Religion And Politics In Africa:

Religion and Politics in Africa Jeffrey Haynes, 1996 The impact of religion on the political process has come to the fore in recent years in a wide variety of societies Yet the significant and varied ways in which the rapidly changing religious context has impacted on the politics of modern Africa is still a relatively neglected field This book which is designed to fill this gap in the teaching of African Politics assembles and analyses an enormous amount of hitherto scattered material on the interaction between politics and religious groups in the post independence but also colonial eras Dr Haynes focuses on all three of the main organised religious traditions in Africa Christian Islamic and syncretistic movements including the rise of various fundamentalist groups His thematic and comparative approach embraces all parts of Sub Saharan Africa and seeks to locate the role of religion in the African political process in its historical social and international contexts In doing so he illuminates what has often been a profoundly important factor affecting the stability of governments evolution of civil society and even the development trajectory of many African countries The author's combination of theoretical context rich empirical information and thoughtful analysis makes this book ideal as a text for students as well as commanding a wider interest

Public Religion and the Politics of Homosexuality in Africa Adriaan van Klinken, Ezra Chitando, 2016-04-14 Issues of same sex relationships and gay and lesbian rights are the subject of public and political controversy in many African societies today Frequently these controversies receive widespread attention both locally and globally such as with the Anti Homosexuality Bill in Uganda In the international media these cases tend to be presented as revealing a deeply rooted homophobia in Africa fuelled by religious and cultural traditions But so far little energy is expended in understanding these controversies in all their complexity and the critical role religion plays in them This is the first book with multidisciplinary perspectives on religion and homosexuality in Africa It presents case studies from across the continent from Egypt to Zimbabwe and from Senegal to Kenya and covers religious traditions such as Islam Christianity and Rastafarianism The contributors explore the role of religion in the politicisation of homosexuality investigate local and global mobilisations of power critically examine dominant religious discourses and highlight the emergence of counter discourses Hence they reveal the crucial yet ambivalent public role of religion in matters of sexuality social justice and human rights in contemporary Africa

Religion and Human Security in Africa Ezra Chitando, Joram Tarusarira, 2019-01-23 Across diverse countries and contexts in Africa religion has direct implications for human security While some individuals and groups seek to manipulate and control through the deployment of religion religious belief is also a common facet of those working towards peace and reconciliation Despite the strategic importance of religion to human security in Africa there are few contemporary publications that explore this issue on an international scale This volume redresses that imbalance by examining religion's impact on human security across Africa Written by an international team of contributors this book looks in detail at the intersection of religion and security in a variety of African contexts Case studies from a diverse set of countries including Nigeria Ghana South Africa

Burkina Faso and more are used to illustrate wider trends across the continent Acknowledging that religion can be used to incite violence as well as encourage peace the chapters employ an interdisciplinary exploration of the ethics sociology and politics around these issues This is much needed volume on religion s capacity to effect human security It will therefore be of significant interest to any scholar of religious studies African studies political science the sociology of religion and anthropology as well as peace conflict and reconciliation studies

Religion and Politics in Europe, the Middle East and North Africa

Jeffrey Haynes,2009-10-16 In the early twenty first century it is now clear that religion is increasingly influential in the political realm in ways which call into question the principles and practices of secularism The Iranian revolution of 1978-9 marked the decisive reappearance of political religion in global politics highlighting a major development which is the subject of this edited volume Addressing a highly salient and timely topic this book examines the consequences of political interactions involving the state and religious actors in Christian Muslim and Judaist contexts Building on research the basic premise of this text is that religious actors including Islamist groups the Roman Catholic and the Orthodox churches pose various challenges for citizenship democracy and secularisation in Europe the Middle East and North Africa MENA The key questions on which the book focuses are Why how and when do religious actors seek to influence political outcomes in these regions Providing a survey of what is happening in relation to the interaction of religion and politics both domestically and internationally this book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics religion European and Middle East studies

From Pews to Politics Gwyneth H. McClendon,Rachel Beatty Riedl,2019-11-14 Using Christianity in Africa this book demonstrates that cultural influences specifically religious sermons can impact political participation

