Reinvention Of Primitive Society Transformation Of A Myth:

The Reinvention of Primitive Society Adam Kuper, 2017-02-17 Adam Kuper's iconoclastic intellectual history argues that the idea of primitive society is a western myth. The primitive is imagined as the opposite of the civilised. But this is a protean myth. As ideas about civilisation change, so the image of primitive society must be adjusted. By way of a fascinating account of classic texts in anthropology, ancient history and law, Kuper reveals how this myth underpinned academic research and inspired political programmes. Its ancestry is traced back to classical western beliefs about barbarians and savages and Kuper also tackles the latest version of the myth: the idea of a global identity of indigenous peoples. The Reinvention of Primitive Society is a key text in the history of anthropology and will interest anyone who has puzzled about the very idea of primitive society and so by implication about civilisation.

Southern Anthropology - a History of Fison and Howitt's Kamilaroi and Kurnai Helen Gardner, Patrick McConvell, 2015-09-01 Southern Anthropology: the history of Fison and Howitt's Kamilaroi and Kurnai is the biography of Kamilaroi and Kurnai 1880 written from both a historical and anthropological perspective. Southern Anthropology investigates the authors' work on Aboriginal and Pacific people and the reception of their book in metropolitan centres.

International Review of Biblical Studies, Volume 53 (2006-2007) Bernhard Lang, 2008-02-28 Formerly known by its subtitle Internationale Zeitschriftenschau für Bibelwissenschaft und Grenzgebiete, the International Review of Biblical Studies has served the scholarly community ever since its inception in the early 1950s. Each annual volume includes approximately 2 000 abstracts and summaries of articles and books that deal with the Bible and related literature including the Dead Sea Scrolls, Pseudepigrapha, Non canonical gospels and ancient Near Eastern writings. The abstracts, which may be in English, German or French, are arranged thematically under headings such as e.g. Genesis, Matthew, Greek language, text and textual criticism, exegetical methods and approaches, biblical theology, social and religious institutions, biblical personalities, history of Israel and early Judaism and so on. The articles and books that are abstracted and reviewed are collected annually by an international team of collaborators from over 300 of the most important periodicals and book series in the fields covered.

Primitive Thinking Nicola Gess, 2022-09-06 This book examines the discourse on primitive thinking in early twentieth century Germany. It explores texts from the social sciences, writings on art and language and most centrally literary works by Robert Musil, Walter Benjamin, Gottfried Benn and Robert Müller focusing on three figurations of alterity prominent in European primitivism: indigenous cultures, children and the mentally ill.

Our Common Denominator Christoph Antweiler, 2016-04-01 Since the politicization of anthropology in the 1970s, most anthropologists have been reluctant to approach the topic of universals: that is, phenomena that occur regularly in all known human societies. In this volume, Christoph Antweiler reasserts the importance of these cross-cultural commonalities for anthropological research and for life and co-existence beyond the academy. The question presented here is how anthropology can help us approach humanity in its entirety, understanding the world less as a globe with an emphasis on differences but as a planet from a vantage point open to commonalities

T&T Clark Handbook of Anthropology and the Hebrew Bible

Emanuel Pfoh, 2022-12-15 This handbook presents an overview of the main approaches from social and cultural anthropology to the Hebrew Bible. Since the late 19th century biblical scholarship has addressed issues and themes related to biblical stories from a perspective which could now be considered socio anthropological. It is however only since the 1960s that biblical scholars have started to produce readings and incorporate analytical models drawn directly from social anthropology to widen the interpretive scope of the social and historical data contained in the biblical sources. The handbook is arranged into two main thematic parts. Part 1 assesses the place of the Bible in social anthropology, examines the contribution of ethnoarchaeology to the recovery of the social world of Iron Age Palestine and offers insights from the anthropology of the Mediterranean for the interpretation of the biblical stories. Part 2 provides a series of case studies on anthropological themes arising in the Hebrew Bible. These include kinship and social organisation, death, cultural and collective memory and ritualism. Contributors also examine how the biblical stories reveal dynamics of power and authority, gender and honour and shame and how socio anthropological approaches can reveal these narratives and deepen our knowledge of the human societies and cultural context of the texts. Bringing together the expertise of scholars of the Hebrew Bible and Biblical Archaeology, this ethnographic introduction prompts new questions into our understanding of anthropology and the Bible. Who are 'We'?

Liana Chua, Nayanika Mathur, 2018-06-13 Who do we anthropologists think we are? And how do forms and notions of collective disciplinary identity shape the way we think, write and do anthropology? This volume explores how the anthropological we has been construed, transformed and deployed across history and the global anthropological landscape. Drawing together both reflections and ethnographic case studies, it interrogates the critical yet poorly studied roles played by myriad anthropological we's in generating and influencing anthropological theory, method and analysis. In the process, new spaces are opened for reimagining who we are and what we and indeed anthropology could become. Mediterranean Families in Antiquity Sabine R. Huebner, Geoffrey Nathan, 2016-08-17 This comprehensive study of families in the Mediterranean world spans the Bronze Age through Late Antiquity and looks at families and households in various ancient societies inhabiting the regions around the Mediterranean Sea in an attempt to break down artificial boundaries between academic disciplines.

