Building Regions Dr Luk Van Langenhove, 2013-03-28 Regions How they emerge and how they are dramatically changing the appearance of the present world of states and its related forms of governance from local to global levels is analysed in this monograph But what are regions Regions can be small or huge They can be part of a single state be composed out of different states or stretched out across borders They can be important recognized economic social or cultural entities or they can be largely ignored by the people who live on a region s territory They can be well defined with clear cut boundaries as is the case in so called constitutional regions or they can be fuzzy as for instance in cross border regions In sum they are not a natural kind and defining regions is not a simple task Luk Van Langenhove advances the concept of region building as an alternative to the construction of regions with three issues of region building being explored Why are regions built in a world of states How do region building processes take place How are regions transforming the present world order Crossing disciplinary boundaries this book is an exercise in theorizing regions and brings together under one conceptual framework different processes and concepts such as regional integration devolution federalism and separatism and refines the social constructionist view on regions

Social Regionalism in the Global Economy Adelle Blackett, Christian Lévesque, 2010-12-20 Regional trade agreements have expanded exponentially over the past decade and have become a significant if controversial factor in the expanse of economic globalization Social Regionalism in the Global Economy attempts to take a fresh interdisciplinary approach to addressing labour regulation by drawing upon insights from industrial relations comparative capitalism and new governance schools of thought It stands for the proposition that an interdisciplinary study of regional regulation holds the potential to offer a fuller account of social regionalism Its focus is to consider how institutions and labour market actors reconstruct and renegotiate regulatory space in a changing economic environment characterized by regional impulses It argues that there is a dynamic interplay between institutions and actors of social regulation This interplay occurs at many levels The book therefore maps both how actors shape institutions as well as how institutions shape social actors ability to affect regulatory processes The editors bring together leading international specialists willing to move beyond textual analyses of regional agreements to offer alternative accounts of regional integration The work emphasizes that institutional context and social actors at multiple governance levels are integral to the progressive construction and regulation of regional space It further contributes to the literature by combining insights from overlooked regional entities in transition and developing countries with original analyses from the European Union and the NAFTA These aims will be achieved by combining original research that is empirically grounded with theoretically informed analysis Regionalization vs.

Globalization Mr.Hideaki Hirata,Mr.Ayhan Kose,Mr.Christopher Otrok,2013-01-22 Abstract Both global and regional economic linkages have strengthened substantially over the past quarter century We employ a dynamic factor model to analyze the implications of these linkages for the evolution of global and regional business cycles Our model allows us to assess the roles played by the global regional and country specific factors in explaining business cycles in a large sample of countries and regions over the period 1960 2010 We find that since the mid 1980s the importance of regional factors has increased markedly in explaining business cycles especially in regions that experienced a sharp growth in intra regional trade and financial flows By contrast the relative importance of the global factor has declined over the same period In short the recent era of globalization has witnessed the emergence of regional business cycles New Asian Regionalism in book provides new insight into the role of organised business interests It supports the concept of political economy and demonstrates how it transcends the limitations of CPE or IPE to form a coherent whole The book maps the conflict convergence and influence of organized business interests in the context of regional integration Regionalism in a Changing World Lorenzo Fioramonti,2014 A comprehensive look at regional integration in Europe Africa Asia and South America The first comparative analysis of the challenges and prospects faced by regional integration against the backdrop of a new global order influenced by emerging powers Regionalization in the World Economy Van R. is an outcome of a joint research project of the Institute of the Americas La Jolla California the Centre for US Mexico Studies San Diego the Graduate School of Interrelations and Pacific Studies at the University of California San Diego and Global Regionalization H. S. Geyer, 2006 Examines the political and economic changes that have reshaped the political geography of certain regions This book deals with the concept of global bloc formation examining the impacts that political economic conditions and relationships in and between nations have on demographic and economic flows Reflections on Regionalism Bruce Katz, 2001-09-19 Academics community activists and politicians have rediscovered regionalism insisting that regions are critical functional units in a world wide economy and just as important critical functional units in individual American lives More and more of us travel across city county even state borders every morning on our way to work Our television radio and print media rely on a regional marketplace Our businesses large and small depend on suppliers workers and customers who rarely reside in a single jurisdiction The parks riverfronts stadiums and museums we visit draw from and provide an identity to an area much larger than a single city The fumes gases chemicals and run off that pollute our air and water have no regard for municipal boundaries This book lays out a variety of opinions on regionalism its history and its future While the essays do not comprise a debate pro and con about regionalism they do provide a wide array of perspectives based on the authors diverse backgrounds and experience Some contributors have made close academic studies of how regional action occurs in various states like Minnesota California and Oregon others give an historical account of a particular region like that surrounding New York City and yet others point out aspects of regionalism race especially that should not be ignored Why did past efforts at regional collaboration fall apart What did regionalist efforts of decades ago leave undone and what new goals should regionalists set Without an understanding of these questions policymakers and advocates may find themselves reinventing the region This book provides an important understanding of how regionalism has played out in the past how policies shape places and the possibilities and limits of regional action Bruce J Katz director of the Brookings Institution Center on Urban and Metropolitan Policy was formerly chief of staff at the U S Department of Hous

Regionalism in World Politics Louise L'Estrange Fawcett, Andrew Hurrell, 1995 This book brings together the many different institutions and ideas to be found under the label of regionalism it places the revival of regionalism in a broader historical perspective it asks whether there are common factors behind the revival of regionalism in so many different parts of the world and it analyzes the cumulative impact of different brands of regionalism on international order Leading specialists examine recent developments in regional cooperation in different parts of the world They take a critical look at recent trends towards the new regionalism and regionalization assessing their origins their present and future prospects and their place in the evolving international order As well as concentrating on specific regions including Pacific Asia the Americas Europe and the Middle East the book looks at theories of regionalism the balance between regionalization and globalization in the world economy the relation between regional organizations and the United Nations and the relationship between the revival of regionalism and questions of identity and nationalism Globalism and the New Regionalism B. Hettne, A. Inotai, Osvaldo Sunkel, 1999-01-29 Annotation This text deals with the conceptions and meanings of two processes which may have a crucial influence on the shape of the new world order globalization and regionalization Revisiting Regionalism and the Contemporary World Order Élise Féron, Jyrki Kknen, Gabriel Rached, 2019-11 The book critically analyzes the ongoing changes in the regional intra regional and global dynamics of cooperation from a multi disciplinary and pluralist perspective It is based on the insight that in a post hegemonic world the formation of regions and the process of globalization can be largely disconnected from the orbit of the US and that a plurality of power and worldviews has replaced US hegemony In spite of these changes most existing analyses of current changes in the world order still rely upon Western centered approaches and Westphalian thinking Against this backdrop the book proposes to advance a truly global IR understanding of the post hegemonic world and weaves together the pluralist and multi disciplinary perspectives of scholars located all around the world Regionalization in a Globalizing World Michael Schulz, Fredrik Soderbaum, Joakim Öjendal, 2001-05 The emerging role of regional systems of relations is an important feature of the new global politics While the European Union is the most advanced case most other parts of the world display at least the beginnings of regional systems Using a multidisciplinary approach the contributors examine these processes from a comparative perspective concentrating on the following questions what constitute a region how is the historical process of region formation unfolding what motives and factors underlie this drive to regionalisation what forms a regional awareness and institutionalisation are emerging and where what are the future prospects Regionalisation and Global Governance Andrew F. Cooper, Christopher W. Hughes, Philippe De Lombaerde, 2007-12-21 This book explores the relationship between regionalization and global governance surveying the theoretical debates economic dimensions security considerations and governing structures
