Religion Agency Restitution:

Cosmologies of Suffering Agita Lüse, 2009-01-14 The edited volume elaborates on a range of themes that emerged during a workshop of the 8th biennial of the European Association of Social Anthropologists in Vienna in 2004 Among these themes are the paradoxical permanence of transition in post communist countries the accompanying persistence of social suffering and the structural conditions that give rise to it A final theme focuses on the resources that people mobilize to cope with suffering and trauma Ways of coping manifest a stance towards agency shared by sufferers from diverse post communist regions such as ethnically divided Croatia politically and economically unstable Zimbabwe relatively more peaceful countries such as Hungary Poland and Slovenia and finally two religiously unique areas in Siberia Russia Ethnographic accounts from these diverse settings testify that agency has often involved relinquishing reliance on one's self and turning towards a power higher than the self whether this is conceptualized through the lens of transcendence religion or cosmology Text,

Context and Performance James A. Kapaló, 2011-09-20 Past scholarship on the Gagauz people has focused on their ethnic origins and the tension between their Christian faith and Turkish linguistic identity This study based on extensive fieldwork in the Republic of Moldova approaches the problem of this central dichotomy in Gagauz identity through the lens of daily religious practices This empirical approach reveals how scholarly discourses on folk religion guide the local fieldworker's identification of what are folk religious practices and thus actualises folk religion in a given context The book offers a fresh methodological perspective on folk religion as discourse and object of study and is the first monograph in a Western European language on the religion history and identity of this under studied European people Possession Craig E.

Stephenson, 2012-12-06 This illuminating study addressed both to readers new to Jung and to those already familiar with his work offers fresh insights into a fundamental concept of analytical psychology Anatomizing Jung's concept of possession reinvests Jungian psychotherapy with its positive potential for practice Analogizing the concept lining it up comparatively beside the history of religion anthropology psychiatry and even drama and film criticism offers not a naive syncretism but enlightening possibilities along the borders of these diverse disciplines An original wide ranging exploration of phenomena both ancient and modern this book offers a conceptual bridge between psychology and anthropology it challenges psychiatry to culturally contextualize its diagnostic manual and it posits a much more fluid pluralistic and embodied notion of selfhood

Religion and Law in Serbia Marko Nikolić, Vladimir Davidović†, Darko Tanasković, Mileta Radojević†, 2024-04-17 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this convenient resource provides systematic information on how Serbia deals with the role religion plays or can play in society the legal status of religious communities and institutions and the legal interaction among religion culture education and media After a general introduction describing the social and historical background the book goes on to explain the legal framework in which religion is approached Coverage proceeds from the principle of religious freedom through the rights and contractual obligations of religious communities international transnational and regional law effects and the legal parameters affecting the influence of religion in politics and public life Also covered are legal positions on religion in such specific fields as church financing labour and employment and matrimonial and family law A clear and comprehensive overview of relevant legislation and legal doctrine make the book an invaluable reference source and very useful guide Succinct and practical this book will prove to be of great value to practitioners in the myriad instances where a law related religious interest arises in Serbia Academics and researchers will appreciate its value as a thorough but concise treatment of the legal aspects of diversity and multiculturalism in which religion plays such an important part The Varieties of Religious Repression Ani

Sarkissian,2015-01-02 Religious repression the non violent suppression of civil and political rights is a growing and global phenomenon Though most often practiced in authoritarian countries levels of religious repression nevertheless vary across a range of non democratic regimes including illiberal democracies and competitive authoritarian states In The Varieties of Religious Repression Ani Sarkissian argues that seemingly benign regulations and restrictions on religion are tools that non democratic leaders use to repress independent civic activity effectively maintaining their hold on power Sarkissian examines the interaction of political competition and the structure of religious divisions in society presenting a theory of why religious repression varies across non democratic regimes She also offers a new way of understanding the commonalties and differences of non democratic regimes by focusing on the targets of religious repression Drawing on quantitative data from more than one hundred authoritarian states as well as case studies of sixteen countries from around the world Sarkissian explores the varieties of repression that states impose on religious expression association and political activities describing the obstacles these actions present for democratization pluralism and the development of an independent civil society

Recognition of Religion or Belief (RoRB) Cometan,2022-06-29 Recognition of Religion or Belief presents a global overview of the systems laws and mechanisms states have established to recognise religions and beliefs and to legally register their affiliated organisations Recognition of Religion or Belief is the first book of its kind to dedicate its contents to the recognition and registration issues especially how they intersect with religious freedom conditions around the world The book provides an analysis of the most up to date data on the recognition systems and registration procedures of every country and territory on the planet using terminology derived from Cometan s doctoral research forming his upcoming thesis titled Religious Freedom State Recognition of Belief to which Recognition of Religion or Belief acts as both a compliment and precursor Challenge and Conformity Lindsey Taylor-Guthartz,2021-03-01 Orthodox Jewish women are increasingly seeking new ways to express themselves religiously and important changes have occurred in consequence in their self definition and the part they play in the religious life of their communities Drawing on surveys and interviews across different Orthodox groups in London as well as on the author s own experience of active participation over many years this is a thoroughly researched study that analyses its findings in the context of related developments in Israel and the USA

