Regional Development And Planning International Perspectives:

Regional Development and Planning A.R. Kuklinski, 1975-10-31 International Perspectives on Suburbanization N. Phelps, F. Wu, 2011-09-13 New urban developments such as office blocks warehouses and retail complexes are increasingly common in outer city regions across the world This book examines the processes of post suburbanization in international perspective exploring how developments across the world might be considered post suburban International Perspectives on the Belt and Road Initiative Sidh Sintusingha, Hao Wu, Wenqi Lin, Sun Sheng Han, Bo Qin, 2021-05-31 International Perspectives on the Belt and Road Initiative investigates the most significant global scale international trade expansion and capital investment programme since the Second World War This book focusses on the multi national perspectives of the Belt and Road Initiative BRI in order to interrogate the Chinese government's representation of it as a symbol of peace cooperation development and mutual benefit With specific focus on the interrelationship between geopolitics infrastructure investments and urban regional development the book reflects on 12 countries experiences in depth including those of Iran Pakistan Brazil Thailand Indonesia Japan and Ethiopia specifically to their economic development levels political systems power dynamics and socio environmental issues The book clarifies and contributes new knowledge on the nature of BRI concerning its relationship to globalism neo colonialism the notion of developed vs developing countries and their institutions and macro micro benefits and impacts In doing so the book offers a balanced account of the antagonistic geo political narrative of socio political conflict and the collaborative framework of real socio economic flows and development The book will appeal to academics researchers and policy makers with an interest in the BRI and its impacts on politico economic development and urban regional and spatial systems in the Indo Pacific and beyond Regional Development Planning and Practice Mukunda Mishra, R. B. Singh, Andrews José de Lucena, Soumendu Chatterjee, 2021-11-16 This book through a bunch of systematic and analytical notes and scientific commentaries acquaints the readers with the innovative methods of regional development measurement of the development in regional scale regional development models and policy prescriptions Conceptualizing development as a regional process is a geographer's brainchild and the sense of region has long been rooted deeply in the fundamental research practices that geographers are accustomed to The geographical perspective of regions entails conceptualizing them nested horizontally as the formal region and hierarchical relationships in space with spatial flows or interactions as the functional region In geographical research the region works as a tool by serving as a statistical unit of analysis More importantly however regions serve as the fundamental spatial units of management and planning by specifying a territory or a part of it for which a certain spatial development or regulatory plan is sought This book addresses the complex processes in different regions of the world particularly South Asia to perceive the regional development planning involved and the sustainable management practiced there The book is a useful resource for socio economic planners policymakers and policy researchers Urban Planning and the Housing Market Nicole Gurran, Glen Bramley,2017-05-31 This book re examines the role of urban policy and planning in relation to the housing market in an era of global uncertainty and change The relationship between planning and the housing market is a contested problem across research policy and practice Problems with housing supply and affordability in many nations have been linked to planning system constraints while the global financial crisis has raised new questions about the role of urban planning regulation and processes in responding to housing market trends With reference to international cases from the United Kingdom the United States Ireland Hong Kong and Australia the book examines how different systems of urban planning and governance address complex and dynamic housing market trends It also offers practical guidance on how urban planning can support an efficient supply of appropriate and affordable homes in preferred locations A detailed study which explains and decodes the workings of the planning system and housing market this book will be of particular interest to scholars of human geography and urban planning as well as housing policy makers and practitioners To view Nicole Gurran s related TEDx talk please visit Housing Crisis How about housing solutions TEDx Sydney 2018 <http://bit.ly/2psfpMw> Infrastructure Economics and Policy Jose A. Gomez-Ibanez,Zhi Liu,2021-12 In this comparison of infrastructure across countries and sectors leading international academics and practitioners consider the latest approaches to infrastructure policy implementation and finance The book presents evidence based solutions and policy considerations essential concepts and economic theories and a current overview Regional Development George Demko,2017-08-31 Originally published in 1984 This volume brings together papers concerned with the problems of regional development in both Eastern and Western Europe These include regional economic and social inequalities lagging and backward regions and constricted flows of labour This book provides identification comparison analysis and discussion of regional development problems in Eastern and Western Europe It discusses the latest trends in regional policy assesses their effectiveness and puts forward innovative thinking on the various issues and how they should be tackled in future Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil Adams,2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders Universities and Regional Development Rómulo Pinheiro,Paul Benneworth,Glen Alan Jones,2012 Universities are under increasing pressure to help promote socio economic growth in their local communities However until now no systematic critical attention has been paid to the factors and mechanisms that currently make this process so daunting In Universities and Regional Development scholars from Europe the Americas Africa and Asia critically address this knowledge gap focusing on policy organization and the role of individual actors to uncover the challenges facing higher education institutions as they seek to engage with their regions In a systematic and comparative manner this book shows internal and external audiences why how and when the institutionalization of universities third missions should take place and also challenges conventional wisdom about the role of universities in society and the economy demonstrates how institutions in different nations and regions cope with local engagement combines the latest national regional and local research with international perspectives integrates diverse conceptual and disciplinary frameworks Universities and Regional Development is a key resource for researchers and students of higher education and territorial development educational policy makers and university managers seeking to engage with the world beyond their university All the Difference Benjamin Howard Higgins,1992 All the Difference is the story of one man s work in the vast international effort since World War II to raise standards of living in less developed countries an effort in which all member countries of the United Nations have to some extent been involved In the opening chapter Benjamin Higgins recounts how almost by accident he became a development economist at the age of thirty nine and indicates how inadequate the training and experience of the first generation of development economists were for this role

