Religion And Its Effect Upon Human Evolution:

Religion in Human Evolution Robert N. Bellah, 2017-05-08 This ambitious book probes our biological past to discover the kinds of lives that human beings have imagined were worth living Bellah's theory goes deep into cultural and genetic evolution to identify a range of capacities communal dancing storytelling theorizing whose emergence made religious development possible in the first millennium BCE

Evolution, Chance, and God Brendan Sweetman, 2015-10-22 Evolution Chance and God looks at the relationship between religion and evolution from a philosophical perspective This relationship is fascinating complex and often very controversial involving myriad issues that are difficult to keep separate from each other Evolution Chance and God introduces the reader to the main themes of this debate and to the theory of evolution while arguing for a particular viewpoint namely that evolution and religion are compatible and that contrary to the views of some influential thinkers there is no chance operating in the theory of evolution a conclusion that has great significance for teleology One of the main aims of this book is not simply to critique one influential contemporary view that evolution and religion are incompatible but to explore specific ways of how we might understand their compatibility as well as the implications of evolution for religious belief This involves an exploration of how and why God might have created by means of evolution and what the consequences in particular are for the status of human beings in creation and for issues such as free will the objectivity of morality and the problem of evil By probing how the theory of evolution and religion could be reconciled Sweetman says that we can address more deeply key foundational questions concerning chance design suffering and morality and God's way of acting in and through creation

Religious Affects Donovan O. Schaefer, 2015-11-13 In Religious Affects Donovan O Schaefer challenges the notion that religion is inextricably linked to language and belief proposing instead that it is primarily driven by affects Drawing on affect theory evolutionary biology and poststructuralist theory Schaefer builds on the recent materialist shift in religious studies to relocate religious practices in the affective realm an insight that helps us better understand how religion is lived in conjunction with systems of power To demonstrate religion's animality and how it works affectively Schaefer turns to a series of case studies including the documentary Jesus Camp and contemporary American Islamophobia Placing affect theory in conversation with post Darwinian evolutionary theory Schaefer explores the extent to which nonhuman animals have the capacity to practice religion linking human forms of religion and power through a new analysis of the chimpanzee waterfall dance as observed by Jane Goodall In this compelling case for the use of affect theory in religious studies Schaefer provides a new model for mapping relations between religion politics species globalization secularism race and ethics

Evolutionary Religion J. L. Schellenberg, 2015-06 J L Schellenberg articulates and defends a simple but revolutionary idea we are still at a very early stage in the possible history of intelligent life on our planet and should frame our religious attitudes accordingly Humans have begun to adapt to a deep past one measured in billions of years not thousands But we have not really noticed how thin is the sliver of past time in which all of our religious life is contained And the eons that may yet see intelligent life have hardly started to come into focus When these things are internalized our whole picture of religion may change For then we will for the first time be in a position to ask Might there be a form of religion appropriate to such an early stage of development as our own Might such evolutionary religion be rather different from the forms of religion we see all around us today And might it be better fitted to meet the demands of reason Though most concerned simply to get a new discussion going Evolutionary Religion maintains that the answer is in each case yes When the light of deep time has fully been switched on a new form of skepticism but at the same time new possibilities of religious life will come into view We will find ourselves drawn to religious attitudes that while not foregoing the idea of a transcendent ultimate manage to do without believing and without details As Schellenberg reveals pursuing evolutionary religion instead of embracing a scientific naturalism is something that can rationally be done even if traditional religious belief is placed out of bounds by argument And ironically it is science that should help us see this Indeed in a new cultural dispensation evolutionary religion may come to be a preferred option among those most concerned for our intellectual enrichment and for our survival into the deep future

The Emergence of Religion in Human Evolution Margaret Boone Rappaport, Christopher J.

Corbally, 2019-12-09 Religious capacity is a highly elaborate neurocognitive human trait that has a solid evolutionary foundation This book uses a multidisciplinary approach to describe millions of years of biological innovations that eventually give rise to the modern trait and its varied expression in humanity's many religions The authors present a scientific model and a central thesis that the brain organs networks and capacities that allowed humans to survive physically also gave our species the ability to create theologies find sustenance in religious practice and use religion to support the social group Yet the trait of religious capacity remains non obligatory like reading and mathematics The individual can choose not to use it The approach relies on research findings in nine disciplines including the work of countless neuroscientists paleoneurologists archaeologists cognitive scientists and psychologists This is a cutting edge examination of the evolutionary origins of humanity's interaction with the supernatural It will be of keen interest to academics working in Religious Studies Neuroscience Cognitive Science Anthropology Evolutionary Biology and Psychology

The Reluctant Mr. Darwin: An Intimate Portrait of Charles Darwin and the Making of His Theory of Evolution (Great Discoveries) David

