Religion And Politics Islam And Muslim Civilisation:

Religion and Politics Jan-Erik Lane, Hamadi Redissi, 2020-07-24 Muslim societies are struggling under the need for modernization and the drift towards Islamic fundamentalism. The balance between these two forces is struck differently in the various Muslim societies depending upon the constellation of groups as historical legacies. However, the tension is real. In this work Jan Erik Lane and Hamadi Redissi look at the underlying social consequences of religious beliefs to account for the political differences between major civilizations of the world against a background of the rise of modern capitalism. Offering a timely new appraisal of the political and social impact of Islam, this expanded second edition of Religion and Politics has been fully updated in line with new events and will be welcomed by political scientists and historians alike. In a readable and accessible style, this thought-provoking work raises the question of whether the tenets of Islam might be reconciled with the requirements of post modernity.

Religion and Politics Jan-Erik Lane, Hamadi Redissi, 2020-07-24 Offering a timely new appraisal of the political and social impact of Islam, Religion and Politics will be welcomed by political scientists and historians alike. In this work Jan Erik Lane and Hamadi Redissi employ a Weberian approach underlining the social consequences of religious beliefs to account for the political differences between the major civilizations of the world against the background of the rise of modern capitalism in the Occidental sphere. Compared with Weber and his emphasis upon economic modernization, the perspective on religion is broadened to encompass post modernity; particular attention is paid to human rights and the rule of law. This thought-provoking work raises the question of whether the tenets of Islam might be reconciled with the requirements of post modernity.

The Politics of Knowledge in Premodern Islam Omid Safi, 2006-01-01 The eleventh and twelfth centuries comprised a period of great significance in Islamic history. The Great Saljuqs, a Turkish speaking tribe hailing from central Asia, ruled the eastern half of the Islamic world for a great portion of that time. In a far r

Religion in Modern Islamic Discourse Abdulkader Tayob, 2009 Religion as an analytical category doesn't lend itself readily to the reexamination and reinvention of tradition, especially in Islam, where the lines demarcating religion, culture, civilization, and politics are deliberately ambiguous. Religion in Modern Islamic Discourse examines the place of religion in debates and discussions from the nineteenth century to the present. The volume follows the transformation of Islamic discourse both in its acceptance of and resistance to modernity. Abdulkader Tayob is largely concerned with how intellectuals have reconciled Islam with the forces of modernization. He begins in Egypt and colonial India, closely reading early treatments of the essence of religion and its social value. He then explores key contributions on identity, state, law, and gender. Tayob's analysis reveals the deep structural foundations of Islam's approach to religion, religious values, and spirituality, and offers an unusually creative perspective on the evolution of modern Islamic discourse.

Islam in an Era of Nation-States Robert W. Hefner, Patricia Horvath, 1997-09-01 The renewal of the Muslim faith, which has occurred not only in Asia but in other parts of the world, has prompted warnings of an imminent clash of civilizations between Islam and the West. Islam in an Era of

Nation States examines the history politics and meanings of this resurgence in Indonesia Malaysia and the Philippines and explores its implications for Southeast Asia the larger Muslim world and the West This volume will be of interest to students of Islam Southeast Asian history and the anthropology of religion In examining the politics and meanings of Islamic resurgence it will also speak to political scientists religious scholars and others concerned with culture and politics in the late modern era