Regulating Coastal Zones Rachelle Alterman,Cygal Pellach,2020-11-26 Regulating Coastal Zones addresses the knowledge gap concerning the legal and regulatory challenges of managing land in coastal zones across a broad range of political and socio economic contexts In recent years coastal zone management has gained increasing attention from environmentalists land use planners and decision makers across a broad spectrum of fields Development pressures along coasts such as high end tourism projects luxury housing ports energy generation military outposts heavy industry and large scale enterprise compete with landscape preservation and threaten local history and culture Leading experts present fifteen case studies among advanced economy countries selected to represent three groups of legal contexts signatories to the 2008 Mediterranean ICZM Protocol parties to the 2002 EU Recommendation on Integrated Coastal Zone Management and the USA and Australia This book is the first to address the legal regulatory aspects of coastal land management from a systematic cross national comparative perspective By including both successful and less effective strategies it aims to inform professionals graduate students policy makers and NGOs of the legal and socio political challenges as well as the better practices from which others could learn Local and Regional Development Andy Pike,Andrés Rodríguez-Pose,John Tomaney,Andres Rodriguez-Pose,2006-11-22 Local and regional development is an increasingly global issue For localities and regions the challenge of enhancing prosperity improving wellbeing and increasing living standards has become acute for localities and regions formerly considered discrete parts of the developed and developing worlds Amid concern over the definitions and sustainability of development a spectre has emerged of deepened unevenness and sharpened inequalities in the development prospects for particular social groups and territories Local and Regional Development engages and addresses the key questions what are the principles and values that shape definitions and strategies of local and regional development What are the conceptual and theoretical frameworks capable of understanding and interpreting local and regional development What are the main policy interventions and instruments How do localities and regions attempt to effect development in practice What kinds of local and regional development should we be pursuing This book addresses the fundamental issues of what kind of local and regional development and for whom frameworks of understanding and instruments and policies It outlines what a holistic progressive and sustainable local and regional development might constitute before reflecting on its limits and political renewal With the growing international importance of local and regional development this book is an essential student purchase illustrated throughout with maps figures and case studies from Asia Europe and Central and North America Spatial Planning and Urban Development Pier Carlo Palermo, Davide

Ponzini, 2010-06-25 Urban planning is a complex field of knowledge and practice Through the decades theoretical debate has formed an eclectic set of possible perspectives without finding in our opinion a coherent paradigmatic framework which can adequately guide the interpretation and action in urban planning The hypothesis of this book is that the attempts of founding an autonomous planning theory are inadequate if they do not explore two interconnected fields architecture and public policies The book critically reviews a selected set of current practices and theoretical founding works of modern and contemporary urban planning by highlighting the continuous search for the epistemic legitimization of a large variety of experiences The distinctive contribution of this book is a documented critique to the eclecticism and abstraction of the main international trends in current planning theory The dialogic relationship with the traditions of architecture and public policy is proposed here in order to critically review planning theory and practice The outcome is the proposal of a paradigmatic framework that in the authors opinion can adequately guide reflections and actions A pragmatic and interpretative heritage and the project orientated approach are the basis of this new spatial planning paradigm Handbook of Research on

