Whitney Lackenbauer, 2019-10-28 This book examines emerging forms of governance in the Arctic region exploring how different types of state and non state actors promote and support rules and standards The authors argue that confining our understandings of Arctic governance to Arctic states and a focus on the Arctic Council as the primary site of circumpolar governance provides an incomplete picture. Instead they embrace the complexity of governance in the Arctic by systematically analyzing and comparing the position, interventions and influence of different actor groups seeking to shape Arctic political and economic outcomes in multiple sites of Arctic politics, both formal and informal. This book assesses the potential that sub-national governments, corporations, civil society organizations, Indigenous peoples and non-Arctic states possess to develop norms and standards to ensure a stable rule-based Arctic region. It will be of interest to all scholars and students working in the fields of Arctic Sovereignty, Security Studies, Global Governance and International Political Economy.

People's Republic of China-Hong Kong Special Administrative Region International Monetary Fund. Monetary and Capital Markets Department, 2014-07-16. This Financial Sector Assessment Program report on People's Republic of China Hong Kong Special Administrative Region highlights that it has developed a sound framework for the regulation of securities markets which exhibits a high level of implementation of the International Organization of Securities Commissions Principles. Both the Securities and Futures Commission (SFC) and the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (HKMA) are sophisticated regulators and have been able to leverage from domestic and international expertise to develop sound supervisory practices. Further, while traumatic the Lehman minibond experience has led to material improvements in conduct supervision that have permeated both the SFC and the HKMA. Continuing efforts by the SFC to build up its capacity to identify and monitor emerging risks should increase the SFC's ability to react in a timely manner to an evolving landscape marked by an increased interconnection with the Mainland China, an active presence by international players and increased regional competition as an international finance center. It is important to consider translating the operational independence that the regulators have enjoyed into de jure independence through modifications in the current legal governance arrangements for both SFC and HKMA. REGION Dr. Sidda Goud, Manisha Mookherjee, 2015-02-28. This edited book is the outcome of the International Conference on China in Indian Ocean Region held on 13th-14th November 2014 organized by UGC Centre for Indian Ocean Studies, Osmania University, Hyderabad. Indian Ocean, third largest ocean in the world, surpasses the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans as the world's largest and most strategically significant trade corridor. Indian Ocean Region (IOR) which is surrounded by Africa, Asia and Australia serves as a maritime highway linking trans-continental human and economic relationships. Being the world's most populated region, one-third of the world's bulk cargo and around two-thirds of world's oil ship tankers pass through it. China's interest in the Indian Ocean Region (IOR) can be traced back to the early 1960s. Ever since Beijing has been increasingly deepening its presence in the IOR for a variety of reasons: oil trade security etc. Over 30 per cent of China's seaborne trade worth about US 300 billion transits across IOR. Sharing a quarter of the world's population, China faces ever-increasing demand for energy. China has little choice but to look beyond its borders for its energy needs. About 77 per cent of its oil imports are sourced from West Asia and Africa and these are transported through the Indian Ocean Thus China s dependence on the Indian Ocean continues to grow for energy imports from the Gulf to import resources from Africa and trade with Europe With China steadily spreading its footprints in the Indian Ocean Region with increasing military presence and with the rapidly growing Navy being equipped with warships destroyers and nuclear submarines this book analyses in depth growing Chinese influence in Indian Ocean Region IOR Geopolitical interests of China Security and Economic implication for India This volume will be of considerable interest to the students and scholars of international relations in the contemporary situation
