Mavroidis, 2020-11-24 A comprehensive analysis of GATS that considers its historical context the national preferences that shaped it and a path to a GATS 2.0 The previous two volumes in The Regulation of International Trade analyzed the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT the first successful agreement to generate multilateral trade liberalization and the World Trade Organization WTO for which the GATT laid the groundwork In this third volume Petros Mavroidis turns to the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS a WTO treaty that took effect in 1995 and offers a comprehensive analysis that considers the historical context of the GATS the national preferences that shaped it and a path to a GATS 2.0 Regulation of Energy in International Trade Law Yulia Selivanova, 2011-07-28 Starting from the premise that a multilateral legal framework is the surest way to achieve predictability and transparency under conditions of increasing reliance on internationally traded energy the essays gathered in this book treat the many complex interlocking issues raised by examining that desideratum in the light of current reality Concentrating on the application of WTO agreements to energy trade as well as energy related issues addressed in the current WTO negotiations the authors offer in depth discussion and analysis of such issues as the following the effectiveness of existing WTO agreements in addressing issues pertinent to energy trade how restrictive practices of energy endowed countries can be tackled under existing international trade rules existing frameworks for investment in highly capital intensive energy infrastructure projects and conditions for access to pipelines and transmission grids regulation of energy services bioenergy development and trade energy issues addressed in the WTO accession negotiations of energy endowed countries international instruments of resolution of energy related disputes The Prospects of International Trade Regulation Thomas Cottier, Panagiotis Delimatsis, 2011-04-14 For a long time the GATT led a life of its own as a self contained regime The evolution from tariff to non tariff barriers brought about increasing overlaps with other regulatory areas WTO rules increasingly interface with other areas of law and policy including environmental protection agricultural policies labour standards investment human rights and regional integration Against this backdrop this book examines fragmentation in international trade regulation across a wide array of regulatory fields To this end it uses a conceptually coherent theoretical framework which is based on the effort to bring about greater coherence among different policy goals and fields and thus to embed the multilateral trading system within the broader framework of international economics law and relations It will appeal to those interested in a forward looking discussion of the most pressing issues of the international trade agenda Energy in International Trade Law

Anna-Alexandra Marhold, 2021-07-15 A study of energy regulation in international trade law against the backdrop of energy markets that have undergone radical change GATS and the Regulation of International Trade in Services Marion Panizzon, Nicole Pohl, Pierre Sauvé, 2008-07-10 This collection of essays takes stock of the key challenges that have arisen since the entry into force of the General Agreement on Trade in Services in the mid 1990s and situates them in the context of the WTO's Doha Development Agenda and the proliferation of preferential agreements addressing services today The multidisciplinary approach provides an opportunity for many of the world's leading experts and a number of new analytical voices to exchange ideas on the future of services trade and regulation Cosmopolitan approaches to the treatment of labour mobility the shape of services trade disciplines in the digital age and pro competitive regulation in air transport are explored with a view to helping readers gain a better understanding of the forces shaping the changes An essential read for all those concerned with the evolution of the rules based trading system and its impact on the service economy Narrowing the Channel Robert Gulotty, 2020-03-20 While large multinational corporations have supported the removal of tariffs behind the scenes these firms have fought for protection in the form of product regulations including testing labeling and registration requirements Unlike tariffs these regulations can raise fixed costs excluding smaller firms from the market and shifting profits toward global giants Narrowing the Channel demonstrates that globalization and globalized firms can paradoxically hinder rather than foster economic cooperation as larger firms seek to protect their markets through often unnecessarily strict product regulations To illustrate the problem of regulatory protectionism Robert Gulotty offers an in depth analysis of contemporary rulemaking in the United States and the European Union in the areas of health safety and environmental standards He shows how large firms seek regulatory schemes that disproportionately disadvantage small firms When multinationals are embedded in the local economy governments too have an incentive to use these regulations to shift profits back home Today the key challenge to governing global trade is not how much trade occurs but who is allowed to participate and this book shows that new rules will be needed to allow governments to widen the benefits of global commerce and avoid further inequality and market concentration Regulatory Autonomy and International Trade in Services Bregt Natens, 2016-07-27 This book considers how the interplay between multilateral and preferential liberalisation of trade in services increasingly raises concerns both from the perspective of the beneficiaries of such liberalisation whose rights are uncertain and that of regulators whose regulatory autonomy is constrained The author shows how these concerns lead to vast underutilisation of and strong prejudices against the benefits of services liberalisation The book meticulously analyses and compares the EU's obligations under the GATS and the services chapters of several RTAs to finally assess the merits of the raised concerns WTO Domestic Regulation and Services Trade Aik Hoe Lim, Bart De Meester, 2014-03-13 Innovative interdisciplinary practitioner oriented insights into the key challenges faced in addressing the services trade liberalization and domestic regulation interface The Oxford Handbook of Law, Regulation and Technology Roger Brownsword, Eloise