E-Planning: ICTs for Urban Development and Monitoring Silva, Carlos Nunes, 2010-05-31 This book provides relevant theoretical perspectives on the use of ICT in Urban Planning as well as an updated account of the most recent developments in the practice of e planning in different regions of the world Provided by publisher Regional Planning and Development in Europe David Shaw, Peter Roberts, 2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2000 Providing a review and assessment of a number of the major features evident in regional planning and development in Europe this volume contains a series of regional case studies drawn from current research in various European countries These illustrate a broad range of theoretical views which offer perspectives on the operation of the EU Structural Funds and regional restructuring development and key concerns evident in spatial planning an environmental management and lessons from past experience

The editors collate views to arrive at challenging conclusions and suggestions for future policy priorities Progress in Language Planning Juan Cobarrubias, Joshua A. Fishman, 1983 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SOCIOLOGY OF LANGUAGE brings to students researchers and practitioners in all of the social and language related sciences carefully selected book length publications dealing with sociolinguistic theory methods findings and applications It approaches the study of language in society in its broadest sense as a truly international and interdisciplinary field in which various approaches theoretical and empirical supplement and complement each other The series invites the attention of linguists language teachers of all interests sociologists political scientists anthropologists historians etc to the development of the sociology of language

Equity and Efficiency in Economic Development Donald J. Savoie, Irving Brecher, 1992-10-16 The ideological foundations of the contributors range from personalized neo Marxism through extreme centre neo Keynesianism to hard line neoclassical mathematical economics Despite this diversity there is a surprising degree of consensus No contributor advocates centralized planning and none expects a free market to cure all economic ills Opinions vary as to how well the market actually works but all agree that equity and efficiency are essential goals which most consider to be complementary rather than mutually exclusive In the concluding chapter it is suggested that current economic problems are caused not so much by government intervention as by the nature of that intervention The authors believe that the recent ideological convergence may lead to a new paradigm a theory of the optimal blend of market and management that will be flexible enough to deal with the varying conditions of diverse societies thus simplifying the task of creating a smooth running global economy The contributors are Irma Adelman Mark Blaug Kenneth Boulding Irving Brecher Albert Breton John S Chipman Andr Gunder Frank Martha Fuentes Frank Niles Hansen Murray C Kemp Robin Marris Richard Musgrave Walt Rostow Donald J Savoie Nicholas Spulber and Paul Streeten Higgins himself contributes a chapter on basic concepts and collaborates with Donald Savoie on the final chapter Education, Space and Urban Planning Angela Million, Anna Juliane Heinrich, Thomas Coelen, 2016-07-26 This book examines a range of practical developments that are happening in education as conducted in urban settings across different scales It contains insights that draw upon the fields of urban planning urbanism geography architecture education and pedagogy It brings together current thinking and practical experience from German and international perspectives This discussion is organised in four segments schools and the neighbourhood education and the neighbourhood education and the city and finally education and the region Contributors cover a wide range of contemporary and significant socio political aspects of education over the last decade They reinforce emergent thinking that space and its urban context are important dimensions of education This book also underscores the need for more research in the relationships between education and urban development itself Current urban planning does not fully connect our understanding in education with what we know in the spatial and planning sciences Accordingly this release is an early attempt to bring together a growing body of integrated and interdisciplinary reflection on education theory and practice

Regional Economic Development Robert J. Stimson, Roger R. Stough, Brian H. Roberts, 2013-03-09 Regional economic development has attracted the interest of economists geographers planners and regional scientists for a long time And of course it is a field that has developed a large practitioner cohort in government and business agencies from the national down to the state and local levels In planning for cities and regions both large and small economic development issues now tend to be integrated into strategic planning processes For at least the last 50 years scholars from various disciplines have theorised about the nature of regional economic development developing a range of models seeking to explain the process of regional economic development and why it is that regions vary so much in their economic structure and performance and how these aspects of a region can change dramatically over time Regional scientists in particular have developed a comprehensive tool kit of methodologies to measure and monitor regional economic characteristics such as industry sectors employment income value of production investment and the like using both quantitative and qualitative methods of analysis and focusing on both static and dynamic analysis The father of regional science Walter Isard was the first to put together a comprehensive volume on techniques of regional analysis Isard 1960 and since then a huge literature has emerged including the many titles in the series published by Springer in which this book is published
