions Nature protection conservation and monitoring and Networks and strategies for mountain regions The key topics for discussion are Natural resources and land use in mountain regions Sustainable social and economic development of the mountain regions Natural disasters and risk prevention Spatial modeling and planning Nature protection monitoring and conservation Politics and sustainable practices for development of mountain regions Transborder and regional cooperation Mountain regions in Southeastern Europe are characterized by unique landscape and biological diversity and great economic potential They have function as a living space and provide different groups of ecosystem and landscape services In social and economic aspects these regions are one of the poorest in Southeastern European countries with unused potential Human ecological and economic problems arising in various mountain regions have the same basic characteristics irrespective of the country Some mountain regions are subject to specific for the conditions of the mountain and country policy for planning development and mountain population promotion The general goal is development of whole economy and the efficient management of natural resources and prevention of natural and technological disasters The mountain regions are one of the most threatened landscape systems in Southeastern Europe Understanding the importance of the mountain regions and conservation of the natural heritage require scientific and institutional cooperation at all levels

Fuzzy Planning Gert de Roo, Geoff Porter, 2016-04-15 Many of the key notions associated with spatial planning are essentially fuzzy in their nature For example while almost everyone accepts sustainability as an important goal of planning the actions of the actors involved can render the achieved sustainability minimal or even counterproductive Putting forward an innovative way of looking at planning problems and policies this volume suggests actor consulting is important in addressing the fuzzy nature of planning A tool to address differences in understanding actor consulting is based on an analysis of actor motives perceptions and contributions By inviting all actors to express their desired actual and potential contributions to achieving an agreed outcome to a local policy issue decision makers have a means to develop their goals in line with the roles motivation perception and behaviour of the various actors involved Including contributions from Patsy Healy Johan Woltjer Don Miller and Karel Martens the book presents a variety of case studies which demonstrate the use of the actor consulting model in addressing planning issues

Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK, Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2006-10-16 This revised fourteenth edition reinforces this title's reputation as the bible of British planning It provides a thorough explanation of planning processes including the institutions involved tools systems policies and changes to land use

The Theory and Practice of Strategic Environmental Assessment Thomas B Fischer, 2010-09-23 Anyone serious about integrating environmental factors into planning and policy making will gain new insights and ideas from Fischers book on SEA and students teachers and practitioners of the subject will find the book essential Leonard Ortolano Professor at Stanford University USA Fischers book demystifies the process and substantive analytical dimensions of SEA Offering solidly documented empirical evidence of the value of SEA to development the knowledge captured in this book is a great contribution to the practice Linda Ghanime Environmental Operations and Policy Adviser United Nations Development Program This book is an invaluable reference text for SEA practitioners I recommend it to everyone Xu He Professor and Director of the Strategic Environmental Assessment Center at Nankai University China Fischer gives a concise and wellstructured account of SEA as it is used today Readers thus will gain important insights into SEA why it is important how it works and what it can and should achieve Professor Thomas Bunge Federal Environment

Agency Germany Strategic Environmental Assessment SEA is a fast growing and rapidly evolving professional field driven by both advances in theory and practice and by regulatory requirements in Europe North America Australasia South Africa and increasingly across Asia However to date analysis of existing practice and associated reporting has remained far from systematic and there has been a clear need for a comprehensive textbook to facilitate teaching learning and practice in this burgeoning field This textbook the first of its kind provides for a state of the art review of SEA theory and practice and promotes a more systematic approach to SEA It is written for a wide student professional and academic audience and aims particularly at supporting the development of SEA modules in undergraduate and postgraduate planning environmental assessment engineering and law courses It provides an overview of the fundamental principles and rules of SEA reports systematically on international SEA practice and theory and pushes the envelope by developing the theory Supporting material includes boxed examples and case studies from around the world extra reading suggestions and a glossary of terms This is the essential book for all students professionals and academics in SEA and EIA and follow up worldwide

Devolution, Regionalism and Regional Development , Landscape and Sustainability John Benson, Maggie Roe, 2007-08-07 This unique book addresses the issue of sustainability from the point of view of landscape architecture dealing with professional practices of planners designers and landscape managers This second edition contains updated and new material reflecting developments during the last five years and comprehensively addresses the relationship between landscape architecture and sustainability Much in the text is underpinned by landscape ecology in contrast to the idea of landscape as only appealing to the eye or aspiring cerebrally to be fine art Landscape and Sustainability establishes that the sustainability agenda needs a new mindset among professionals the driving question must always be is it sustainable Developing theory into practice from the global to the local scale and from issues of policy and planning through to detailed design and implementation and on to long term maintenance and management the contributors raise and re examine a complex array of research policy and professional issues and agendas to contribute to the necessary ongoing debate about the future of both landscape and sustainability