Religions in Contemporary Africa Laura S. Grillo,Adriaan van Klinken,Hassan Ndlovu,2019-03-28 Religions in Contemporary Africa is an accessible and comprehensive introduction to the three main religious traditions on the African continent African indigenous religions Christianity and Islam The book provides a historical overview of these important traditions and focuses on the roles they play in African societies today It includes social cultural and political case studies from across the continent on the following topical issues Witchcraft and modernity Power and politics Conflict and peace Media and popular culture Development Human rights Illness and health Gender and sexuality With suggestions for further reading discussion questions illustrations and a list of glossary terms this is the ideal textbook for students in religion African studies and adjacent fields approaching this subject area for the first time

Religion and Politics in Kenya B. Knighton,2009-09-14 Addresses the various political aspects of the Kenyan political mosaic during the time of Bishop David Gitari later Archbishop 1997-2002 These essays focus on both this courageous man and the various aspects of the political mosaic in Kenya at that time to 2008 in an effort to bring out the religious dimensions of Kenyan and African politics

Politics, Religion, and Power in the Great Lakes Region Murindwa Rutanga,2011 This book focuses on the European invasion of the GLR It analyses the factors that underlay the invasion the demarcation process that followed and the indigenous people's responses to it. What is worth noting is that most of the anti-colonial struggles in the GLR were anchored in religion. Reference is made to the Maji Maji Rebellion, the Nyabingi Movement, the Lamogi Movement, Dini Ya Misambwa, and the different independent churches that arose in the GLR during colonialism. Even the more secular Mau Mau Movement integrated religious cultural practices in its bondings through oath-taking. The most pronounced was the Nyabingi Movement, which covered almost the whole region: Tanzania, Rwanda, Burundi, DRC, and Uganda. This work investigates why the groups resisted, the nature of their resistance, and the reasons why they were defeated. It explains why and how the European colonisation of this region created material conditions and seeds for the subsequent recurrent conflicts in the GLR.

Page 6 Politics and Religion in Zimbabwe Ezra Chitando, 2020-04-03. This book illustrates how religion and ideology were used by Robert Mugabe to ward off opposition within his own party in Zimbabwe and from the West. An interdisciplinary line up of contributors argue that Mugabe used a calculated narrative of deification, presenting himself as a divine figure who had the task of delivering land, freedom, and confidence to black people across the world to remain in power in Zimbabwe. The chapters highlight the appropriation and deployment of religious themes in Mugabe's domestic and international politics, reflect on the contestation around the deification of Mugabe in Zimbabwean politics across different forms of religious expression, including African Traditional Religions and various strands of Christianity, and initiate further reflections on the interface between religion and politics in Africa and globally. Politics and Religion in Zimbabwe will be of interest to scholars of religion and politics, Southern Africa, and African politics.

Islam in West Africa Nehemia Levtzion, 2017-01-12. First published in 1994, this volume brings together essays from the celebrated scholar of African history, Nehemia Levtzion. The articles cover a wide range of themes, including Islamization, Islam in politics, Islamic revolutions, and the work of the historian in studying this field. This collection is a rich source of supplementary material to Professor Levtzion's major publications on Islam in West Africa. This book will be of key interest to those studying Islamic and West African history.

Religion and the Covid-19 Pandemic in Southern Africa Fortune Sibanda, Tenson Muyambo, Ezra Chitando, 2022. This book investigates the role of religion in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic in Southern Africa. Building on a diverse range of methodologies and disciplinary approaches, the book reflects on how religion, politics, and health have interfaced in Southern African contexts when faced with the sudden public health emergency caused by the pandemic. Religious actors have played a key role on the frontline throughout the pandemic, sometimes posing roadblocks to public health messaging but more often deploying their resources to help provide effective and timely responses. Drawing on case studies from African Indigenous Knowledge Systems, Islam, Rastafari, and various forms of Christianity, this book provides important reflections on the role of religion in crisis response. This book will be of interest to researchers across the fields of African Studies, Health, Politics, and Religious Studies.