Quammen, 2007-07-17 Quammen brilliantly and powerfully re creates the 19th century naturalist's intellectual and spiritual journey Los Angeles Times Book Review Twenty one years passed between Charles Darwin's epiphany that natural selection formed the basis of evolution and the scientist's publication of On the Origin of Species Why did Darwin delay and what happened during the course of those two decades The human drama and scientific basis of these years constitute a fascinating tangled tale that elucidates the character of a cautious naturalist who initiated an intellectual revolution

Evolution, Religion, and Cognitive Science Fraser Watts, Léon P. Turner, 2014 This evolutionary cognitive science of religion is concerned specifically with exploring the relationship between the evolution of the human mind the evolution of culture in general and the origins and subsequent development of religion This volume brings together specialists from different disciplines to reflect on these questions The Just Law of Compensation S. R. Parchment,1996-09 1902 Contents Foreword General Discussion on the Law of Compensation Religion a Consideration of the Law of Mind a Narrative of Personal Experiences with the Law Religion Explained Pascal Boyer,2007-03-21 Many of our questions about religion says the internationally renowned anthropologist Pascal Boyer were once mysteries but they no longer are we are beginning to know how to answer questions such as Why do people have religion and Why is religion the way it is Using findings from anthropology cognitive science linguistics and evolutionary biology Boyer shows how one of the most fascinating aspects of human consciousness is increasingly admissible to coherent naturalistic explanation And Man Creates God tells readers for the first time what religious feeling is really about what it consists of and how it originates It is a beautifully written very accessible book by an anthropologist who is highly respected on both sides of the Atlantic As a scientific explanation for religious feeling it is sure to arouse controversy Cultural Evolution Peter J. Richerson,Morten H. Christiansen,2013-11-01 Leading scholars report on current research that demonstrates the central role of cultural evolution in explaining human behavior Over the past few decades a growing body of research has emerged from a variety of disciplines to highlight the importance of cultural evolution in understanding human behavior Wider application of these insights however has been hampered by traditional disciplinary boundaries To remedy this in this volume leading researchers from theoretical biology developmental and cognitive psychology linguistics anthropology sociology religious studies history and economics come together to explore the central role of cultural evolution in different aspects of human endeavor The contributors take as their guiding principle the idea that cultural evolution can provide an important integrating function across the various disciplines of the human sciences as organic evolution does for biology The benefits of adopting a cultural evolutionary perspective are demonstrated by contributions on social systems technology language and religion Topics covered include enforcement of norms in human groups the neuroscience of technology language diversity and prosociality and religion The contributors evaluate current research on cultural evolution and consider its broader theoretical and practical implications synthesizing past and ongoing work and sketching a roadmap for future cross disciplinary efforts Contributors Quentin D Atkinson Andrea Baronchelli Robert Boyd Briggs Buchanan Joseph Bulbulia Morten H Christiansen Emma Cohen William Croft Michael Cysouw Dan Dediu Nicholas Evans Emma Flynn Pieter Francois Simon Garrod Armin W Geertz Herbert Gintis Russell D Gray Simon J Greenhill Daniel B M Haun Joseph Henrich Daniel J Hruschka Marco A Janssen Fiona M Jordan Anne Kandler James A Kitts Kevin N Laland Laurent Lehmann Stephen C Levinson Elena Lieven Sarah Mathew Robert N McCauley Alex Mesoudi Ara Norenzayan Harriet Over Juergen Renn Victoria Reyes Garcia Peter J Richerson Stephen Shennan Edward G Slingerland Dietrich Stout Claudio Tennie Peter Turchin Carel van Schaik Matthijs

