Resurrecting the Mysterious Ingo Swann, 2020-08-19 RE INTERPRETING WHAT IT MEANS TO BE AWAKE The Hidden Revelation a previously unpublished manuscript of Ingo's was discovered by Nick Cook in 2016 in a nondescript folder tucked inconspicuously among some of Ingo's notes Now together with Beyond the Gods Devices another undiscovered manuscript it is published for the first time as Resurrecting The Mysterious a posthumous compilation that delivers what we that is Nick and Swann Ryder Productions LLC offer here as Ingo's grand unified theory of the human experience and in part of consciousness itself This asserts that paranormality is part of an expanded reality set rooted in the relationship between quantum theory us the observer and something infinitely more profound even that is fully described in Beyond the Gods Devices The Hidden Revelation is more concerned with us the immanent experience the inward journey Beyond the Gods Devices with that world whatever that world truly is that binds and connects us to the numinous that which at present science is unable to describe For many it may also make the hard problem of consciousness just that little bit easier to comprehend We certainly hope so

Revising Herself Ruthellen Josselson, 1998-04-23 In 1972 Ruthellen Josselson was a young psychologist fascinated by the riddle of how a woman creates an identity and chooses one path over another in life particularly in the face of the nascent feminist movement which challenged as never before the traditional role models of earlier generations Selecting at random thirty young women in their last year of college Josselson undertook a ground breaking study that would follow these women's personal odysseys over the next twenty two years from graduation to midlife What she learned about the ways women reinvent themselves in an ever changing world is the subject of Revising Herself a myth shattering look at both a unique generation of American women on the front lines of wrenching social change and at the conflicts and compromises facing women today With stunning candor and hard won insight the ordinary and anonymous women in Josselson's study reveal how much more complex and interesting real women's lives are than the one dimensional stereotypes often portrayed in the media Dismissing a traditional stage theory of development as overly simplistic Josselson identifies four trajectories that women take from adolescence to adulthood Guardians are the good girls high achieving and committed to fulfilling their family's expectations but rigid in outlook and resistant to change Pathmakers are not afraid of risk or commitment striving to balance their own needs with others The often idealistic Searchers are overwhelmed by choice and unable to make commitments while Drifters live only for the moment avoiding choice and an exploration of identity Reflecting the degree to which women take risks make choices and form commitments these paths form a foundation for adulthood but they also lead to surprises at midlife Guardians seem strikingly able to cut loose from earlier traditional patterns while many Drifters have found themselves sometimes in quite traditional ways And coming of age just as the feminist movement gathered momentum the women in Josselson's study were the first to confront many contemporary issues not faced by their mothers or their mothers' mothers How does an Irish Catholic contemplate an abortion How does a woman whose parents believe education is wasted on a daughter find the will to apply to medical school In examining these questions and others Josselson shows that the forging of a woman's identity whatever her path is ongoing a balancing of the need for self assertion against the equally compelling need for relationships Women create their identities along the seams of both competence and connection and continually revise what they have made Allowing women to define themselves in their own terms Revising Herself holds up a provocative mirror in which readers can reflect upon their own life choices Whether a Guardian Pathmaker Searcher or Drifter readers will recognize themselves in these women's experiences and gain new insight into how we construct our identities over a lifetime Nazi

Engagements artist and critic Vi t L examines contemporary art in Cambodia and Vi t Nam to rethink the entwinement of militarization trauma diaspora and modernity in Southeast Asian art Highlighting artists tied to Phnom Penh and Si g n and drawing on a range of visual art as well as documentary and experimental films L points out that artists of Southeast Asian descent are often expected to address the twin traumas of armed conflict and modernization and shows how desirable art on these themes is on international art markets As the global art market fetishizes trauma and violence artists strategically align their work with those tropes in ways that L suggests allow them to reinvent such aesthetics and discursive spaces By returning to and refashioning these themes artists such as Tiffany Chung Rithy Panh and Sopheap Pich challenge categorizations of diasporic and local by situating themselves as insiders and outsiders relative to Cambodia and Vi t Nam By doing so they disrupt dominant understandings of place time and belonging in contemporary art Buenas Noches, Broken Irelands Mary M. McGlynn, 2022-10-17 While the national narrative coming out of Ireland since the 2008 economic crisis has been relentlessly sanguine fiction has offered a more nuanced perspective from both well established and emerging authors In Broken Irelands McGlynn examines Irish fiction of the post-crash era addressing the proliferation of writing that downplays realistic and grammatical coherence Noting that these traits have the effect of diminishing human agency blurring questions of responsibility and emphasizing emotion over rationality McGlynn argues that they reflect and respond to social and economic conditions during the global economic crisis and its aftermath of recession austerity and precarity Rather than focusing on overt discussions of the crash and recession McGlynn explores how the dominance of an economic worldview including a pervasive climate of financialized discourse shapes the way stories are told In the writing of such authors as Anne Enright Colum McCann Mike McCormack and Lisa McInerney McGlynn unpacks the ways that formal departures from realism through grammatical asymmetries like unconventional verb tenses novel syntactic choices and reliance on sentence fragments align with a cultural moment shaped by feelings of impotence and rhetorics of personal responsibility