Politics as Religion Emilio Gentile, 2020-09-01. Emilio Gentile, an internationally renowned authority on fascism and totalitarianism, argues that politics over the past two centuries has often taken on the features of religion.

claiming as its own the prerogative of defining the fundamental purpose and meaning of human life. Secular political entities such as the nation, the state, race, class, and the party became the focus of myths, rituals, and commandments and gradually became objects of faith, loyalty, and reverence. Gentile examines this sacralization of politics as he defines it both historically and theoretically, seeking to identify the different ways in which political regimes as diverse as fascism, communism, and liberal democracy have ultimately depended like religions on faith, myths, rites, and symbols. Gentile maintains that the sacralization of politics as a modern phenomenon is distinct from the politicization of religion that has arisen from militant religious fundamentalism. Sacralized politics may be democratic in the form of a civil religion or it may be totalitarian in the form of a political religion. Using this conceptual distinction and moving from America to Europe and from Africa to Asia, Gentile presents a unique comparative history of civil and political religions from the American and French Revolutions through nationalism and socialism, democracy and totalitarianism, fascism and communism up to the present day. It is also a fascinating book for understanding the sacralization of politics after 9/11. Pentecostal Republic Ebenezer

Obadare, 2018-10-15 Throughout its history, Nigeria has been plagued by religious divisions. Tensions have only intensified since the restoration of democracy in 1999, with the divide between Christian south and Muslim north playing a central role in the country's electoral politics as well as manifesting itself in the religious warfare waged by Boko Haram. Through the lens of Christian-Muslim struggles for supremacy, Ebenezer Obadare charts the turbulent course of democracy in the Nigerian Fourth Republic, exploring the key role religion has played in ordering society. He argues the rise of Pentecostalism is a force focused on appropriating state power, transforming the dynamics of the country and acting to demobilize civil society, further providing a trigger for Muslim revivalism. Covering events of recent decades to the election of Buhari, Pentecostal Republic shows that religious political contestations have become integral to Nigeria's democratic process and are fundamental to understanding its future. Competing for Caesar Chammah J. Kaunda, Marja Hinfelaar, 2020-11-03

Competing for Caesar brings together for the first time key scholars working on various issues related to religion and public life in Zambia. They explore the interplay between religion and politics in Zambian society and how these religions manage and negotiate their identities in public life. This book analyzes recent religious dynamics in the nation's political life and considers what constructive role religion could play to promote an alternative political vision to subvert neo-colonialism. Competing for Caesar carries forward a unique commitment on the part of Fortress Press to engage with the challenges and opportunities of Christianity in the Global South. The book will be of interest to scholars, professors, and students in a wide range of fields. Religion and AIDS in Africa Jenny Trinitapoli, Alexander Weinreb, 2012-07-09

The first comprehensive empirical account of how religion affects the interpretation, prevention, and mitigation of AIDS in Africa, the world's most religious continent. Africa Today Heather Deegan, 2009 In the post-9/11 global environment, Africa is standing at a crossroads in international affairs as the combined issues of politics, religion, and security attract renewed interest. While some countries seem to be moving forward with greater levels of confidence democracy and stability others continue to be mired in conflict poverty and religious ethnic division This text focuses on key contemporary issues that the continent faces providing a comprehensive introduction of current political religious developmental and security concerns Features include Individual chapters devoted to key issues including health gender corruption religion and the newly emerging problems of human security Case studies and detailed analysis of topical issues including Muslim Christian clashes Kano Northern Nigeria Conflict Arms and Reconstruction Darfur and Sierra Leone Comprehensive range of countries discussed including Zimbabwe Botswana Kenya Ethiopia Uganda Lesotho Somalia Namibia and Madagascar Fully up to date statistics including primary research based on interviews conducted by the author providing data for both individual countries and the continent as a whole Boxed descriptions explaining clearly the ideas in important subject areas such as Islamic law and society By drawing on the author's empirical research and situating discussion within the context of wider debate Africa Today is designed both to introduce and to develop a deeper understanding of this rapidly changing continent an essential text for all students of African politics and International Relations

