Religion And Change In Contemporary Asia By:

Religion and Change in Contemporary Asia Robert F. Spencer, 1971 Spirited Politics Andrew C. Willford, Kenneth M. George, 2018-05-31 The essays in Spirited Politics throw light on predicaments that spring from the intersection of religion ethnicity and nationalism in contemporary Southeast Asian public life Covering material from Indonesia Malaysia Thailand and the Philippines the contributors explore the calamities and ironies of Southeast Asian identity politics examining the ways in which religion and politics are made to serve each other Digital Culture and Religion in Asia Sam Han, Kamaludeen Mohamed Nasir, 2015-09-16 This book critically analyses the functions and interconnectedness between religion and digital media in a range of East Asian countries It discusses both how religious organizations make use of new technologies and also explores how new technologies are reshaping religion in novel and interesting ways Based on extensive research the book focuses in particular on Christianity in South Korea Neo Shintoism in Japan Falun Gong in China and Islam in Southeast Asia Offering a comparative perspective on a broad range of media practices including video gaming virtual worship social networking and online testimonials the book also investigates the idea that use of technology in itself mirrors religious practices With an analysis of the impact of religion and new technology on national consciousness in a range of geographical locations the authors offer a broadening of the scope of the study of religion culture and media Religion and the Making of Modern East Asia Thomas David DuBois, 2014-05-14 Religion and religious ideas have played a fundamental role in the shaping of Asian history society and cultural practices In this engaging and informative book Thomas David DuBois sets out to explain how religious traditions and philosophies in China and Japan have evolved and intersected since the birth of Confucianism in China and the arrival of Buddhism in Japan Crossing a broad terrain from Tokyo to Tibet the book concentrates on the post fourteenth century when the long lasting political dynasties that transformed the political social and economic institutions of both countries came into being It is these connections that the author is keen to highlight and he does so to effect by using key moments such as the Taiping Uprising and the Boxer Rebellion to underscore the importance of religion in transforming the course of Asian history Contemporary chapters reflect on the wartime deification of the Japanese emperor Marxism as religion and the persecution of the Dalai Lama Religion and Conflict in South and Southeast Asia Linell E. Cady, Sheldon W. Simon, 2006-09-27 A major new contribution to comparative and multidisciplinary scholarship on the alignment of religion and violence in the contemporary world with a special focus on South and Southeast Asia Religion and Conflict in South and Southeast Asia shows how this region is the site of recent and emerging democracies a high degree of religious pluralism the largest Muslim populations in the world and several well organized terrorist groups making understanding of the dynamics of religious conflict and violence particularly urgent By bringing scholars from religious studies political science sociology anthropology and international relations into conversation with each other this volume brings much needed attention to the role of religion in fostering violence in the region and addresses strategies for its containment or resolution The dearth of other literature on the intersection of religion politics and violence in contemporary South and Southeast Asia makes the timing of this book particularly relevant This book will of great interest to advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Asian politics security studies and conflict studies

Inside Southeast Asia Niels Mulder, 2000 Written for both general readers and specialists this book explores how modern urban Southeast Asians view and manage their social life By comparing the ways they live with their religious representations with intimate and more distant others and with their rapidly changing environment the author demonstrates the marked similarities in the perception of individual and society in three civilizations along the inner littoral of Southeast Asia irrespective of the great religious diversity that appears to characterize the region

Media and the Transformation of Religion in South Asia Lawrence A. Babb, Susan S. Wadley, 2016-11-11 This volume explores the effects of the religious transformation taking place in India as sacred symbols assume the shapes of media images Lifted from their traditional forms and contexts many religious symbols beliefs and practices are increasingly refracted through such media as god posters comic books audio recordings and video programs The ten original essays here examine the impact on India's traditional social and cultural structures of printed images audio recordings film and video Contributors Lawrence A Babb Steve Dern John Stratton Hawley Stephen R Inglis John T Little Philip Lutgendorf Scott L Marcus Frances W Pritchett Regula Burckhardt Qureshi H Daniel Smith and Susan S Wadley

