Regional Directory of Minority- and Women-Owned Business Firms, 1990 ,1994-05 World Development Report 2006 World Bank,2005-09-28 The World Development Report 2006 Equity and Opportunity presents a social development strategy organized around the themes of social inclusion cohesion and accountability It examines equality of opportunities a potentially important factor affecting both the workings of the investment environment and the empowerment of the poor by building on and extending existing accountability frameworks presented in the 2005Report TheReportis divided into three parts Part I describes patterns of inequality in a range of variables both at the national and global level incomes educational achievements health indicators power and influence Part II highlights reasons why some levels of inequality in the variables presented in Part I may be too high whether for intrinsic reasons or because they harm the attainment of competing values such as the level of goods and services in the economy Part III discusses policies that affect the relationship between equity and the development process at a national and global level This section includes policies that could help reduce the levels of some intermediate inequalities and focuses on circumstances in which these policies form the basis for more rapid overall development and faster poverty reduction Now in its twenty eighth edition theWorld Development Reportoffers practical insights for policymakers business developers economic advisers researchers and professionals in the media and in non governmental organizations It is also an essential supplement to economic and development courses in both academic and professional settings Living in the Land of Limbo Carol Levine,2014-03-15 Living in the Land of Limbo is the first anthology of short stories and poems about family caregivers These men and women find themselves in limbo as they struggle to take care of a family member or friend in the uncertain world of chronic illness The authors explore caregivers experiences as they deal with family conflicts the complexities of the health care system and the impact of their choices on their lives and the lives of others The book includes selections devoted to caregivers of aging parents husbands and wives ill children and relatives lovers and friends A final section is devoted to paid caregivers and their clients Among the conditions that form the background of the selections are dementia HIV AIDS mental illness multiple sclerosis and pediatric cancer Many of the authors are well known poets and writers but others have not been published in mainstream media They represent a range of cultural backgrounds Although their works approach caregiving in very different ways the authors share a commitment to emotional truth unvarnished by societal ideals of what caregivers should feel and do These stories and poems paint profoundly moving and revealing portraits of family caregivers

Forest Economics Daowei Zhang, Peter H. Pearse, 2011-09-15 Forestry cannot be isolated from the forces that drive all economic activity It involves using land labour and capital to produce goods and services from forests while economics helps in understanding how this can be done in ways that will best meet the needs of people Therefore a firm grounding in economics is integral to sound forestry policies and practices This book a major revision and expansion of Peter H Pearse's 1990 classic provides this grounding Updated and enhanced with advanced empirical presentation of materials it covers the basic economic principles and concepts and their application to modern forest management and policy issues Forest Economics draws on the strengths of two of the field's leading practitioners who have more than fifty years of combined experience in teaching forest economics in the United States and Canada Its comprehensive and systematic analysis of forest issues makes it an indispensable resource for students and practitioners of forest management natural resource conservation and environmental studies

Innovation, Learning, and Technological Dynamism of Developing Countries Sunil Mani, Henny Romijn, 2004 Development scholars from the Netherlands Germany Australia India and Britain highlight examples of developing countries creating their own technology rather than or often in conjunction with obtaining it from elsewhere as is the usual practice The nine studies were presented at a conference in Maastricht no date is noted Annotation 2004

World Migration Report 2000 International Organization for Migration, United Nations, 2000-01 The purpose of the World Migration Report is to provide an authoritative account of contemporary trends issues and problems in the field of international migration The book is divided into two parts The first examines the scale of migration and characteristics of international migrants the types of movements now underway the factors that contribute to migration the global context in which these movements occur and the policy issues associated with these trends The second part reviews migration trends and recent policy developments in major migration regions of the world In nine separate regional chapters trends in immigration and emigration are examined along with such key issues as the integration of migrants the consequences of irregular migration and the extent of interregional cooperation between states