Human Nature and Social Life Jon Henrik Ziegler Remme, Kenneth Sillander, 2017-06-15 What distinguishes humans from nonhuman others? And how do these distinctions shape human sociality and the ways that humans relate to their others? Human Nature and Social Life brings together a collection of articles by prominent anthropologists to address these questions. The articles show how the fundamentally social nature of humans results in an extension of sociality to virtual semiotic material and nonhuman spheres, with humans therefore becoming part of extended socialities. However, as the book's contributors demonstrate, human distinctness significantly bears upon these extended socialities and the manner in which humans partake in them. Taking an ethnographic approach to its subject, this book demonstrates the continued value of studying the specificities of the human condition and sets itself as a counterweight to current refutations of human exceptionalism

A Mission Divided Dr Kirstie Close-Barry, 2015-12-02 This book provides insight into the long process of decolonisation within the Methodist Overseas Missions of Australasia a colonial institution that operated in the British colony of Fiji The mission was a site of work for Europeans Fijians and Indo Fijians but each community operated separately as the mission was divided along ethnic lines in 1901 This book outlines the colonial concepts of race and culture as well as antagonism over land and labour that were used to justify this separation Recounting the stories told by the mission's leadership including missionaries and ministers to its grassroots membership this book draws on archival and ethnographic research to reveal the emergence of ethno nationalisms in Fiji the legacies of which are still being managed in the post colonial state today Analysing in part the story of her own ancestors Kirstie Barry develops a fascinating account of the relationship between Christian proselytization and Pacific nationalism showing how missionaries reinforced racial divisions between Fijian and Indo Fijian even as they deplored them Negotiating the intersections between evangelisation anthropology and colonial governance this is a book with resonance well beyond its Fijian setting Professor Alan Lester University of Sussex This thoroughly researched and finely crafted book unwraps and finely illustrates the interwoven layers of evolving complexity in different interpretations of ideals and debates on race culture colonialism and independence that informed the way the Methodist Mission was run in Fiji It describes the human personalities and practicalities interconnected at local regional and global levels which influenced the shaping of the Mission and the independent Methodist Church in Fiji It documents the influence of evolving anthropological theories and ecumenical theological understandings of culture on mission practice The book's rich sources enhance our understanding of the complex history of ethnic relations in Fiji helping to explain why ethnic divisive thinking remains a challenge Jacqueline Ryle University of the South Pacific A beautifully researched study of the transnational impact of South Asian bodies on nationalisms and church devolution in Fiji and an important resource for empire studies as a whole Professor Jane Samson University of Alberta Canada

India in the Eyes of Europeans Martin Fák, 2021-12-01 This book is centered around the claim that although the research in Oriental and religious studies seemingly presents unbiased objective interpretations of Indian traditions it really puts forward distorted images which primarily reflect the researchers own European culture A thorough examination demonstrates to what extent Oriental studies as well as other humanities are still influenced by theological preconceptions English edition

The Many Faces of Socioeconomic Change J. F. J. Toye, 2017 Development is not a purely economic phenomenon it also has a strong sociological element This book surveys narratives of how development occurs starting with early evolutionary models and moving on to recent types of development theory outlining the main long term changes in how socioeconomic development has been envisaged through time

American Religious Liberalism Leigh E. Schmidt, Sally M. Promey, 2012-07-30 Religious liberalism in America has often been equated with an ecumenical Protestant establishment By contrast American Religious Liberalism draws attention to the broad diversity of liberal cultures that shapes America's religious movements. The essays gathered here push beyond familiar tropes and boundaries to interrogate religious liberalism's dense cultural leanings by looking at spirituality in the arts, the politics and piety of religious cosmopolitanism and the interaction between liberal religion and liberal secularism. Readers will find a kaleidoscopic view of many of the progressive strands of America's religious past and present in this richly provocative volume.

The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History Duanfang Lu, 2023-07-31 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History offers a comprehensive and up-to-date knowledge report on recent developments in architectural production and research. Divided into three parts: Practices, Interrogations, and Innovations, this book charts diversity, criticality, and creativity in architectural interventions to meet challenges and enact changes in different parts of the world through featured exemplars and fresh theoretical orientations. The collection features 29 chapters written by leading architectural scholars and highlights the reciprocity between the historical and the contemporary research and practice and disciplinary and professional knowledge. Providing an essential map for navigating the complex currents of contemporary architecture, the Companion will interest students, academics, and practitioners who wish to bolster their understanding of built environments.