Religion, Politics and Cults in East Africa Emmanuel K. Twesigye, 2010 Religion Politics and Cults in East Africa is the first major original and extensive research based study of the apocalyptic and doomsday Catholic Marian Movement and its Benedictine monastic moral and religious practices including vows of poverty celibacy obedience daily contemplation in silence and hard work The Marian Movement is presented within the cultural historical political and religious context of the East African Revival Movement the Anglican Balokole Movement Alice Lakwena's Holy Spirit Movement Joseph Kony's Lord's Resistance Army LRA and other religio political liberation movements including the Maji Maji the Mau Mau and Nyabingi Liberation Movement The Marian Movement was locally known as Abanyabugoto and The Movement for the Restoration of the Ten Commandments of God It began in 1989 as a Catholic women's Marian devotional and moral reformation movement founded and headed by Keledonia Mwerinde Faced with African cultural patriarchy and male dominated Catholic Church hierarchy Mwerinde recruited Joseph Kibwetere and the Rev Fr Dominic Kataribabo to serve as the public face of the Marian Movement In response to Catholic hierarchy's opposition and persecution Fr Kataribabo designed a theology of ritual sacrifice atonement and martyrdoms for the devout Marian Catholics who were devotees of the Blessed Virgin Mary He martyred the Marian devotees in March 2000 in order to transform them into Mary's saints and to liberate their souls and send them to heaven where they would instantly attain eternal life lasting peace and happiness

Worlds of Power Stephen Ellis, Gerrie ter Haar, 2004 With Christian revivals including Evangelicals in the White House Islamic radicalism and the revitalisation of traditional religions it is clear that the world is not heading towards a community of secular states Nowhere are religious thought and political practice more closely intertwined than in Africa African migrants in Europe and America who send home money to build churches and mosques African politicians who consult diviners guerrilla fighters who believe that amulets can protect them from bullets and ordinary people who seek ritual healing all of these are applying religious ideas to everyday problems of existence at every level of society Far from falling off the map of the world Africa is today a leading centre of Christianity and a growing field of Islamic activism while African traditional religions are gaining converts in the West One cannot understand the politics of the present without taking religious thought seriously Stories about witches miracles or people returning from the dead incite political action In Africa religious belief has a huge impact on politics from the top of society to the bottom Religious ideas show what people actually think about the world and how to deal with it Ellis and Ter Haar maintain that the specific content of religious thought has to be mastered if we are to grasp the political significance of religion in Africa today but their book also informs our understanding of the relationship between religion and political practice in general

Faith in Empire
Elizabeth Foster,2013-03-20 Faith in Empire is an innovative exploration of French colonial rule in West Africa conducted through the prism of religion and religious policy Elizabeth Foster examines the relationships among French Catholic missionaries colonial administrators and Muslim animist and Christian Africans in colonial Senegal between 1880 and 1940 In doing so she illuminates the nature of the relationship between the French Third Republic and its colonies reveals competing French visions of how to approach Africans and demonstrates how disparate groups of French and African actors many of whom were unconnected with the colonial state shaped French colonial rule Among other topics the book provides historical perspective on current French controversies over the place of Islam in the Fifth Republic by exploring how Third Republic officials wrestled with whether to apply the legal separation of church and state to West African Muslims

Religion and the Making of Nigeria Olufemi Vaughan,2016-12-09 In Religion and the Making of Nigeria Olufemi Vaughan examines how Christian Muslim and indigenous religious structures have provided the essential social and ideological frameworks for the construction of contemporary Nigeria Using a wealth of archival sources and extensive Africanist scholarship Vaughan traces Nigeria s social religious and political history from the early nineteenth century to the present During the nineteenth century the historic Sokoto Jihad in today s northern Nigeria and the Christian missionary movement in what is now southwestern Nigeria provided the frameworks for ethno religious divisions in colonial society Following Nigeria s independence from Britain in 1960 Christian Muslim tensions became manifest in regional and religious conflicts over the expansion of sharia in fierce competition among political elites for state power and in the rise of Boko Haram These tensions are not simply conflicts over religious beliefs ethnicity and regionalism they represent structural imbalances founded on the religious divisions forged under colonial rule
