A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola

Religion And Culture In Medieval Islam:

Religion and Culture in Medieval Islam Richard G. Hovannisian, Georges Sabagh, 1999 Seven distinguished scholars explore the religion and culture of medieval Islam

Medieval Islam Gustave Edmund Grunebaum, 1947 Western Views of Islam in Medieval and Early Modern Europe M. Frassetto, D. Blanks, 1999-12-09 Western Views of Islam in Medieval and Early Modern Europe considers the various attitudes of European religious and secular writers towards Islam during the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period Examining works from England France Italy the Holy Lands and Spain the essays in this volume explore the reactions of Westerners to the culture and religion of Islam Many of the works studied reveal the hostility toward Islam of Europeans and the creation of negative stereotypes of Muslims by Western writers These essays also reveal attempts at accommodation and understanding that stand in contrast to the prevailing hostility that existed then and in some ways exists still today

Islam in the Middle Ages Jacob Lassner, Michael Bonner, In the Middle Ages a varied and vibrant Islamic culture flourished in all its aspects from religious institutions to legal and scientific endeavors Lassner Reisman and Bonner detail how all three monotheistic traditions are linked to the same sacred history They trace the most current scholarship on the Arabian background to Islam the prophet's early religious message and its appeal They the Qur'an and how it would have been understood by the earliest generations of Muslims How much does historical memory come into play in current depictions of this early era Beyond religious institutions Muslim scholars and scientists were vital to both the transmission of knowledge from the Greek civilization and to the uninterrupted progress of science The authors explore the role that non-Muslim minorities played within this culture and they detail the splits within the Muslim world that continue to this day

Symbols of Authority in Medieval Islam Blain H Auer, 2012-08-15 With the execution of the Abbasid caliph in Al Mustasim in 1258 Sunni authority and legitimacy in Baghdad began to disintegrate and the recently established Delhi Sultanate became a new focus for the development of Muslim societies amidst a global shift in Islamic authority Here Blain Auer investigates the ways three historians living in India during the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries Minhaj Siraj Juzjani Ziya al-Din Barani and al-Din Siraj Afif narrated the religious values of Muslim sovereigns through the process of history writing Aiding the project of empire building these historians and intellectuals drew up an idea of an Islamic heritage that invented and reinterpreted conceptions of a historically rooted Muslim authority With fresh insights on the intersections between religion politics and historiography this book will be indispensable for all those interested in Islamic studies history religion politics and South Asia

Piety and Patienthood in Medieval Islam Ahmed Ragab, 2018 This book investigates the early and foundational writings on prophetic medicine and related pietistic writings on health and disease produced during the Islamic Classical Age

A Culture of Ambiguity Thomas Bauer, 2021-06-08 In the Western imagination Islamic cultures are dominated by dogmatic religious norms that permit no nuance Those fighting such stereotypes have countered with a portrait of Islam's medieval Golden Age marked by rationality tolerance and even proto secularism How can we understand Islamic history culture and thought beyond this dichotomy In this magisterial cultural and intellectual history Thomas Bauer reconsiders classical and modern Islam by tracing differing attitudes toward ambiguity Over a span of many centuries he explores the tension between one strand that aspires to annihilate all uncertainties and establish absolute uncontested truths and another competing tendency that looks for ways to live with ambiguity and accept complexity Bauer ranges across cultural and linguistic ambiguities considering premodern Islamic textual and cultural forms from law to Quranic exegesis to literary genres alongside attitudes toward religious minorities and foreigners He emphasizes the relative absence of conflict between religious and secular discourses in classical Islamic culture which stands in striking contrast to both present day fundamentalism and much of European history Bauer shows how Islam's encounter with the modern West and its demand for certainty helped bring about both Islamicist and secular liberal ideologies that in their own ways rejected ambiguity and therefore also their own cultural traditions Awarded the prestigious Leibniz Prize A Culture of Ambiguity not only reframes a vast range of Islamic history but also offers an interdisciplinary model for investigating the tolerance of ambiguity across cultures and eras

Medieval Empires and the Culture of Competition Samuel England, 2018-03-07

The first book to look critically at digital technologies and the role they play within queer lives in contemporary India The Medieval Islamic Hospital Ahmed Ragab, 2015-10-14 The first monograph on the history of Islamic hospitals this volume focuses on the under examined Egyptian and Levantine institutions of the twelfth to fourteenth centuries By the twelfth century hospitals serving the sick and the poor could be found in nearly every Islamic city Ahmed Ragab traces the varying origins and development of these institutions locating them in their urban environments and linking them to charity networks and patrons political projects Following the paths of patients inside hospital wards he investigates who they were and what kinds of experiences they had The Medieval Islamic Hospital explores the medical networks surrounding early hospitals and sheds light on the particular brand of practice oriented medicine they helped to develop Providing a detailed picture of the effect of religion on medieval medicine it will be essential reading for those interested in history of medicine history of Islamic sciences or history of the Mediterranean The Abrahamic Religions: A Very Short Introduction Charles L.

