this groundbreaking work Patrizia Sambuco shows how food imagery in different historical periods challenge established political discourses by conveying unexpressed alternative or transgressive emotions Through literary analysis archival research and philosophical approaches to the senses emotions and food the book considers a variety of authors from the celebrated to the hardly known Sambuco argues that in different ways throughout the decades the conceptual domain of food has helped express forms of selfhood that push the boundaries of womanhood and interact with cultural and political panoramas at national and international levels Building an alternative history of Italian women and their creativity Sambuco shows how the interplay of the senses and emotions becomes a profitable way to illuminate overlooked aspects of women s subjectivity Food and Emotions in Italian Women s Writing ultimately reassesses women s writing giving value to the marginality of women s bodies and positions through the conceptual domain of food Anna Banti and the

(Im)possibility of Love Wissia Fiorucci,2010-07-12 This book looks into Banti s stance on Italian feminism with a specific focus on her interpretation of the concept of equality as well as of sexual difference An analysis of a novel A Piercing Cry 1981 and two short stories The Women Are Dying 1951 and Je vous cris d un pays lointain 1971 explores the aforementioned issues The book also deals to some extent with the most famous of Banti s works the magnum opus Artemisia 1947 Because A Piercing Cry is a source of autobiographical elements which therefore are particularly significant the conclusions drawn from this novel are later applied to The Women Are Dying and Je vous cris d un pays lointain Certainly A Piercing Cry expresses Banti s faith in difference as being that which can preserve woman s identity By declaring I am a woman writer she distances herself from a feminism of equality that not without oscillations she had supported throughout Artemisia In so doing she embraces a feminism of difference by adopting this concept herself Drawing on these considerations the book argues that in both The Women Are Dying and in Je vous cris d un pays lointain Banti intended to support a personally elaborated and ante litteram feminism of difference A Multitude of Women Stefania Lucamante,2008-09-15 A Multitude of Women looks at the ways in which both Italian literary tradition and external influences have assisted Italian women writers in rethinking the theoretical and aesthetic ties between author text and readership in the construction of the novel Stefania Lucamante discusses the valuable contributions that Italian women writers have made to the contemporary novel and illustrates the relevance of the novelistic examples set by their predecessors She addresses various discursive communities reading works by Di Lascia Ferrante Vinci and others with reference to intertextuality and the theories of Elsa Morante and Simone de Beauvoir This study identifies a positive deviation from literary and ideological orthodoxy a deviation that helps give meaning to the Italian novel and to transform the traditional notion of the canon in Italian literature Lucamante argues that this is partly due to the merits of women writers and their ability to eschew obsolete patterns in narrative while favouring forms that are more attuned to the ever changing needs of society She shows that contemporary novels by women authors mirror a shift from previous trends in which the need for female emancipation interfered with the actual literary and aesthetic