The Politics of Religion in South and Southeast Asia Ishtiaq Ahmed, 2011-05-04 The notion of a politics of religion refers to the increasing role that religion plays in the politics of the contemporary world This book presents comparative country case studies on the politics of religion in South and South Asia including India Pakistan and Indonesia The politics of religion calls into question the relevance of modernist notions of secularism and democracy with the emphasis instead on going back to indigenous roots in search of authentic ideologies and models of state and nation building Within the context of the individual countries chapters focus on the consequences that politics of religion has on inclusive nation building democracy and the rights of individuals minorities and women The book makes a contribution to both the theoretical and conceptual literature on the politics of religion as well as shed light on the implications and ramifications of the politics of religion on contemporary South Asian and South East Asian countries It is of interest to students and scholars of South and South East Asian Studies as well as Comparative Politics

Religion and Nationalism in Southeast Asia Joseph Chinyong

Liow,2016-08-19 Religion and nationalism are two of the most potent and enduring forces that have shaped the modern world Yet there has been little systematic study of how these two forces have interacted to provide powerful impetus for mobilization in Southeast Asia a region where religious identities are as strong as nationalist impulses At the heart of many religious conflicts in Southeast Asia lies competing conceptions of nation and nationhood identity and belonging and loyalty and legitimacy In this accessible and timely study Joseph Liow examines the ways in which religious identity nourishes collective consciousness of a people who see themselves as a nation perhaps even as a constituent part of a nation but anchored in shared faith Drawing on case studies from across the region Liow argues that this serves both as a vital element of identity and a means through which issues of rights and legitimacy are understood

Heritage and Religion in East

Asia Shu-Li Wang,Michael Rowlands,Yujie Zhu,2020-12-29 Heritage and Religion in East Asia examines how religious heritage in a mobile way plays across national boundaries in East Asia and in doing so the book provides new theoretical insights into the articulation of heritage and religion Drawing on primary comparative research carried out in four East Asian countries much of which was undertaken by East Asian scholars the book shows how the inscription of religious items as Heritage has stimulated cross border interactions among religious practitioners and boosted tourism along modern pilgrimage routes Considering how these forces encourage cross border links in heritage practices and religious movements in China Taiwan South Korea and Japan the volume also questions what role heritage plays in a region where Buddhism Taoism and other various folk religious practices are dominant Arguing that it is diversity and vibrancy that makes religious discourse in East Asia unique the contributors explore how this particularity both energizes and is empowered by heritage practices in East Asia Heritage and Religion in East Asia enriches understanding of the impact of heritage and religious culture in modern society and will be of interest to academics and students working in heritage studies anthropology religion and East Asian studies

Women and Asian Religions Zayn R.

Kassam,2017-06-22 Covering eclectic topics ranging from South Asian religion to motherhood to world dance to ethnomusicology this book focuses on contemporary selected experiences of women and how their lives interface with religion Religion has often been perceived as the source of constriction for women's roles in society This volume explores how modern women across Asia are mobilizing their faith traditions to address existential issues encountered in both the public and private realms relating to economics public participation politics and culture As such it is revealed that religion can be a powerful force for social change and ameliorating women's lives despite use of religious doctrine in the past to limit women Editor Zayn R Kassam PhD and the contributors cover not only the commonly considered Asian traditions of Hinduism Islam and Buddhism but also Christianity Judaism Bahai and indigenous traditions The book reveals that the challenges and opportunities Asian women face arise both from within and outside whether in terms of developments within their countries or in relation to international political and economic regimes The chapters explore how the issues Asian women face have as much to do with cultural and religious codes as they do with politics economics education and the law consider the varying ways in which family and motherhood are affected by the state's construction of the gendered citizen by social constructs of motherhood and by policies regarding women and children's access to health care and identify the roles played by religion and spirituality in these circumstances The Emergence of Modern Hinduism Richard S.