Redefining the Muslim Community Alexander Orwin,2017-05-02 Writing in the cosmopolitan metropolis of Baghdad Alfarabi 870 950 is unique in the history of premodern political philosophy for his extensive discussion of the nation or Umma in Arabic The term Umma may be traced back to the Qur n and signifies then and now both the Islamic religious community as a whole and the various ethnic nations of which that community is composed such as the Turks Persians and Arabs Examining Alfarabi s political writings as well as parts of his logical commentaries his book on music and other treatises Alexander Orwin contends that the connections and tensions between ethnic and religious Ummas explored by Alfarabi in his time persist today in the ongoing political and cultural disputes among the various nationalities within Islam According to Orwin Alfarabi strove to recast the Islamic Umma as a community in both a religious and cultural sense encompassing art and poetry as well as law and piety By proposing to acknowledge and accommodate diverse Ummas rather than ignoring or suppressing them Alfarabi anticipated the contemporary concept of Islamic civilization which emphasizes culture at least as much as religion Enlisting language experts jurists theologians artists and rulers in his philosophic enterprise Alfarabi argued for a new Umma that would be less rigid and more creative than the Muslim community as it has often been understood and therefore less inclined to force disparate ethnic and religious communities into a single mold Redefining the Muslim Community demonstrates how Alfarabi s judicious combination of cultural pluralism religious flexibility and political prudence could provide a blueprint for reducing communal strife in a region that continues to be plagued by it today

Religion and Politics Professor Hamadi Redissi,Professor Jan-Erik Lane,2013-03-28 Muslim societies are struggling under the need for modernization and the drift towards Islamic fundamentalism The balance between these two forces is struck differently in the various Muslim societies depending upon the constellation of groups as historical legacies However the tension is real In this work Jan Erik Lane and Hamadi Redissi look at the underlying social consequences of religious beliefs to account for the political differences between major civilizations of the world against a background of the rise of modern capitalism Offering a timely new appraisal of the political and social impact of Islam this expanded second edition of Religion and Politics has been fully updated in line with new events and will be welcomed by political scientists and historians alike In a readable and accessible style this thought provoking work raises the question of whether the tenets of Islam might be reconciled with the requirements of post modernity

The Case for Islamo-Christian Civilization Richard W. Bulliet,2006-03-22 The clash of civilisations so often talked about in connection with relations between the West and Arab nations is argues Richard Bulliet no more than dangerous sophistry based on misconceptions in American government He sets out the common ground between Islam and Christianity The Idea of the Muslim World Cemil Aydin, 2017-04-24 As Cemil Aydin explains in this provocative history it is a misconception to think that the world's 1.5 billion Muslims constitute a single religious political entity How did this mistaken belief arise why is it so widespread and how can its grip be loosened so that a more fruitful discussion about politics in Muslim societies can begin Islam and Politics, 2009 Constructing Bangladesh Sufia M. Uddin, 2006 Highlighting the dynamic pluralistic nature of Islamic civilization Sufia Uddin examines the complex history of Islamic state formation in Bangladesh formerly the eastern part of the Indian province of Bengal Uddin focuses on significant moments in the Muslim Civilization M. Umer Chapra, 2015-07-02 This is a subject of such relevance and importance that one wonders why nobody else dealt with it in book form before Dr Wilfried Hofmann Muslim civilization has experienced a decline during the last five centuries after previously having undergone a long period of prosperity and comprehensive development This raises a number of questions such as what factors enable Muslims to become successful during the earlier centuries of Islam and what led them to their present weak position Is Islam responsible for this decline or are there some other factors which come into play M Umer Chapra provides an authoritative diagnosis and prescription to reverse this decline M Umer Chapra is a research advisor at the Islamic Research and Training Institute of the Islamic Development Bank Jeddah and author of The Future of Economics and Islam and the Economic Challenge Identity, Politics and the Study of Islam Matt Sheedy, 2018 The volume brings together a variety of scholars both inside and outside of Islamic Studies in order to grapple with such questions as what if anything is unique about Islamic Studies Religion and State Leon Carl Brown, 2000 The image of Islam as an aggressive and xenophobic religion has long prevailed and can at times appear to be substantiated by current affairs This work challenges this conventional view with a historical overview ranging from Islam's early centuries to the present day Islam and the Challenge of Civilization Abdelwahab Meddeb, 2013-06-03 This is the perfect handbook for deepening our understanding of both the incredible richness through time and the paradoxical present obtuseness of Islamic culture Meddeb achieves this feat how clear knowledge can disarm belligerent interpretations of a paradoxical faith through his elegant and polyphonic use of Qur'anic exegesis advanced literary poetics and a strong sense of democratic citizen politics all of which are informed by a profound cosmopolitanism able to simultaneously draw on Ibn Arabi's eclectic sufism and Voltaire's secular intellect among many other sources A necessary exploration a must read Pierre Joris author of The University of California Book of North African Literature It is more urgent than ever to allow a voice such as Meddeb's to be heard the voice of an Arab intellectual familiar with both Muslim civilization and Western culture In this and thanks to his immense knowledge and open mindedness he is a precious translator capable of seeing both sides at the same time Marcel Henaff an important contribution to knowledge because it gives eloquent voice to a modern Muslim thinker who rejects the narrow legalism of the Wahhabi tradition of Saudi Arabia or the Puritanism of the Egyptian Muslim Brethren Patrick J Ryan S J Fordham University