The Erotic Screen Thomas Wolman, 2020-02-29 The Erotic Screen takes as its starting point that Hollywood movies were steeped in eroticism from the beginning but censorship forced filmmakers to devise hidden sexual subtexts to preserve a film's subliminal eroticism In this way Hollywood films seed our collective psyches with unconscious subtexts Science-fiction films are particularly effective using horror to induce sexual excitement as studied in Part I The nature of desire in a trio of science-fiction thrillers Another device was to display unrestricted consumption of alcohol and tobacco and gratuitous spending Today this is a cliché of mainstream cinema but some filmmakers expose the dark underbelly The five films scrutinized in Part II Portraits of addiction in Hollywood melodrama make explicit the connections between greed addictions and sexuality Finally in Part III Perverse desire in mainstream cinema the nuanced position toward the psychosexual obsessions on view in the films is investigated by posing the provocative question of whether S/M practice can work as a cure for psychic suffering by raising the alarm over sexuality run amok in a suburban community and by offering a devastating critique of voyeurism's fatal attraction to viewers The Erotic Screen is an investigation of the nature of human sexuality through the medium of film It stirs up discussion and debate and helps these movies live on in our minds

Psychomagic Alejandro Jodorowsky, 2010-06-18 A healing path using the power of dreams theater poetry and shamanism Shows how psychological realizations can cause true transformation when manifested by concrete poetic acts Includes many examples of the surreal but successful actions Jodorowsky has prescribed to those seeking his help While living in Mexico Alejandro Jodorowsky became familiar with the colorful and effective cures provided by folk healers He realized that it is easier for the unconscious to understand the language of dreams than that of rationality Illness can even be seen as a physical dream that reveals unresolved emotional and psychological problems Psychomagic presents the shamanic and genealogical principles Jodorowsky discovered to create a healing therapy that could use the powers of dreams art and theater to empower individuals to heal wounds that in some cases had traveled through generations The concrete and often surreal poetic actions Jodorowsky employs are part of an elaborate strategy intended to break apart the dysfunctional persona with whom the patient identifies in order to connect with a deeper self That is when true transformation can manifest For a young man who complained that he lived only in his head and was unable to grab hold of reality and advance toward the financial autonomy he desired Jodorowsky gave the prescription to paste two gold coins to the soles of his shoes so that all day he would be walking on gold A judge whose vanity was ruling his every move was given the task of dressing like a tramp and begging outside one of the fashionable restaurants he loved to frequent while pulling glass doll eyes out of his pockets The lesson for him was that if a tramp can fill his pockets with eyeballs then they must be of no value and thus the eyes of others should have no bearing on who you are and what you do Taking his patients directly at their words Jodorowsky takes the same elements associated with a negative emotional charge and recasts them in an action that will make them positive and enable them to pay the psychological debts hindering their lives Women's Studies in the 1990s Joanna de Groot, Mary Maynard, 2016-07-27 This interdisciplinary collection is concerned with important theoretical and methodological issues facing women's studies. Drawing on feminist theory and politics it addresses a range of questions raised for women's studies by work conducted in history, literature, politics and sociology. The editors provide a context for these debates in their introductory essay which gives an overview of the development of women's studies and reflects on its current position. In their concluding chapter they also suggest a framework from which women's studies might move forward.

Paths to Fulfillment Ruthellen Josselson, 2017 Women and identity: The pathmakers A pathmaker and her daughter and a pathmaker who lost her way. The guardians The searchers. The drifters A drifter who created a path. Paths to fulfillment reflections on adult growth and development in women. Afterword Women, America, and Movement Susan L.

Roberson, 1998 Since the colonial days American women have traveled, migrated and relocated, always faced with the challenge of reconstructing their homes for themselves and their families. Women, America, and Movement offers a journey through largely unexplored territory, the experiences of migrating American women. These narratives, both real and imagined, represent a range of personal and critical perspectives. Some of the women describe their travels as expansive and freeing, while others relate the dreadful costs and sacrifices of relocating. Despite the range of essays featured in this study, the writings all coalesce around the issues of politics, poetry and self-identity described by Adrienne Rich as the elements of the politics of location, treated here as the politics of relocation. The narratives featured in this book explore the impact of race, class and sexual economics on migratory women, their self-identity and their roles in family and social life. These issues demonstrate that in addition to geographic place, ideology is itself a space to be traversed. By examining the writings of such women as Louise Erdrich, Zora Neale Hurston and Gertrude Stein, the essayists included in this volume offer a variety of experiences. The book confronts such issues as racist politicking against Native Americans, African Americans and Asian immigrants, sexist attitudes that limit women to the roles of wife, mother and sexual object, and exploitation of migrants from Appalachia and of women newly arrived in America. These essays also delve into the writings themselves by looking at what happens to narrative structure as authors or their characters cross geographic boundaries. The reader sees how women writers negotiate relocation in their texts and how the written word becomes a place where one finds oneself. Psychic
