Witnessing to Christ Today Daryl M. Balia, Kirsteen Kim, 2010 The Centenary of the World Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh in 1910 is a suggestive moment for many people seeking direction for Christian mission in the twenty first century Since 2005 an international group has worked collaboratively to develop an intercontinental and multid denominational project now known as Edinburgh 2010 and based at New College University of Edinburgh Essential to the work of the Edinburgh 1910 Conference and of abiding value were the findings of the eight think tanks or commissions These inspired the idea of a new round of collaborative reflection on Christian mission but now focused on nine themes identified as being key to mission in the twenty first century The study process is intended to contribute from a research perspective to the aim of Edinburgh 2010 witnessing together to Christ in the twenty first century and to the development of a new vision in terms of God's purposes for creation in Christ and a renewed spirituality and mission ethos in the life of churches worldwide

Witnessing to Christ Today contains a summary of what has been achieved through the study process up to the end of 2009 and forms the preparatory volume for the centenary conference to be held in Edinburgh on 2-6 June 2010. The Pentateuch Prof. Marvin A. Sweeney, 2017-11-07 The Pentateuch in the Core Biblical Studies series introduces the Five Books of Moses: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy. It combines a purely literary approach to reading the final form of the Pentateuch with a historical reading of the text. The literary approach emphasizes the structural role played by the so-called toledoth (generations) formulae that trace the history of humankind from Adam through the ancestors of Israel and finally to Moses and Aaron as the founders of Israel's priesthood. The historical reading of the text challenges the older model of source analysis to argue instead for a model that traces the composition of the Pentateuch from its origins in northern Israel during the 9th-8th centuries B.C.E. through its subsequent editions in Judah during the 8th-7th centuries B.C.E. J and D and finally through the final redaction in the Persian period P. Discussion throughout the volume focuses on how the text presents the origins or early history of Israel and its ideals or how it employs narrative and law to provide the foundations for an ideal national and religious identity. The volume concludes with a brief treatment of how the Pentateuch is read in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam.

Women and Public Life in Early Meiji Japan Mara Patessio, 2011-01-07 Women and Public Life in Early Meiji Japan focuses on women's activities in the new public spaces of Meiji Japan. With chapters on public-private and missionary schools for girls, their students and teachers, on social and political groups, women created on female employment, and on women's participation in print media, this book offers a new perspective on nineteenth and early twentieth-century Japanese history. Women's founding of and participation in conflicting discourses over the value of women in Meiji public life demonstrate that during this period active and vocal women were everywhere that they did not meekly submit to the dictates of the government and intellectuals over what women could or should do and that they were fully integrated in the production of Meiji culture. Mara Patessio shows that the study of women is fundamental not only in order to understand fully the transformations of the Meiji period but also to understand how later generations of women could successfully move the battle forward. Women and Public Life in Early Meiji Japan is essential reading for all students and teachers of 19th and early 20th-century Japanese history and is of interest to scholars of women's history more generally.

Mission Continues Claudia Währisch-Oblau, Fidon Mwombeki, 2010 In May 2009 thirty-five theologians from Asia, Africa, and Europe met in Wuppertal, Germany, for a consultation on mission theology organized by the United Evangelical Mission Communion of 35 Churches in Three Continents. The aim was to participate in the one hundredth anniversary of the Edinburgh conference through a study process and to reflect on the challenges for mission in the twenty-first century. The papers in this book are drawn from those delivered at the Wuppertal consultation In some cases short responses by one or two consultation participants were added to highlight the discussions that followed The conference organizers had decided not to invite renowned experts but to have an open invitation call for papers so practicing mission experts not yet well known would have an opportunity to share their expertise They decided not to predetermine a theme or motto for the consultation but to allow various themes on mission to emerge from the papers themselves and thus to allow wide ranging discussion Indeed the papers were varied each drew strong reactions lively and even controversial debates The conference delegates were able to discover common concerns transcending very different contexts Nevertheless the varied voices collected in this anthology have much in common even where they are most theoretical it is obvious that all contributors come from missionary practice and bring their contextual experiences

Sacred Companions David G. Benner, 2002 An ECPA 2003 Gold Medallion Finalist We need companions on our spiritual journey The modern world has taught us to value autonomy and individualism Our churches often see spirituality as personal and private But we cannot go long in our Christian pilgrimage before realizing that isolation leads to spiritual barrenness We soon discover that our souls long for accompaniment intimacy and spiritual friendship As a result many Christians today are rediscovering the ancient practice of spiritual direction In this inviting guide David G Benner introduces readers to the riches of spiritual friendship and direction explaining what they are and how they are practiced Spiritual direction moves beyond mere moral lifestyle accountability and goes deeper than popular notions of mentoring or discipling Through prayerful guided attunement to God s activity sacred companions provide care for the soul If we are to experience significant spiritual formation and growth our souls must be nurtured through spiritual companions Benner well accustomed to God s work through relationships models the kind of traveling companion who can move us toward deeper intimacy with God

René Padilla,2010-10-04 This revised version includes a new essay on the contemporary history of integral mission a history that began with the Latin American Theological Fellowship progressed within the Lausanne Movement is bearing fruit globally through the Micah Network and challenges evangelicals to address the major issues of our day By almost any measure a bold and confident use of the Bible is a hallmark of Christianity Underlying such use are a number of assumptions about the origin nature and form of the biblical literature concerning its authority diversity and message However a lack of confidence in the clarity or perspicuity of Scripture is apparent in Western Christianity Despite recent sophisticated analyses the doctrine is ignored or derided by many While there is a contemporary feel to these responses the debate itself is not new In this excellent study Mark Thompson surveys past and present objections to the clarity of Scripture expounds the living God as the Guarantor of his accessible written Word engages with the hermeneutical challenges and restates the doctrine for today Voices of a People's History of the United States Howard Zinn,Anthony Arno,2011-01-04 Here in their own words are Frederick Douglass George Jackson Chief Joseph Martin Luther King Jr Plough Jogger Sacco and Vanzetti Patti Smith Bruce Springsteen Mark Twain and Malcolm X to name just a few of the hundreds of voices that appear in Voices of a
