Reinventing The Forest Industry:

Reinventing the Forest Industry Jean Mater, 1997 Straightforward honest and rational Reinventing the Forest Industry presents a workable plan to bring the forest industry into the environmental culture with a stronger voice in policy discussion It takes the reader from the origins of the environmental philosophy through the development of the present environmental culture and forecasts a vigorous renewed forest industry future based on new agreements and strategic alignments The significance of public perception on management of America s forests runs through each of the eight chapters of Reinventing the Forest Industry The author the highly respected Dr Jean Mater uses the experience of other industries in changing their public image as the springboard for evaluating and enhancing the forest industry s relations with the public Reinventing the Forest Industry, 1999 Forestry in the U.S. South Mason C. Carter, Robert C. Kellison, R. Scott Wallinger, 2015-11-09

During the second half of the twentieth century the forest industry removed more than 300 billion cubic feet of timber from southern forests Yet at the same time partnerships between public and private entities improved the inventory health and productivity of this vast and resilient resource A comprehensive and multilayered history Forestry in the U S South explores the remarkable commercial and environmental gains made possible through the collaboration of industry universities and other agencies This authoritative assessment starts by discussing the motives and practices of early lumber companies which having exhausted the forests of the Northeast by the turn of the twentieth century aggressively began to harvest the virgin pine of the South with production peaking by 1909 The rapidly declining supply of old growth southern pine triggered a threat of timber famine and inspired efforts to regulate the industry By mid century however industrial forestry had its own profit incentive to replenish harvested timber This set the stage for a unique alliance between public and private sectors which conducted cooperative research on tree improvement fertilization seedling production and other practices germane to sustainable forest management By the close of the 1990s concerns about an inadequate timber supply gave way to questions about how to utilize millions of acres of pine plantations approaching maturity No longer concerned with the future supply of raw material and facing mounting global competition the U S pulp and paper industry consolidated restructured and sold nearly 20 million acres of forests to Timber Investment Management Organizations TIMOs and Real Estate Investment Trusts REITs resulting in an entirely new dynamic for private forestry in the South Incomparable in scope Forestry in the U S South spotlights the people and organizations responsible for empowering individual forest owners across the region tripling the production of pine stands and bolstering the livelihoods of thousands of men and women across the South Reinvention of the Forest Service United States. Forest Service, 1994 Reinventing the Hardwood Industry One Company at a Time Jeffrey Lynn Howe, 2007 Redefining Forestry for Effective Livelihoods Prodyut Bhattacharya, 2017-10-23

Forests play a very important part in the rural economy The rural population largely depends on forests for their livelihoods Degradation and deforestation of forests have a negative impact on the rural people They increase suffering and poverty At the same time they pose a serious global environmental threat It is necessary that the livelihood option of rural population is secured while forest resources augmented This can be done through participatory management Redefining Forestry for Effective Livelihoods brings out key issues relevant to forest and livelihood with a special focus on non timber forest produce It gives a detailed analysis about how forests play an important role in maintaining earth s ecosystem and thus the vital balance of flora and fauna The book also discusses the contribution of forests to the national economy It also focuses on emerging research issues arising out of various policies and their impact on the forest dependent poor The book provides the essential findings arguments linkage of forestry sector with other development scenario and the possible way out for the future This comprehensive book is a useful reference for researchers policymakers and development practitioners working in the area of forest and livelihood Re-inventing Forestry Agencies Asia-Pacific Forestry Commission,2008

