Reinventing Fatherhood Jonathan W. Gould,Robert E. Gunther,1993-05-01

Redefining Fatherhood Nancy E. Dowd,2000-07-01 Most fathers parent less than most mothers Those fathers who do parent equally or more so than mothers are poorly supported by our society For children this means a loss of adult care as well as an ongoing and sharply defined differentiation between fathers and mothers Fathers are not present in children s lives to a significant degree if at all or when they are present they are often rendered socially invisible For many men their parenthood is defined as biological or economic while a minority of men struggle against the presumption that they are not caregivers In Redefining Fatherhood Nancy Dowd argues that this skewed social pattern is mirrored and supported by law Dowd makes the case for reenvisioning fatherhood away from genes and dollars and toward nurture Integrating economic social and legal aspects of fathering she makes the case for focusing on social nurturing behavior as the core meaning of fatherhood In this nuanced and complex analysis she explores the barriers to redefinition including concepts of masculinity the interconnections between fathers and mothers male violence and homophobia Redefining Fatherhood offers a progressive view on how men and society at large can change understandings and practices of fatherhood

New Passages Gail Sheehy, 2011-09-28 THE 1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Millions of readers literally defined their lives through Gail Sheehy's landmark bestseller Passages. Seven years ago she set out to write a sequel but instead she discovered a historic revolution in the adult life cycle. People are taking longer to grow up and much longer to die. A fifty-year-old woman who remains free of cancer and heart disease can expect to see her ninety-second birthday. Men too can expect a dramatically lengthened life span. The old demarcations and descriptions of adulthood beginning at twenty-one and ending at sixty-five are hopelessly out of date. In New Passages Gail Sheehy discovers and maps out a completely new frontier: a Second Adulthood in middle life. Stop and recalculate. Sheehy writes, "Imagine the day you turn forty-five as the infancy of another life. Instead of declining, men and women who embrace a Second Adulthood are progressing through entirely new passages into lives of deeper meaning, renewed playfulness, and creativity beyond both male and female menopause." Through hundreds of personal and group interviews, national surveys of professionals and working-class people, and fresh findings extracted from fifty years of U.S. Census reports, Sheehy vividly dramatizes these newly developing stages. Combining the scholar's ability to synthesize data with the novelist's gift for storytelling, she allows us to make sense of our own lives by understanding others like us. New Passages tells us we have the ability to customize our own life cycle. This groundbreaking work is certain to awaken and permanently alter the way we think about ourselves. SHEEHY CLEARLY STATES IDEAS ABOUT LIFE THAT HAVE NEVER BEFORE BEEN AS CLEARLY STATED. Los Angeles Times Book Review. AN OPTIMISTIC ANALYSIS OF ADULT DEVELOPMENT IN PESSIMISTIC TIMES. It is grounded in the economic and psychological realities that make adult life so complex today. The New York Times Book Review.

Constructing Fatherhood Deborah Lupton, Lesley Barclay, Professor Deborah Lupton, Professor Lesley Barclay, 1997-08-22 It is a very impressive book. Its coverage of contemporary discourses of fatherhood is comprehensive. The theoretical stance is one that allows for complexity and fluidity. The authors write well, making even esoteric sociological and cultural theory accessible. I recommend it. British Journal of Social Work. Constructing Fatherhood provides an analysis of the social, cultural, and symbolic meanings of fatherhood in contemporary western societies. The authors draw on poststructuralist theory to analyze the representation of fatherhood in the expert literature of psychology, sociology, and the health sciences and in popular sources such as television, film, advertisements, and child care and parenting manuals and magazines. Men's own accounts of first-time fatherhood are also drawn upon, including four individual case studies.

The American Father Wade C. Mackey, 2013-06-29 In The American Father Wade C. Mackey documents a wealth of information demonstrating the vast benefits to society when its children are raised in families with fathers. The biopsychosocial approach Mackey in human employs is consistent with the current treatment of topics. development. This approach, which is grounded in a variety of diverse sources, assumes that we understand little about people when we study them a bit at a time rather than the fullness of the individual. requires a fullness of examination. For example, in the cases of fathers, we note that humans do not reproduce alone.

after all we are not an asexual species No human reproduction and its sequelae are social just as clearly as they are biological and involve the whole panoply of psychic function motivation sociability intelligence and the like The evidence marshaled by Mackey indicates strongly that individuals and societies have an essential requirement for something more than mothering they also need fathering Much of the discourse and publication on fathers during the past several decades has been posited on a more is better model of male parenting in which it is seldom stated who it is better for the father the child the mother the couple or the family Further much of this discussion infers that fathers are merely Mr Moms yet this is not so Gender and Power in Eastern Europe Katharina Bluhm, Gertrud Pickhan, Justyna Stypinska, Agnieszka

Wierzcholska, 2020-10-31 This book explores the contradictory development of gender roles in Central and Eastern Europe including Russia In light of the social changes that followed the collapse of communism and the rise of new conservatism in Eastern Europe it studies new forms of gender relationships and reassesses the status quo of female empowerment Moreover leading scholars in gender studies discuss how right wing populism and conservative movements have affected sociopolitical discourses and concepts related to gender roles rights and attitudes and how Western feminism in the 1990s may have contributed to this conservative turn Mainly focusing on power constellations and gender the book is divided into four parts the first explores the history of and recent trends in feminist movements in Eastern Europe while the second highlights the dynamics and conflicts that gained momentum after neoconservative parties gained political power in post socialist countries In turn the third part discusses new empowerment strategies and changes in gender relationships The final part illustrates the identities roles and concepts of masculinity created in the sociocultural and political context of Eastern Europe The

New Fathers? Contemporary American Stories of Masculinity, Domesticity and Kinship Helena Wahlström, 2010-10-12 What do novels such as Annie Proulx's The Shipping News Michael Cunningham's A Home at the End of the World and Jayne Anne Phillips' MotherKind have in common with films such as Smoke and Mrs Doubtfire This study explores the intersection of masculinity and domesticity in contemporary film and literature It argues that these texts produced since the 1990s address with some urgency the notion of new fatherhood in the United States They offer explorations of the idea that American fatherhood around the turn of the twenty first century is changing and they problematize the legitimacy of new fathers and alternative families in a national culture where the old patriarch and the nuclear family still often loom large in the imagination of many Americans The Man Question Nancy E. Dowd, 2010-09-20 Among the many important tools feminist legal theorists have given scholars is that of anti essentialism all women are not created equal and privilege varies greatly by circumstances particularly that of race and class Yet at the same time feminist legal theory tends to view men through an essentialist lens in which men are created equal The study of masculinities inspired by feminist theory to explore the construction of manhood and masculinity questions the real circumstances of men not in order to deny men s privilege but to explore in particular how privilege is constructed and what price is paid for it In this groundbreaking work feminist legal theorist Nancy E Dowd exhorts readers to apply the anti essentialist model so dominant in feminist jurisprudence to the study of masculinities She demonstrates how men s treatment by the law and society in general varies by race economic position sexuality and other factors She applies these insights to both boys and men examining how masculinities analysis exposes both privilege and subordination She examines men s experience of fatherhood and sexual abuse and boys experience in the contexts of education and juvenile justice Ultimately Dowd calls for a more inclusive feminist theory which by acknowledging the study of masculinities can broaden our understanding of privilege and subordination Men and Maternity Rosemary Mander, 2004-08-02 With men becoming increasingly involved in childbearing as obstetricians and more recently as fathers this book considering the findings of recent research and wider literature argues that the beneficial contribution of men has been taken for granted