Sympathetic attention is given to women's creativity and sophistication as they struggle to develop new modes of expression that will let their voices be heard at the same time the inevitable points of conflict with the male dominated religious establishment are examined and explained There is a focus too on the impact of innovations in ritual these include not only the creation of women only spaces and women's participation in public practices traditionally reserved for men but also new personal practices often acquired on study visits to Israel which are replacing traditions learned from family members This is a much needed study of how new norms of lived religion have emerged in London influenced by both the rise of feminism and the backlash against it and also by women's new understanding of their religious roles

Cosmos, Gods and Madmen

Roland Littlewood, Rebecca Lynch, 2016-06-01 The social anthropology of sickness and health has always been concerned with religious cosmologies how societies make sense of such issues as prediction and control of misfortune and fate the malevolence of others the benevolence or otherwise of the mystical world local understanding and explanations of the natural and ultra human worlds This volume presents differing categorizations and conflicts that occur as people seek to make sense of suffering and their experiences Cosmologies whether incorporating the divine or as purely secular lead us to interpret human action and the human constitution its ills and its healing and in particular ways which determine and limit our very possibilities

Pathologies of the West Roland Littlewood, 2002 Psychiatry conventionally regards spirit possession and dramatic healing rituals in non European societies as forms of abnormality if not mental illness Roland Littlewood a psychiatrist and social anthropologist argues that it is necessary to take into account both social process and personal cultural meaning when explaining psychiatric illness and deviant behavior Littlewood brings anthropological and psychiatric literature to bear on case studies of self poisoning agoraphobia hysteria chronic fatigue syndrome post traumatic stress male sexual violence and eating disorders He contends that Western psychiatric illnesses are themselves possession states patterns by which individual agency is displaced through an idiom of alien intrusion whether of a spirit or a disease Pathologies of the West is simultaneously an original approach to psychiatric illness in its international perspective and an introduction to recent developments in the social anthropology of medicine It examines critically the relevance of phenomenological structural and ethological approaches to understanding extreme personal experience Littlewood argues that anthropology must not simply provide a cultural alternative to sociological critiques of medicine psychiatry itself should take into account the ways in which cultural values are acted out by individuals

Changing Sex and Bending Gender

Alison Shaw, Shirley Ardener, 2005 Anthropologists and historians have shown us that male and female are variously defined historically and cross culturally The contributions to this volume focus on the voluntary and involuntary temporary or permanent transformation of gender identity Overall this volume provides powerful and compelling illustrations of how across a wide range of cultures processes of gender transformation are shaped within and ultimately constrained by social and political context From medical responses to biological ambiguity legal responses to cases brought by transsexuals the historical role of the eunuch in Byzantium the social transformation of gender in Northern Albania and in the Southern Philippines to North American drag shows English pantomime and Japanese kabuki theatre this volume offers revealing insights into the ambiguities and limitations of gender transformation Worldmark Encyclopedia of Religious Practices Thomas Riggs,2005-04 comprehensive subject and name index

Robbery and Restitution United States Holocaust Memorial Museum,2007 The robbery and restitution of Jewish property are two inextricably linked social processes It is not possible to understand the lawsuits and international agreements on the restoration of Jewish property of the late 1990s without examining what was robbed and by whom In this volume distinguished historians first outline the mechanisms and scope of the European wide program of plunder and then assess the effectiveness and historical implications of post war restitution efforts Everywhere the solution of legal and material problems was intertwined with changing national myths about the war and conflicting interpretations of justice Even those countries that pursued extensive restitution programs using rigorous legal means were unable to compensate or fully comprehend the scale of Jewish loss Especially in Eastern Europe it was not until the collapse of communism that the concept of restoring some Jewish property rights even became a viable option Integrating the abundance of new research on the material effects of the Holocaust and its aftermath this comparative perspective examines the developments in Germany Poland Italy France Belgium Hungary and the Czech Republic