Weiss,2019-08-06 A free open access ebook is available upon publication Learn more at www.luminoso.org The Emergence of Modern Hinduism argues for the importance of regional vernacular innovation in processes of Hindu modernization Scholars usually trace the emergence of modern Hinduism to cosmopolitan reform movements producing accounts that overemphasize the centrality of elite religion and the influence of Western ideas and models In this study the author considers religious change on the margins of colonialism by looking at an important local figure the Tamil Shaiva poet and mystic Ramalinga Swami 1823 1874 Weiss narrates a history of Hindu modernization that demonstrates the transformative role of Hindu ideas models and institutions making this text essential for scholarly audiences of South Asian history religious studies Hindu studies and South Asian studies Religious Commodifications in Asia Pattana Kitiarsa,2007-11-09 This book addresses the growing academic concerns of the market religion convergences in Asia Bringing together a group of leading scholars from Asia Europe Australia and North America it discusses multiple issues regarding religious commodifications and their consequences across Asia's diverse religious traditions Covering key issues in the anthropology and sociology of contemporary Asian religion it draws theoretical implications for the study of religions in the light of the shift of religious institutions from traditional religious beliefs to material prosperity The fact that religions compete with each other in a market of faiths is also at the core of the analysis The contributions show how ordinary people and religious institutions in Asia adjusted to and negotiated with the penetrative forces of a global market economy into the region's changing religious cultural landscapes An excellent contribution to the growing demands of ethnographically and theoretically updated interpretations of Asian religions Religious Commodifications in Asia will be of interest to scholars of Asian religion and new religious movements Everyday Islamic Law and the Making of Modern South Asia Elizabeth Lhost,2025-02-20

Beginning in the late eighteenth century British rule transformed the relationship between law society and the state in South Asia. But qazis and muftis alongside ordinary people without formal training in law fought back as the colonial system in India sidelined Islamic legal experts. They petitioned the East India Company for employment, lobbied imperial legislators for recognition and built robust institutions to serve their communities. By bringing legal debates into the public sphere they resisted the colonial state's authority over personal law and rejected legal codification by embracing flexibility and possibility. With postcards, letters and telegrams they made everyday Islamic law vibrant and resilient and challenged the hegemony of the Anglo-Indian legal system. Following these developments from the beginning of the Raj through independence, Elizabeth Lhost rejects narratives of stagnation and decline to show how an unexpected coterie of scholars, practitioners and ordinary individuals negotiated the contests and challenges of colonial legal change. The rich archive of unpublished fatwa files, qazi notebooks and legal documents they left behind chronicles their efforts to make Islamic law relevant for everyday life even beyond colonial courtrooms and the confines of family law. Lhost shows how ordinary Muslims shaped colonial legal life and how their diversity and difference have contributed to contemporary debates about religion, law, pluralism and democracy in South Asia and beyond.

Spaces of Religion in Urban South Asia István Keul, 2021-02-25. This book explores religion in various spatial constellations in South Asian cities including religious centres such as Varanasi, Madurai and Nanded and cities not readily associated with religion such as Mumbai and Delhi. Contributors from different disciplines discuss a large variety of urban spaces: physical and imagined, institutional and residential, built and landscaped, virtual and mediated, historical and contemporary. In doing so, the book addresses a wide range of issues concerning the role of religion in the dynamic interplay of factors which characterise complex urban social spaces. Chapters incorporate varying degrees and forms of the religious, spiritual, ranging from invisible and incorporeal to material and explicit, embedded in and expressed as spatial politics, works of fiction, mission, pilgrimage, festivals and everyday life. Topics examined include conflictual situations involving places of worship in Delhi, inclusive religious practices in Kanpur, American Protestant mission in Madurai, the celebration of the Prophet's birthday in Lahore, gardens as imaginative spaces, the politics of religion in Varanasi and many others. Illustrating and analysing ways and forms in which religion persists in South Asian urban contexts, this book will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of cultural studies, the study of religions, urban studies and South Asian studies.

Islam in Southeast Asia Norshahril Saat, 2018-05-30. Islam in the Malay world of Southeast Asia or Islam Nusantara as it has come to be known, had for a long time been seen as representing the more spiritual and Sufi dimension of Islam, thereby striking a balance between the exoteric and the esoteric. This image of the smiling face of Islam has been disturbed during the last decades with increasing calls for the implementation of Shari'ah conceived of in a narrow manner, intolerant discourse against non-Muslim communities and hate speech against minority Muslims such as the Shi'ites. There has also been what some have referred to as the Salafization of Sunni Muslims in the region. The chapters of this volume are written by scholars and activists from the region who are very perceptive of such trends in Malay world Islam and promise to improve our understanding of developments that are sometimes difficult to grapple with Professor Syed Farid Alatas

Department of Sociology Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences National University of Singapore Religion in Contemporary China
Adam Yuet Chau, 2010-12-21 This book provides a wide ranging and in depth survey of contemporary religious practices in China It explains how recent economic reforms and concurrent relaxation of religious polices have created fertile ground for the revitalization of a wide range of religious practices and relates this to larger issues of social and cultural continuity and change