Reinventing Fire Amory Lovins,2013-10 Oil and coal have built our civilisation created our wealth and enriched the lives of billions Yet their rising costs to our security economy health and environment are starting to outweigh their benefits Moreover the tipping point where alternatives work better and compete purely on cost is not decades in the future it is here and now And that tipping point has become the fulcrum of economic transformation In Reinventing Fire Amory Lovins and the Rocky Mountain Institute offer a new vision to revitalise business models and win the clean energy race not forced by public policy but led by business for long term advantage This independent and rigorous account offers market based solutions integrating transportation buildings industry and electricity It maps pathways for running a 158% bigger US economy in 2050 but needing no oil no coal no nuclear energy one third less natural gas and no new inventions This transition would cost 5 trillion less than business as usual without counting fossil fuels huge hidden costs Whether you care most about profits and jobs or national security or environmental stewardship climate and health Reinventing Fire makes sense It s a story of astounding opportunities for creating the new energy era Publisher description Building a sustainable bioeconomy in Africa through forest products FAO; Dalberg Catalyst.,2024-10-24 The report provides a comprehensive assessment of the current status of Africa s forest and circular bioeconomy and prospective future trends By synthesizing evidence across several studies the report seeks to provide an understanding of the current status of the forest economy in Africa including consumption and production trends sector entry points existing market opportunities challenges lessons learned and gaps as well as impactful investment cases for the forest and circular bioeconomy It also examines future trends and opportunities for the African continent in the forest economy Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia, Volume 4 Ganesh Shivakoti,Rudi Febriamansyah,Yonariza Yonariza,Raza Ullah,2016-10-11 Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Southeast Asia Volumes 1 4 brings together scientific research and policy issues across various topographical area in Asia to provide a comprehensive overview of the issues facing the region The Reciprocal Relationship between Governance of Natural Resources and Socio what has been implemented what the impacts have been and what other options are available In the race to be a developed region many Southeast Asian countries have foregone natural resources through haphazard use As a result the people are faced with numerous environmental challenges particularly deforestation and forest degradation biodiversity loss and ecosystem degradation reduction in soil quality and decreases in the quantity of available water Community based forest management is the involvement of local communities in the protection conservation and management of public forests to prevent degradation through sustainable practices while still responding to the basic social and economic needs of local populations When the people who depend on forest resources for their livelihoods are jointly responsible for managing and protecting them they tend to do so in a more sustainable manner by focusing on the long term benefits rather than the immediate short term gains However when tenure rights are weak unclear or insecure or offer limited benefits people are incited in extracting more immediate benefits resulting in suboptimal forest management and the reduction of carbon stocks Features case studies that cover issues such as rising levels of deforestation forest degradation regional food security ecosystem degradation biodiversity loss conflicts over natural resource use water management issues and impacts on local communities Includes contributions from local researchers who are dealing with these issues first hand and on a daily basis Includes a comparative review on REDD implementation in different communities Focuses on sustainability issues across the region

Community Forestry in Nepal Richard Thwaites, Robert Fisher, Mohan Poudel, 2017-12-11 Community forestry focuses on the link between forest resources and livelihoods and contributes to forest conservation and reforestation It is widespread in Nepal with a very high proportion of the rural population involved and is widely recognized as one of the most successful examples of community forestry in Asia Through a combination of literature reviews and original research this volume explores key experiences and outcomes of community forestry in Nepal over the last four decades as a model for improving forest management and supporting local livelihoods The book takes a critical approach recognizing successes especially in forest conservation and restoration along with mixed outcomes in terms of poverty reduction and benefits to forest users It recognizes the way that community forestry has continued to evolve to meet new challenges including the global challenges of climate change environmental degradation and conservation as well as national demographic and social changes due to large scale labour migration and the growing remittance economy In addition to examining the changes and responses the book explores ways that community forestry in Nepal might move forward Lessons from Nepal have relevance to community forestry and community based approaches to natural resource management around the world that are also experiencing global pressures and opportunities

Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia, Volume 2 Ganesh Shivakoti, Mai Van Thanh, Tran Duc Vien, Stephen J Leisz, 2016-09-01 Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Southeast Asia Volumes 1 4 brings together scientific research and policy issues across various topographical areas in Asia to provide a comprehensive overview of the issues facing the region Upland Natural Resources and Social Ecological Systems in Northern Vietnam Volume 2 provides chapters on natural resource management in northern Vietnam tied together by the concept that participatory local involvement is needed in all aspects of natural resource management The volume examines planning for climate change managing forestland alleviating food shortages living with biodiversity and assessing the development projects and policies being implemented Without the involvement of local communities households and ultimately individual people the needed action will not be effectively taken Upland Natural Resources and Social Ecological Systems in Northern Vietnam Volume 2 goes beyond just Northern Vietnam to address the issue of transboundary natural resource management an issue that Vietnam is dealing with in its relations with northern neighbor China and western neighbor Laos as well as the transboundary water governance between Pakistan and India in south Asia with the hope that some of the lessons learned may one day be useful in the case of Vietnam and its neighbors Provides a multi disciplinary case study into a complex environmental situation involving government institutions planning and practices using northern Vietnam as the focus Covers the issues of natural resource management and biodiversity in depth using international case studies Provides examples of measuring the potential climate change impacts on food security in agricultural regions Examines topics such as planning for climate change managing forestland alleviating food shortages living with biodiversity and assessing development projects and policies Redefining Progress DIANE Publishing Company,1995-11 This report from the state of Minnesota considers how to unify the goals of environmental protection and economic development 105 citizens representing environmental business government and public interests worked in teams and explored seven areas of economic activity and environmental significance agriculture energy forestry manufacturing minerals recreation and settlement Presents the seven separate visions and sets of principles issues and strategies developed by the Minnesota Sustainable Develop Initiative teams Applicable to all states Wisconsin Wood Marketing Bulletin ,1998 Reinventing Rural Gregory M.