Ancestor Worship and the Elite in Late Iron Age Scandinavia Triin Laidoner,2020-01-14 Ancestor worship is often assumed by contemporary European audiences to be an outdated and primitive tradition with little relevance to our societies past and present This book questions that assumption and seeks to determine whether ancestor ideology was an integral part of religion in Viking Age and early medieval Scandinavia The concept is examined from a broad socio anthropological perspective which is used to structure a set of case studies which analyse the cults of specific individuals in Old Norse literature The situation of gods in Old Norse religion has been almost exclusively addressed in isolation from these socio anthropological perspectives The public gravemound cults of deceased rulers are discussed conventionally as cases of sacral kingship and more recently religious ruler ideology both are seen as having divine associations in Old Norse scholarship Building on the anthropological framework this study introduces the concept of superior ancestors employed in social anthropology to denote a form of political ancestor worship used to regulate social structure deliberately It suggests that Old Norse ruler ideology was based on conventional and widely recognised religious practices revolving around kinship and ancestors and that the gods were perceived as human ancestors belonging to elite families

Department of State Publication ,1948 Germany, 1947-1949 United States. Dept. of State. Office of Public Affairs,1950 Restitution and the Politics of Repair Magdalena Zolkos,2020-09-21 Analyses the social imaginary of undoing repair and return underpinning the international norm of restitution making Approaches restitution not just as a legal norm of property return but as a social imaginary and a cultural psychoanalytic scene of undoing repair and return Brings together philosophic political socio legal and cultural psychoanalytic approaches to the study of restitution. Outlines a heterogeneous and multifaceted idea of restitution emergent in modernity and looks at the peripheries of the modern restitutive tradition in the search for alternatives and counter traditions. This book takes a unique approach grounded in political and cultural discourse to develop a political theory of restitution. Challenging assumptions about restitution in the Western legal and political tradition where it has become nearly synonymous with reacquisition and where legal studies focus on material objects and claims to their ownership. Zolkos argues that the development of restitutive norms has been auxiliary to the emergence of modern state sovereignty and excavates the restitutive tradition's mythical religious substrate. Bringing together texts from within and outwith the Western canon of political theory and philosophy including the writings of Grotius, Durkheim, Freud, and Klein, as well as Mary Shelley's Frankenstein, the book undertakes a dual task: reading literary texts as a political theorising of restitution and reading political or sociological texts as literary narratives with distinctive restitutive tropes of repair, undoing, and return.

Globalisation and Change in Forest Ownership and Forest Use E. Carina H. Keskitalo, 2017-10-24. This book describes the changing landscape of European forest ownership and explores the impact a new, often urban, generation of forest owners may have on the future of one of our most basic resources: forests. Forests have not played a major role in rural studies thus far; however, they constitute an important part of many rural areas. Drawing on Swedish cases and comparison cases from various other areas of Europe, the authors present these new forest owners as a pivotal factor in the changing relationships between urban and rural life. The chapters explore how forest production, the relationship to the environment, urban-rural relations, and local communities have already changed, as well as discussing what might be expected for the future. A result of work in the Swedish research programme PLURAL and related projects such as the EU Cost Action FACESMAP, this volume will be of interest to scholars of forestry and rural studies as well as to researchers in environmental, population, and globalization studies more broadly.

Property Restitution and Compensation International Organization for Migration, 2008. 2023 Global Religious Recognition Report Cometan, 2023-07-26. The Global Religious Recognition Report (GRR Report) returns for its second edition this year, including more detail on each country and territory's registration policies and on their practices of states extending privileges to some religions and beliefs and not others. Recognition and registration issues continue to impact conditions of freedom of religion or belief throughout the world, and it is the purpose of the GRR Report to highlight the extent of these issues nation by nation as part of the report's country-specific approach to the subject. Detailed explanations of registration policy have been gathered from the Office of International Religious Freedom's International Religious Freedom Report, in addition to other credible sources. The RoRB classification for each country and territory has been updated in accordance with the criteria set out in the Spectrum of Religious Recognition (SRR), which was included towards the front of this year's report. With more detail provided this year on registration policy in each nation, this report has revealed the complexity of registration issues and the drastic impacts they have on religious freedom.

The Politics of Reparations and Apologies Stephanie Wolfe, 2013-11-21 The Politics of Reparations and Apologies examines the evolution and dynamics of reparation politics and justice. The volume introduces the key concepts, theories, and terms associated with social movements and, in particular, the redress and reparation movement (RRM). Drawing from RRM cases that have their foundation in World War II—the German genocides, the United States internments, and the Japanese comfort women system—the volume explores each case study's relative success or failure in achieving its goals and argues that there are overarching trends that can explain success and failure more generally in the RRM movement. Using the backdrop of international criminal law and normative concepts of reparations, the volume establishes and analyzes the roles of reparations and apologies in obtaining transitional justice. In each case study, there is a detailed rundown of the political actions that were attempted to obtain redress and reparation for the victims, of how successful the attempts were, and of the crucial factors which influenced the relative success or failure. Crucially, the volume offers a comparative framework of the actions that contribute to a successful outcome for transitional justice. With the increasing normative expectation of justice in post-conflict situations, this volume is a valuable resource for researchers in international affairs, human rights, political science, and conflict studies.
