Religion And Peace In The Middle East Papers From A Conference Of The Council:

Religion and Peace in the Middle East Frank Kaufmann, Justin Watson, 1988 The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences, 1989 Religious Transnational Actors and Soft Power Jeffrey Haynes, 2016-03-23 Haynes looks at religious transnational actors in the context of international relations with a focus on both security and order. With renewed scholarly interest in the involvement of religion in international relations, many observers and scholars have found this move unexpected because it challenges conventional wisdom about the nature and long term historical impact of secularisation. The return of religion to international relations necessarily involves deprivatisation. Recent challenges to international security and order emanate from various entities, notably extremists, people often said to be excluded from the benefits of globalisation for reasons of culture, history and geography. This study looks at the dynamics of this new religious pluralism as it influences the global political landscape. Several specific transnational religious actors are examined in the chapters, including American Evangelical Protestants, Roman Catholics, the Organisation of the Islamic Conference, Sunni extremist groups, al Qaeda and Lashkar e Taiba, and Shia transnational networks. While varying widely in what they seek to achieve, they also share an important characteristic: each seeks to use religious soft power to advance their interests. In sum, these religious transnational actors all wish to see the spread and development of certain values and norms which impact on international security and order.

Conceptualizing Mass Violence Navras J. Aafreedi, Priya Singh, 2021-05-13 Conceptualizing Mass Violence draws attention to the conspicuous inability to inhibit mass violence in myriad forms and considers the plausible reasons for doing so. Focusing on a postcolonial perspective, the volume seeks to popularize and institutionalize the study of mass violence in South Asia. The essays explore and deliberate upon the varied aspects of mass violence, namely revisionism, reconstruction, atrocities, trauma, memorialization, and literature, the need for Holocaust education, and the criticality of dialogue and reconciliation. The language, content, and characteristics of mass violence, genocide, explicitly reinforce its aggressive, transmuting, and multifaceted character, and the consequent necessity to understand the same in a nuanced manner. The book is an attempt to do so, as it takes episodes of mass violence for case study from all inhabited continents from the twentieth century to the present. The volume studies consciously enforced mass violence through an interdisciplinary approach and suggests that dialogue aimed at reconciliation is perhaps the singular agency via which a solution could be achieved from mass violence in the global context. The volume is essential reading for postgraduate students and scholars from the interdisciplinary fields of Holocaust and Genocide Studies, History, Political Science, Sociology, World History, Human Rights, and Global Studies.

Heirs of Abraham Bradford E. Hinze,Irfan A. Omar,2013-01-09 Argues that collaboration and bonds of respect are possible between Muslim Jews and Christians today The three Abrahamic traditions have a long history of clashes often with disastrous results This book offers an alternative to those who see only a future like the past of increasing friction and violence Three of the most respected figures representing Catholic Christianity Judaism and Islam Archbishop Michael Fitzgerald Professor Reuven Firestone and Professor Mahmoud Ayoub show that collaboration can work that it is possible to foster mutual understanding and appreciation of the different traditions in practical ways Gender, Religion and

Change in the Middle East Inger Marie Okkenhaug,Ingvald Flakerud,2005-03-01 The complicated link between women and religion in the Middle East has been a source of debate for centuries and has special resonance today Whether religion reinforces female oppression or provides opportunities for women or a combination of both depends on time place and circumstance This book seeks to contextualize women s roles within their religious traditions rather than through the lens of a dominant culture Gender Religion and Change in the Middle East crosses boundaries and borders and will appeal to a global audience This book provides a comprehensive survey of women in Muslim Jewish and Christian communities in the Middle East during the last two centuries The authors consider women s defined roles within these religious communities as well as exploring how women themselves develop and apply their own strategies within religious societies The wide ranging accounts draw on case studies from Iran Turkey Afghanistan Israel Jordan Egypt Palestine and Lebanon since 1800 Throughout the authors challenge our understanding of patriarchy to offer a more nuanced account Taking a balanced look at the issues of religion gender and change in the Middle East this unique interdisciplinary study gives new insight to the theme of women and religion in the Middle East Call to Mission and Perceptions of Proselytism John