Scotford, Karen Yeung, 2017-07-24 The variety pace and power of technological innovations that have emerged in the 21st Century have been breathtaking These technological developments which include advances in networked information and communications biotechnology neurotechnology nanotechnology robotics and environmental engineering technology have raised a number of vital and complex questions Although these technologies have the potential to generate positive transformation and help address grand societal challenges the novelty associated with technological innovation has also been accompanied by anxieties about their risks and destabilizing effects Is there a potential harm to human health or the environment What are the ethical implications Do these innovations erode or antagonize values such as human dignity privacy democracy or other norms underpinning existing bodies of law and regulation These technological developments have therefore spawned a nascent but growing body of law and technology scholarship broadly concerned with exploring the legal social and ethical dimensions of technological innovation This handbook collates the many and varied strands of this scholarship focusing broadly across a range of new and emerging technology and a vast array of social and policy sectors through which leading scholars in the field interrogate the interfaces between law emerging technology and regulation Structured in five parts the handbook I establishes the collection of essays within existing scholarship concerned with law and technology as well as regulatory governance II explores the relationship between technology development by focusing on core concepts and values which technological developments implicate III studies the challenges for law in responding to the emergence of new technologies examining how legal norms doctrine and institutions have been shaped challenged and destabilized by technology and even how technologies have been shaped by legal regimes IV provides a critical exploration of the implications of technological innovation examining the ways in which technological innovation has generated challenges for regulators in the governance of technological development and the implications of employing new technologies as an instrument of regulatory governance V explores various interfaces between law regulatory governance and new technologies across a range of key social domains      Essentials of WTO Law Peter Van den Bossche, Denise Prévost, 2016-04-02 This

Trade in Goods Petros C. Mavroidis, 2012-07-19 This new edition of Trade in Goods is an authoritative work on international trade by one of the most influential scholars in the field It provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of every WTO agreement dealing with trade in goods The focus of the book is on the reasoning behind the various WTO agreements and their provisions and the manner in which they have been understood in practice It introduces both the historic as well as the economic rationale for the emergence of the multilateral trading system before dealing with WTO practice in all areas involving trade in goods It contests the claim that the international trade agreements themselves represent incomplete contracts realized through interpretation by the WTO and other judicial bodies The book comprehensively analyses the WTO's case law and it argues that a more rigorous theoretical approach is needed to ensure a greater coherence in the interpretation of the core provisions regulating trade in goods This second edition readdresses and moves beyond the discussion of the GATT presented in the first edition to assess in significant detail every trade in goods agreement at the WTO both multilateral as well as plurilateral The book is written to be accessible to those new to the field with an authoritative level of detail and analysis that makes it essential reading for lawyers and economists alike

International Law in Financial Regulation and Monetary Affairs Thomas Cottier, John H. Jackson, Rosa M. Lastra, 2012-10-04 Analysing the emerging international legal framework governing financial institutions and markets including monetary policies and monetary regulation this book addresses the cross border issues that arise within this area It highlights the lack of formal international law present and shows how this contributed to the global financial crisis

Value Making in International Economic Law and Regulation Donatella Alessandrini, 2016-01-29 This book examines the contemporary production of economic value in today's financial economies Much of the regulatory response to the global financial crisis has been based on the assumption that curbing the speculative excesses of the financial sphere is a necessary and sufficient condition for restoring a healthy economic system endowed with real values as distinct from those produced by financial markets How though can the intrinsic value of goods and services produced in the sphere of the so called real economy be disentangled from the artificial value engineered within the financial sphere Examining current projects of international legal regulation this book questions the regulation of the financial sphere insofar as its excesses are juxtaposed to some notion of economic normality Given the problem of neatly distinguishing these domains and so more generally between economy and society and production and social reproduction it considers the limits of our current conceptualization of value production and measurement with specific reference to arrangements in the areas of finance trade and labour Drawing on a range of innovative work in the social sciences and attentive to the spatial and temporal connections that make the global economy as well as the racial gender and class articulations of the social reproductive field within it it further asks what alternative arrangements might be able to affect and indeed alter the value making processes that underlie our current