Van Veelen Harvey Whitehouse Thomas Widlok Polly Wiessner David Sloan Wilson Evolution and Belief Robert J. Asher, 2012-02-23 Asher draws on his experiences as a paleontologist and a religious believer arguing that science does not contradict religious belief Religion and the Philosophy of Life Gavin Flood, 2019-01-10 Religion and the Philosophy of Life considers how religion as the source of civilization transforms the fundamental bio sociology of humans through language and the somatic exploration of religious ritual and prayer Gavin Flood offers an integrative account of the nature of the human based on what contemporary scientists tell us especially evolutionary science and social neuroscience as well as through the history of civilizations Part one contemplates fundamental questions and assumptions what the current state of knowledge is concerning life itself what the philosophical issues are in that understanding and how we can explain religion as the driving force of civilizations in the context of human development within an evolutionary perspective It also addresses the question of the emergence of religion and presents a related study of sacrifice as fundamental to religions views about life and its transformation Part two offers a reading of religions in three civilizational blocks India China and Europe the Middle East particularly as they came to formation in the medieval period It traces the history of how these civilizations have thematised the idea of life itself Part three then takes up the idea of a life force in part three and traces the theme of the philosophy of life through to modern times On the one hand the book presents a narrative account of life itself through the history of civilizations and on the other presents an explanation of that narrative in terms of life The Scientific Monthly James McKeen Cattell, 1925 Religion as Magical Ideology Konrad Talmont-Kaminski, 2014-10-20 Religion as Magical Ideology examines the relationship between rationality and supernatural beliefs arguing that such beliefs are products of evolution cognition and culture The book does not offer a false rapprochement between reason and religion instead it explores their interrelationship as a series of complex adaptations between cognitive and cultural processes Exploring the nature of the tension between religious traditions and reason Religion as Magical Ideology develops a dual inheritance theory of religion which combines the cognitive byproduct and prosocial adaptation accounts and analyses the connection between the function of a belief and the degree of protection it gets from potential counter evidence With discussion ranging from individual cognitive mechanisms general functional considerations to the limits of evolutionary and cognitive processes the book offers readers a systematic account of how cognition shapes religious beliefs and practices The Biological Evolution of Religious Mind and Behavior Eckart Voland, Wulf Schiefenhövel, 2009-08-12 In a Darwinian world religious behavior just like other behaviors is likely to have undergone a process of natural selection in which it was rewarded in the evolutionary currency of reproductive success This book aims to provide a better understanding of the social scenarios in which selection pressure led to religious practices becoming an evolved human trait i e an adaptive answer to the conditions of living and surviving that prevailed among our prehistoric ancestors This aim is pursued by a team of expert authors from a range of disciplines Their contributions examine the relevant physiological emotional cognitive and social processes The resulting understanding of the functional interplay of these processes gives valuable insights into the biological roots and benefits of religion The Axial Age and Its Consequences Robert N. Bellah,Hans Joas,2012-10-31 This book makes the bold claim that intellectual sophistication was born worldwide during the middle centuries of the first millennium bce From Axial Age thinkers we inherited a sense of the world as a place not just to experience but to investigate envision and alter A variety of utopian visions emerged and led to both reform and repression The Axial Age and Its Consequences Robert N.

Evolution of God Leonardo Wolfe,2021-02-24 This debut book boldly seeks to argue competitively in the same intellectual field as famous atheists such as RICHARD DAWKINS CHRISTOPHER HITCHENS and BERTRAND RUSSELL and to do so in the spirit and style of such famous Christian apologists as C S Lewis and RAVI ZACHARIAS drawing heavily on basic science history physics psychology paleontology anthropology archeology neurology child development and even science fiction It describes the evolution of the human brain in ancient hominids allowing humans to eventually conceive a non physical realm the spirit world and as the mind evolved intellectually from primitive animism to Christology God revealed himself gradually as the developing hominid brain became able to comprehend new ideas For Believers the author presents a new intellectually satisfying way to understand and defend the Bible For both Skeptics and Believers a worldview is offered that is spiritually meaningful and scientifically sound Revising Cognitive and Evolutionary Science of Religion Konrad Szocik,Hans Van

Eyghen,2021-01-12 This unique and pioneering book critically appraises current work from both the cognitive science of religion and the evolutionary study of religion It addresses the question Why does the believer possess supernatural or religious beliefs in the combined context of his cognitive biases their adaptive usefulness measured in terms of survival and reproduction and the impact of social learning and cultural traits The authors outlines a pluralistic approach to the study of religion that does not treat religion as an accidental by product but an adaptation selected by natural selection Chapters discuss the role of religious components for the evolution of cooperation and altruism and explore the development of atheism and secular ideas in cognitive and evolutionary terms Topics such as the usefulness of religion the transmission of religious beliefs and a Darwinian approach to religion are among those addressed Contrary to standard views religious biases are regarded as shaped by cultural influences and not merely by natural dispositions This monograph will particularly appeal to researchers who are looking for a scientific explanation of religion and religious beliefs but who do not stop at the level of narrow cognitive and evolutionary accounts The work will also be of interest to students of philosophy sociology religious studies theology or anthropology who seek to explain such fascinating complex and unequivocal phenomena as religion and religious components Sociology and the World's Religions M. Hamilton,1998-08-09 Sociological and related studies of systems of religion tend to be fragmented This book brings together and assesses a diverse range of substantive sociological anthropological and social psychological scholarship dealing with the broad spectrum of religious belief experience and behaviour from the work of anthropologists on the religions of tribal and pre industrial peoples to explorations of the origins development and impact of the great world religions The book will have particular appeal not only in the fields of sociology social anthropology but also religious studies