Cohen, 2019-12-11 In the book of Genesis God bestows a new name upon Abram Abraham a father of many nations With this name and his Covenant Abraham would become the patriarch of three of the world's major religions Judaism Christianity and Islam Connected by their mutual if differentiated veneration of the One God proclaimed by Abraham these traditions share much beyond their origins in the ancient Israel of the Old Testament This Very Short Introduction explores the intertwined histories of these monotheistic religions from the emergence of Christianity and Islam to the violence of the Crusades and the cultural exchanges of al Andalus Each religion continues to be shaped by this history but has also reacted to the forces of modernity and politics Movements such as the Reformation and that led by seventh century Kharijites have emerged intentioned to reform or restore traditional religious practice but quite different in their goals and effects Relationships with states among them Israel and Saudi Arabia have also figured importantly in their development The Abrahamic Religions A Very Short Introduction brings these traditions together into a common narrative lending much needed context to the story of Abraham and his descendants ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

What is "Islamic" Art? Wendy M. K. Shaw, 2019-10-10 An alternate approach to Islamic art emphasizing literary over historical contexts and reception over production in visual arts and music Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism Daily Life in the Medieval Islamic World James E. Lindsay, 2008 Describing various aspects of life in complex historical eras cultural social religious and political this work details such day to day activities as cooking games dress and parenting Encyclopaedia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1910 This eleventh edition was developed during the encyclopaedia's transition from a British to an American publication Some of its articles were written by the best known scholars of the time and it is considered to be a landmark encyclopaedia for scholarship and literary style Medieval Islam Gustave E. von Grunebaum, 2010-01-15 From the Preface This book has grown out of a series of public lectures delivered in the spring of 1945 in the Division of the Humanities of the University of Chicago It proposes to outline the cultural orientation of the Muslim Middle Ages with eastern Islam as the center of attention It attempts to characterize the medieval Muslim's view of himself and his peculiarly defined universe the fundamental intellectual and emotional attitudes that governed his works and the mood in which he lived his life It strives to explain the structure of his universe in terms of inherited borrowed and original elements the institutional framework within which it functioned and its place in relation to the contemporary Christian world A consideration of the various fields of cultural activity requires an analysis of the dominant interest the intentions and to some extent the methods of reasoning with which the Muslim approached his special subjects and to which achievement and limitations of achievement are due Achievements referred to or personalities discussed will never be introduced for their own sake let alone for the sake of listing the sum total of this civilization s major contributions They are dealt with rather to evidence the peculiar ways in which the Muslim essayed to understand and to organize his world The plan of the book thus rules out the narration of political history beyond the barest skeleton but it requires the ascertaining of the exact position of Islam in the medieval world and its significance This plan also excludes a study of Muslim economy but it leads to an interpretation of the social structure as molded by the prime loyalties cherished by the Muslim

Medieval Islamic Civilization Josef W. Meri,2006 Examines the socio cultural history of the regions where Islam took hold between the 7th and 16th century This two volume work contains 700 alphabetically arranged entries and provides a portrait of Islamic civilization It is of use in understanding the roots of Islamic society as well to explore the culture of medieval civilization

A History of Medieval Islam John Joseph Saunders,1965 This is an introduction to the history of the Muslim East from the rise of Islam to the Mongol conquests It explains and indicates the main trends of Islamic historical evolution during the Middle Ages and will help the non Orientalist to understand something of the relationship between Islam and Christendom in those centuries

Piety and Patienthood in Medieval Islam Ahmed Ragab,2018-05-03 How did pious medieval Muslims experience health and disease Rooted in the prophet s experiences with medicine and healing Muslim pietistic literature developed cosmologies in which physical suffering and medical interventions interacted with religious obligations and spiritual health This book traces the development of prophetic medical literature and religious writings around health and disease to give a new perspective on how patienthood was conditioned by the intersection of medicine and Islam The author investigates the early and foundational writings on prophetic medicine and related pietistic writings on health and disease produced during the Islamic Classical Age Looking at attitudes from and towards clerics physicians and patients sickness and health are gradually revealed as a social gendered religious and cultural experience Patients are shown to experience certain sensoria that are conditioned not only by medical knowledge but also by religious and pietistic attitudes This is a fascinating insight into the development of Muslim pieties and the traditions of medical practice It will be of great interest to scholars interested in Islamic Studies history of religion history of medicine science and religion and the history of embodied religious practice particularly in matters of health and medicine
