Regional Trends 31 1996 Regional Trends 1996:

Trends in Financing Regional Expenditures in Transition Economies Nina Bubnova, Lucan Way, 1998 World Bank Discussion Paper No 378 Since the collapse of the Soviet Union real revenues at the local level in Ukraine have fallen to less than half their former level This report examines key issues faced by regional finance managers confronti Regional Identity and Behavior Max Sugar, 2012-12-06 The author proposes that the four earliest British North American colonies in the United States promoted the development of distinct regional identities and that this cultural legacy affected identity development as well as behavioral patterns differently in each region He compares data from the North American colonies to the situation in England and discovers that the findings in the latter s eight standard regions are very similar to those in the United States The UK Regional-National Economic Problem Philip McCann, 2016-03-10 In recent years the United Kingdom has become a more and more divided society with inequality between the regions as marked as it has ever been In a landmark analysis of the current state of Britain s regional development Philip McCann utilises current statistics examines historical trends and makes pertinent international comparisons to assess the state of the nation The UK Regional National Economic Problem brings attention to the highly centralised top down governance structure that the UK deploys and demonstrates that it is less than ideally placed to rectify these inequalities The North South divide in the UK has never been greater and the rising inequalities are evident in almost all aspects of the economy including productivity incomes employment status and wealth Whilst the traditional economic dominance of London and its hinterland has continued along with relative resilience in the South West of England and Scotland in contrast the Midlands the North of England Northern Ireland and Wales lag behind by most measures of prosperity This inequality is greatly limiting national economic performance and the fact that Britain has a below average standard of living by European and OECD terms has been ignored The UK s economic and governance inequality is unlikely to be fundamentally rebalanced by the current governance and connectivity trends although this definitive study suggests that some areas of improvement are possible if they are well implemented This pivotal analysis is essential reading for postgraduate students in economics and urban studies as well as researchers and policy makers in local and central government Natural Gas ... Issues and Trends , 1998 Regional Social and Economic Trends , 2004 OECD Regional Development Studies How Regions Grow Trends and Analysis OECD, 2009-06-02 This report explores what generates growth at the regional level Based on in depth econometric modelling and analyses this report reframes the debate on regional policy and development emphasising that opportunities for growth exist in all regions Wildlife Resource Trends in the United States Curtis H. Flather, 1999 This report documents trends in wildlife resources for the nation as required by the Renewable Resources Planning Act RPA of 1974 The report focuses on recent historical trends in wildlife as one indicator of ecosystem health across the United States and updates wildlife trends presented in previous RPA Assessments The report also shows short and long term projections of some wildlife for documenting expected trajectories of resource change National trends in four attributes of wildlife resources including habitat population harvest and users set the context within which region specific trends are presented The data for this analysis came largely from information that currently exists within Forest Service and cooperating state and federal agency inventories The report concludes with a synthesis of these trends as they relate to the concept of resource health We highlight those trends that appear to indicate favorable uncertain or degraded resource conditions in an attempt to identify resource situations that warrant policy and management attention

Regional Trends NA NA,2009-06-24 Regional Trends features articles highlighting the wealth of regional information available in the UK It includes research into data sources and statistical tools to aid understanding of the differences and similarities between areas It also contains a data catalogue to signpost users to datasets available online

The Business of Networks Robert Huggins,2018-01-12 This title was first published in 2000 The first book which brings together and interprets both the theoretical concepts associated with the study of networks in the business world and the policy applications being applied to the practical building and development of such networks It maps the changes in the culture of economic development policy that occurred in the UK during the 1990s incorporating a detailed assessment of the contribution that the Training and Enterprise Councils made to business support policies The book is published at a time when network and cluster building has risen to the top of economic development agendas not only in UK but in many countries throughout the world It offers the most detailed insight so far available into the structure motivations and processes involved in developing business networks through institutional intervention The book is relevant to anyone with an interest in business policy and theory

Steering the Metropolis Inter American Development Bank,United Nations Human Settlements Programme,Development Bank of Latin America,2017-10-24 A distinctive feature of urbanization in the last 50 years is the expansion of urban populations and built development well beyond what was earlier conceived as the city limit resulting in metropolitan areas This is challenging the relevance of traditional municipal boundaries and by extension traditional governing structures and institutions Steering the Metropolis Metropolitan Governance for Sustainable Urban Development encompasses the reflections of thought and practice leaders on the underlying premises for governing metropolitan space sectoral adaptations of those premises and dynamic applications in a wide variety of contexts Those reflections are structured into three sections Section 1 discusses the conceptual underpinnings of metropolitan governance analyzing why political technical and administrative arrangements at this level of government are needed Section 2 deepens the discussion by addressing specific sectoral themes of mobility land use planning environmental management and economic production as well as crosscutting topics of metropolitan governance finance and monitoring and evaluation Section 3 tests the concepts and their sectoral adaptations against the practice with cases from Africa America Asia and Europe

Housing Need and the Need for Housing Richard Fordham,Stephen

Finlay,Justin Gardener,Angus Macmillan,Cecilia Muldoon,Geoff Taylor,Gary Welch,2019-05-23 First published in 1998 this book addresses a central issue in housing that of need and how to meet it Need refers either to individual household circumstances or to the aggregate requirement for new social and market housing The book develops a new policy mechanism to address the present fragmented policy situation The mechanism now used to allocate finance and new social housing numbers is complex and ineffective in terms of meeting needs The book s proposals are rooted in clear definitions of the key terms especially that of housing need which suffers from lack of any clear definition The analysis is developed using a large database of survey information covering England and Wales The proposed policy mechanism should be of great interest at a time when radical change to local government are being considered The proposed mechanism would greatly increase value for money of public time and expenditure on planning for social housing

Between Venice and Istanbul Siriol Davies,Jack L. Davis,2007 This book presents 13 studies on different regions of Greece that combine documentary and archaeological evidence to investigate the development of landscapes and sites between 1500 and 1800 A D

Trends in U.S. Coastal Regions, 1970-1998 Addendum to the Proceedings, 'Trends and Future Challenges for U.S. National Ocean and Coastal Policy' August 1999 , The Changing Shape of Work Richard K. Brown,2016-07-27 The contributors provide critical accounts of the transformation of work and employment during the final quarter of the twentieth century They draw on their own and others current research to identify the origins and consequences of these developments and illustrate their impact on society organizations individuals and communities Wide ranging reviews of changes in labour markets and employment practices provide the context for detailed studies including the feminization of work informal working responses to unemployment organizational culture and Total Quality Management

The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman,Angela Hull,2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies
