Salud mental y privación de libertad Mata y Martín, Ricardo M, Montero Hernanz, Tomás, 2021-06-16. La presente obra pretende ser un acercamiento al problema de la salud mental en los centros penitenciarios. Es esta una cuestión muy compleja a la que debe prestarse la atención que merece. Muchas de las personas que ingresan en prisión sufren patologías de carácter psíquico o mental que con frecuencia no han sido detectadas o diagnosticadas antes de su ingreso. La Subdirección General de Sanidad Penitenciaria decía en su memoria de 2018 que en torno a un tercio de los internos habían sido diagnosticados de uno o varios trastornos mentales destacando los trastornos de ansiedad, los trastornos del estado de ánimo y los trastornos psicóticos. Durante ese año se produjeron 19 679 ingresos en las camas de enfermería de los centros penitenciarios de los cuales 8 423 fueron motivados por patología psiquiátrica (42.8%). Como es obvio, los internos que presentan patologías de salud mental requieren de una atención especializada aunque son muchas las dificultades para llevarla a cabo en las debidas condiciones en los centros penitenciarios.