Resurgent Islam and the Politics of Identity Ali A. Mazrui, 2014-10-16 One of the most important functions of religion is to serve as a basis of identity This collection of essays by Ali A Mazrui a distinguished scholar of Islam discusses how Islam differentiates Muslims from non Muslims and affects how Muslims view each other In the light of the upheaval currently occurring in the Muslim world this collection provides readers with valuable context for the challenges of modernity and multiculturalism faced by Muslims In these essays Mazrui deploys his formidable knowledge of theology history and Muslim societies to analyze the theological historical and political influences on Muslim identity In his usual style of comparative analysis Mazrui draws most frequently in these essays from examples in Africa the Middle East South Asia and Muslim communities in the West These essays delve into the complexities of Muslim identity and stratification and provide contributions to key debates on modern Islamic political ideology These essays will be of interest to readers engaged with Islam religion culture comparative politics and international relations

Ancient Religions, Modern Politics Michael A. Cook, 2014-03-23 Why Islam is more political and fundamentalist than other religions Why does Islam play a larger role in contemporary politics than other religions Is there something about the Islamic heritage that makes Muslims more likely than adherents of other faiths to invoke it in their political life If so what is it Ancient Religions Modern Politics seeks to answer these questions by examining the roles of Islam Hinduism and Christianity in modern political life placing special emphasis on the relevance or irrelevance of their heritages to today's social and political concerns Michael Cook takes an in depth comparative look at political identity social values attitudes to warfare views about the role of religion in various cultural domains and conceptions of the polity In all these fields he finds that the Islamic heritage offers richer resources for those engaged in current politics than either the Hindu or the Christian heritages He uses this finding to explain the fact that despite the existence of Hindu and Christian counterparts to some aspects of Islamism the phenomenon as a whole is unique in the world today The book also shows that fundamentalism in the sense of a determination to return to the original sources of the religion is politically more adaptive for Muslims than it is for Hindus or Christians A sweeping comparative analysis by one of the world's leading scholars of premodern Islam Ancient Religions Modern Politics sheds important light on the relationship between the foundational texts of these three great religious traditions and the politics of their followers today

Faith and Politics in Nigeria John N. Paden, 2008 Abstract The Clash of Civilizations and the Remaking of World Order Samuel P. Huntington, 2016-07-28 Samuel Huntington explains how clashes between civilizations are the greatest threat to world peace but also how an international order based on civilizations is the best safeguard against war Events since the publication of the book have proved the wisdom of that analysis The 9 11 attacks and wars in Iraq and Afghanistan have demonstrated the threat of civilizations but have also shown how vital international cross civilization cooperation is to restoring peace As ideological distinctions among nations have been replaced by cultural differences world politics has been reconfigured Across the globe new conflicts and new cooperation have replaced the old order of the Cold War era Islam

Between Culture and Politics Bassam Tibi, 2005-08-31 Bassam Tibi offers a radical solution to the problems faced by Islam in a rapidly changing and globalizing world. He proposes a depoliticization of the faith and the introduction of reforms to embrace secular democracy, pluralism, civil society, and individual human rights. The alternative to this is the impasse of fundamentalism. The pivotal argument is that Islam is being torn between the pressure for cultural innovation and a defensive move towards the politicization of its symbols for non-religious ends.
