Regulation of Financial Institutions Howell E. Jackson, Edward L. Symons, 1999 This casebook on regulations of financial institutions reflects a financial industry that has become increasingly integrated in the last 20 years It brings together materials that traditionally have been covered in separate courses on banking law insurance law securities regulation mutual funds and pensions

When Insurers Go Bust Guillaume Plantin, Jean-Charles Rochet, 2016-06-28 In the 1990s large insurance companies failed in virtually every major market prompting a fierce and ongoing debate about how to better protect policyholders Drawing lessons from the failures of four insurance companies When Insurers Go Bust dramatically advances this debate by arguing that the current approach to insurance regulation should be replaced with mechanisms that replicate the governance of non financial firms Rather than immediately addressing the minutiae of supervision Guillaume Plantin and Jean Charles Rochet first identify a fundamental economic rationale for supervising the solvency of insurance companies policyholders are the bankers of insurance companies But because policyholders are too dispersed to effectively monitor insurers it might be efficient to delegate monitoring to an institution a prudential authority Applying recent developments in corporate finance theory and the economic theory of organizations the authors describe in practical terms how such authorities could be created and given the incentives to behave exactly like bankers behave toward borrowers as tough claimholders

The Development and Regulation of Non-bank Financial Institutions Jeffrey Carmichael, Michael Pomerleano, 2002-01-01 This book aims to create an awareness of the potential of non bank financial institutions NBFIs for developing countries and to assist policy makers in the creation of coherent policy structures and effective regulatory systems for the development of these institutions It considers the essential functions and characteristics of non bank financial institutions and includes chapters on insurance companies mutual funds and pension schemes securities markets and leasing and real estate companies Risk-Based Capital Lawrence D. Cluff,2000 The Economics, Regulation, and Systemic Risk of Insurance Markets Felix Hufeld,Ralph S. J. Koijen,Christian Thimann,2016-10-27 Despite the importance of insurance in enabling individual and collective social economic and financial activities discussions about the macroeconomic role and risks of insurance markets are surprisingly limited This book brings together academics regulators and industry experts to provide a multifaceted array of research and perspectives on insurance its role and functioning and the potential systemic risk it could create The first part discusses the macroeconomic role of insurance and how insurance is different from banking and general finance Understanding the differences between the balance sheets of insurers and other financial intermediaries is essential for understanding the potential differences in risk nature and optimal regulation The second part of the book focuses on the risks managed by the insurance sector and the potential for systemic risk The chapters discuss the risks both on the asset and liability sides of insurers balance sheets The third part of the book covers the impact of regulation on insurance companies Existing regulation is often complex and has a large impact on insurance companies decision making and functioning The chapters also illustrate the unintended consequences of various forms of regulation The book concludes with a summary of a survey that has been conducted in collaboration with McKinsey where insurance executives have been asked about the risks and regulation in the insurance sector The survey provides guidance for future research on insurance markets Restoring Financial Stability New York University Stern School of Business,2009-03-23 An insightful look at how to reform our broken financial system The financial crisis that unfolded in September 2008 transformed the United States and world economies As each day s headlines brought stories of bank failures and rescues government policies drawn and redrawn against the backdrop of an historic Presidential election and solutions that seemed to be discarded almost as soon as they were proposed a group of thirty three academics at New York University Stern School of Business began tackling the hard questions behind the headlines Representing fields of finance economics and accounting these professors led by Dean Thomas Cooley and Vice Dean Ingo Walter shaped eighteen independent policy papers that proposed market focused solutions to the problems within a common framework In December with great urgency they sent hand bound copies to Washington Restoring Financial Stability is the culmination of their work Proposes bold yet principled approaches including financial policy alternatives and specific courses of action to deal with this unprecedented systemic financial crisis Created by the contributions of various academics from New York University s Stern School of Business Provides important perspectives on both the causes of the global financial crisis as well as proposed solutions to ensure it doesn t happen again Contains detailed evaluations and analyses covering many spectrums of the marketplace Edited by Matthew Richardson and Viral Acharya this reliable resource brings together the best thinking of

Biggs,Matthew P. Richardson,2014-04-21 The future of the insurance regulation begins now For those involved with the insurance industry from investment professionals to policy makers and regulators to legislators tremendous change is coming With insurance premiums constituting an ever growing portion of annual U S GDP and provisions of the Dodd Frank Act specifically calling for modernization of insurance regulations the issues at hand are pervasive In Modernizing Insurance Regulation these issues are described against a backdrop of the political and industry discussions that surround insurance regulation and systemic risk Experts Viral V Acharya and Matthew Richardson discuss a variety of issues with top thinkers in the fields of finance derivatives credit risk and banking to bring to light the most germane elements of this ongoing discussion In Modernizing Insurance Regulation Acharya and Richardson call on the expertise of all the relevant stakeholders within government academia and industry to offer a well rounded and independent view of insurance regulation and how the evolution of this key industry affects the U S economy now and in the future Provides an overview of the feasibility of maintaining a state level regulatory structure Offers a view of the issues from top academics industry leaders and state regulators Explores the debate surrounding the insurance industry and systemic risk Provides an in depth look at upcoming changes under the Dodd Frank Act Modernizing Insurance Regulation provides a look into the crucial changes coming to insurance regulation and an overview of how those changes will affect almost everyone

Reinsurance and International Financial Markets Group of Thirty,2006 Underwriting Practice Rosamund Emery,2008 The objective of this unit is to develop knowledge and understanding of the fundamental principles and practices of underwriting practice This is a self study course consisting of the coursebook with updates for 12 months after enrolment further details on updates are included on the title page of the study text Developed to assist you in understanding and learning the exam syllabus the text breaks down the syllabus into concise sections with each chapter containing clearly defined learning outcomes and a series of self test questions The Prudential Regulation of Banks Mathias Dewatripont,Jean Tirole,1994 The Prudential Regulation of Banks applies modern economic theory to prudential regulation of financial intermediaries Dewatripont and Tirole tackle the key problem of providing the right incentives to management in banks by looking at how external intervention by claimholders holders of equity or debt affects managerial incentives and how that intervention might ideally be implemented Their primary focus is the regulation of commercial banks and S Ls but many of the implications of their theory are also valid for other intermediaries such as insurance companies pension funds and securities funds Observing that the main concern of the regulation of intermediaries is solvency the relation between equity debt and asset riskiness the authors provide institutional background and develop a case for regulation as performing the monitoring functions screening auditing covenant writing and intervention that dispersed depositors are unable or unwilling to perform They also illustrate the dangers of regulatory failure in a summary of the S L crisis of the 1980s Following a survey of banking theory Dewatripont and Tirole develop their model of the capital structure of banks and show how optimal regulation can be achieved using capital adequacy requirements and external intervention when banks are violated They explain how regulation can be designed to minimize risks of accounting manipulations and to insulate bank managers from macroeconomic shocks which are beyond their control Finally they provide a detailed evaluation of the existing regulation and of potential alternatives such as rating agencies private deposit insurance and large private depositors They show that these reforms are at best a complement rather than a substitute to the existing regulation which combines capital ratios with external intervention in case of insolvency The Prudential Regulation of Banks is part of the Walras Pareto Lectures from the University of Lausanne