Baxter-Brown,2022-04-13 Proselytism remains one of the most divisive issues in global Christianity jeopardizing many ecumenical initiatives and projects Almost all traditions accuse others of proselytism but none readily confess to it as one tradition s mission and evangelism is another s proselytism This work brings together for the first time significant formal statements from Christian bodies and churches alongside articles from leading commentators in this hotly contested issue It gives clergy academics and students a vital resource in understanding the perspectives of different traditions and therefore the opportunity to study and understand viewpoints and opinions from competing perspectives The volume originates in a process of work commissioned by the World Pentecostal Fellowship the World Council of Churches the World Evangelical Alliance and the Roman Catholic Church under the auspices of the Global Christian Forum We discovered that there are no easy answers that resolve the tensions and debates about proselytism but through listening and understanding different voices new opportunities for establishing constructive relationships can and do emerge Peace Watch ,1995 Visions of the End Times Laura Duhan-Kaplan,Anne-Marie Ellithorpe,Harry O. Maier,2022-11-11 Global challenges fill the news today It s not always easy to balance fear with hope That s why this book points to resources for optimism and action A diverse group of scholars draw on Jewish Christian Islamic and M ori traditions to describe challenges and hopes They recognize the ruptures of militarism trauma colonialism religious nationalism climate change and more But they also describe the healing power of communal action spiritual practices biblical literature and the arts Piety, Politics, and Power David D. Grafton,2009-03-16 From the time of Martin Luther s writing of On War Against the Turk in 1529 to American Lutheran military chaplains serving in the U S led invasion of Iraq in 2003 Lutheranism has had a symbiotic relationship with Islam in the Middle East framed across cultural and religious borders There have been those who have crossed these borders to engage in mission and dialogue In Piety Politics and Power David Grafton examines the origins of the American Lutheran missionary movement in the Middle East with a focus on its encounter with Muslims and the varied Lutheran theological responses toward Islam The narrative is placed within historical contexts to provide an overarching background of Middle Eastern history and Christian Muslim Relations The survey covers Lutheran missionary communities in Persia Iraq Egypt Lebanon and Jerusalem and the West Bank including the work of the Lutherans working for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missionaries the Anglican Church Missionary Society the Lutheran Orient Mission the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Whether enthusiastic Pietists seeking the conversion of Muslims and Jews cautious theologians in dialogue with Islam Judaism or Oriental Orthodoxy or social activists working on behalf of refugees in Egypt and the West Bank Grafton argues that these Christian missionaries were all enmeshed in the politics of the communities in which they lived and either contributed to or suffered from the realities of Middle Eastern and international politics Given the current reality of Pax Americana in the Middle East the author asks the driving question about the role of American Lutheran missions and Lutheran Middle Eastern Muslim dialogue in the age of American power in the Middle East The Post-Colonial State and Civil War in Sudan Noah R. Bassil,2015-08-25 The humanitarian crisis in Darfur a consequence of the civil war and ongoing violence has attracted significant international media attention Here Noah Bassil offers a re conception of the conflict in Darfur by examining the origins and progression of the conflict through the broader issue of state failure in post colonial Sudan By moving away from a localised view of the conflict Bassil is able to demonstrate the extent to which the breakdown of social relations in Darfur is interconnected with the wider breakdown of Sudanese and post colonial societies offering an examination of the nexus between international national and local forces Through its coherent framework for understanding the causes of the civil war that erupted in the Darfur region in 2003 this book provides a unique examination of the conflict and the wider post colonial situation making it an important contribution to the fields of History International Relations and Peace Studies

Jerusalem s formal political borders reveal neither the dynamics of power in the city nor the underlying factors that make an agreement between Israel and the Palestinians so difficult The lines delineating Israeli authority are frequently different from those delineating segregated housing or areas of uneven service provision or parallel national electoral districts of competing educational jurisdictions In particular the city s large number of holy sites and restricted religious compounds create enclaves that continually threaten to undermine the Israeli state s authority and control over the city This lack of congruity between political control and the actual spatial organization and everyday use of the city leaves many areas of occupied East Jerusalem in a kind of twilight zone where citizenship property rights and the enforcement of the rule of law are ambiguously applied Michael Dumper plots a history of Jerusalem that examines this intersecting and multileveled matrix and in so doing is able to portray the constraints on Israeli control over the city and the resilience of Palestinian enclaves after forty five years of Israeli occupation Adding to this complex mix is the role of numerous external influences religious political financial and cultural so that the city is also a crucible for broader contestation While the Palestinians may not return to their previous preeminence in the city neither will Israel be able to assert a total and irreversible dominance His conclusion is that the city will not only have to be shared but that the sharing will be based upon these many borders and the interplay between history geography and religion The United States Institute of Peace Journal ,1993 The Routledge Handbook of Religions and Global Development Emma Tomalin,2015-02-11 This Handbook provides a cutting edge survey of the state of research on religions and global development Part one highlights critical debates that have emerged within research on religions and development particularly with respect to theoretical conceptual and methodological considerations from the perspective of development studies and its associated disciplines Parts two to six look at different regional and national development contexts and the place of religion within these These parts integrate and examine the critical debates raised in part one within empirical case studies from a range of religions and regions Different religions are situated within actual locations and case studies thus allowing a detailed and contextual understanding of their relationships to development to emerge Part seven examines the links between some important areas within development policy and practice where religion is now being considered including Faith Based Organisations and Development Public Health Religion and Development Human rights Religion and Development Sustainable Development Climate Change and Religion Global Institutions and Religious Engagement in Development Economic Development and Religion Religion Development and Fragile States Development and Faith Based Education Taking a global approach the Handbook covers Africa Latin America South Asia East and South East Asia and the Middle East It is essential reading for students and researchers in development studies and religious studies and is highly relevant to those working in area studies as well as a range of disciplines from theology anthropology and economics to geography international relations politics and sociology