Trauma, Primitivism and the First World War Joy Porter, 2021-04-08 This book examines the extraordinary life of Frank Toronto Prewett and the history of trauma, literary expression, and the power of self-representation after WWI. Joy Porter sheds new light on how the First World War affected the Canadian poet and how war-induced trauma or shell shock caused him to pretend to be an indigenous North American. Porter investigates his influence of and acceptance by some of the most significant literary figures of the time, including Siegfried Sassoon, Edmund Blunden, Wilfred Owen, and Robert Graves. In doing so, Porter skillfully connects a number of historiographies that usually exist in isolation from one another and rarely meet. By bringing together a history of the WWI era, early twentieth-century history, Native American history, the history of literature, and the history of class, Porter expertly crafts a valuable contribution to the field.

Yellow Peril! John Kuo Wei Tchen, Dylan Yeats, 2014-02-11 From invading hordes to enemy agents, a great fear haunts the West. The yellow peril is one of the oldest and most pervasive racist ideas in Western culture, dating back to the birth of European colonialism during the Enlightenment. Yet while Fu Manchu looks almost quaint today, the prejudices that gave him life persist in modern culture. Yellow Peril is the first comprehensive repository of anti-Asian images and writing, and it surveys the extent of this iniquitous form of paranoia. Written by two dedicated scholars and replete with paintings, photographs, and images drawn from pulp novels, posters, comics, theatrical productions, movies, propagandistic and pseudo-scholarly literature, and a varied world of pop culture ephemera, this is both a unique and fascinating archive and a modern analysis of this crucial historical formation.

The Politics of Caste in West Bengal Uday Chandra, Geir Heierstad, Kenneth Bo Nielsen, 2015-09-25 This volume offers for the first time a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the making and maintenance of a modern caste society in colonial and postcolonial West Bengal in India Drawing on cutting edge multidisciplinary scholarship it explains why caste continues to be neglected in the politics of and scholarship on West Bengal and how caste relations have permeated the politics of the region until today The essays presented here dispel the myth that caste does not matter in Bengali society and politics and make possible meaningful comparisons and contrasts with other regions in South Asia The work will interest scholars and researchers in sociology social anthropology politics modern Indian history and cultural studies Cutting and Connecting Knut Christian Myhre,2016-03-01 Questions regarding the origins mobility and effects of analytical concepts continue to emerge as anthropology endeavors to describe similarities and differences in social life around the world Cutting and Connecting rethinks this comparative enterprise by calling in a conceptual debt that theoretical innovations from Melanesian anthropology owe to network analysis originally developed in African contexts On this basis the contributors adopt and employ concepts from recent studies of Melanesia to analyze contemporary life on the African continent and to explore how this exchange influences the borrowed anthropological perspectives By focusing on ways in which networks are cut and connections are made these empirical investigations show how particular relationships are created in today s Africa In addition the volume aims for an approach that recasts relationships between theory and place and concepts and ethnography in a manner that destabilizes the distinction between fieldwork and writing Political Ecology of Everyday Resistance and State Building Dhiraj Kumar,2023-12-01 Resource extraction and conflicts over natural resources are a global phenomenon including in India Indigenous tribes like the Ho community in Jharkhand are affected by these dynamics as their cultural practices and livelihoods are intertwined with the local ecology This book explores the process of state formation through developmental intervention in the resource rich areas of Jharkhand in eastern India which are inhabited by the indigenous Ho community The conflict in Jharkhand is intertwined with State development projects and capitalist interventions This book examines the history of these projects and the issues of territorialization dispossession accumulation and marginalization which communities have been fighting against for many decades It examines the process of development policies and projects shaping and restructuring the resource rich ecology in the region and addresses the interrelated issues of development induced dispossession resistance ecological transformation governance illegalities and state building It focuses on the questions what do development projects bring to the Ho community what induces them to resist and negotiate How do State decentralization schemes and local governance in resource conflict areas strengthen State capacities The book highlights the consequences on the livelihoods and cultural practices of the local people because of ecological transformation and everyday resistance Comprehensive and important this book will be of interest to students and researchers of anthropology sociology political ecology social work development studies ecology developmental sociology indigenous studies law and economic anthropology Making way: developing national legal and policy frameworks for pastoral mobility Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-02-08 Mobility is a vital strategy employed by pastoralists to capitalize on the scarce availability of resources in variable environments making pastoralism economically feasible and environmentally sustainable Through mobility pastoralists can produce animal sourced products that provide food and income security to populations in the world's rangelands Such a practice also provides a range of benefits to the environment while fostering the capacity to adapt to changing social and natural environments With a few exceptions policies have largely not kept up with new scholarship and development discourse that acknowledges the importance of mobility to pastoralism There is a lag in and resistance to legislating in favor of mobility The overall objective of this handbook is to guide the development of legal and policy frameworks for securing mobility for various pastoral production systems and practices This handbook calls for the legal recognition and securing of pastoral mobility as a way of safeguarding and facilitating a continuous stream of economic and social benefits for pastoralists countries and the environment It facilitates a deeper understanding of pastoral mobility through examples and case studies drawn from various parts of the world and identifies considerations to be borne in mind when legislating for mobility
