Mattor med ränder och rutor Föreningen för Svensk Hemslöjd, Hanell, Gunnel, 1980 Bauhaus Weaving Theory T'ai Smith, 2014-11-01 The Bauhaus school in Germany has long been understood through the writings of its founding director Walter Gropius and well known artists who taught there such as Wassily Kandinsky and L szl Moholy Nagy Far less recognized are texts by women in the school s weaving workshop In Bauhaus Weaving Theory T ai Smith uncovers new significance in the work the Bauhaus weavers did as writers From colorful expressionist tapestries to the invention of soundproofing and light reflective fabric the workshop s innovative creations influenced a modernist theory of weaving In the first careful examination of the writings of Bauhaus weavers including Anni Albers Gunta St zl and Otti Berger Smith details how these women challenged assumptions about the feminine nature of their craft As they harnessed the vocabulary of other disciplines like painting architecture and photography Smith argues the weavers resisted modernist thinking about distinct media In parsing texts about tapestries and functional textiles the vital role these women played in debates about medium in the twentieth century and a nuanced history of the Bauhaus comes to light Bauhaus Weaving Theory deftly reframes the Bauhaus weaving workshop as central to theoretical inquiry at the school Putting questions of how value and legitimacy are established in the art world into dialogue with the limits of modernism Smith confronts the belief that the crafts are manual and technical but never intellectual arts Dimensional Adjectives Manfred Bierwisch, Ewald Lang, 2011-12-16 The present volume is the result of a project which concentrated on a selected subset of linguistic knowledge with the aim of giving a systematic account of the various aspects of structure and process in this subset and the interpretation of these The subset that for a number of reasons appeared appropriate to this undertaking centres around the dimensional adjectives of German That the enterprise ultimately produced a less integrated and complete result than expected is due to several reasons Some of these are of an intrinsic nature ever present and not particularly surprising Some however are related to the character of the project itself and are worth commenting upon as they reflect specific experiences and difficulties which we encountered during several years of working on the project We started from the assumption that the dimensional adjectives constitute a sufficiently rich but nevertheless limited domain of grammatical and conceptual structure which is fairly well understood and explored in relevant aspects Consequently we expected that summarizing integrating and extending the numerous results that were available should quickly lead to a more complete picture of the interaction of the components involved However even had the premise of this assumption been correct the conclusion turned out to be wrong fairly early in the project On closer inspection the investigations of the phenomena were much less complete the facts agreed upon less systematic and the proposed analyses far less convincing than supposed initially Svensk bok-katalog , 1976 Nya
