 Excerpt from The Religio Medical Masquerade A Complete Exposure of Christian Science The founder of this pretended religion this bogus healing system audaciously and irreligiously professing equality of character and of power with Jesus has throughout her whole long life been in every particular precisely antithetical to Christ Sordid mercenary unprincipled the consuming passion of her life has been the accumulation of money and she has stopped at no falsehood no fraud and no greater wickedness that seemed to put her in the way of adding to her accumulations or overcoming her supposed enemies Jesus condemned nothing so forcefully as the mercenary spirit With a whip he scourged the money changers from the Temple and in language that burned as a living fire he denounced the hypocrites and liars of his time as like unto whitened sepulchres that are indeed beautiful outward but within are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness If the language of this book seem severe if its denunciations are emphatic if things are called by their right names and facts handled without the least equivocation if contrasts are drawn between the founder of Christianity and the founder of Christian Science that seem to border upon the irreverent let it not be assumed that there is in the heart of the author the slightest particle of personal animosity or in his attitude toward real Christianity and Christ anything but the most complete reverence About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

American architectural history the Christian Science church building movement By 1920 every major American city and many smaller towns contained an example of this architecture financed by the followers of Mary Baker Eddy the church's founder These buildings represented a new burgeoning American institution that appealed to business people and to young men and women working to succeed Characterized by middle class congregations that in the early part of the century were over 75 percent women Christian Science suggested radical civic reform solutions based on an idealistic and pragmatic individualism It attracted criticism from traditional churches and from the medical establishment due to its rapid growth and to its reinstatement of primitive Christianity's lost elements of physical healing and moral regeneration Prayers in Stone spins out the close connections between Christian Science church architecture and its social context This architecture served as a focal point for debates over the possibilities for a new twentieth century urban architecture that proponents believed would positively shape the behavior of citizens Thus these buildings played a critical role in discussions concerning religious and secular architecture as major elements of religious and social reform Drawing on a wide range of documentary evidence including material from the archives of the Mother Church in Boston Paul Ivey uses Christian Science architecture to explore the social implications of architectural styles and new building technologies to illuminate class based notions of civic reform and beautification and to investigate the use of architecture to bring about religious and social change In addition the book explores complex gender issues including early attempts to define a professional space for women as Christian Science practitioners Lavishly illustrated Prayers in Stone focuses on four major city arenas of Christian Science building Boston Chicago New York and the San Francisco Bay area to demonstrate the vital intersection of architecture and religion at the so called margins of American society
