Williams, 2013-07-02 An antidote to the daily farrage of celebrity lives served up by the media this book celebrates the true homo ordinarius and his response to personal natural and man made challenges It is a well prepared potpourri lovingly served with gentle humour and a dash of nostalgia If you keep facing north you ll never see the sun rise These are the words of the character Three Schools in the story Facing North It is the story that gives the collection its name Facing North Tales from Bathsheba It is Three Schools way of saying that you won t find the right answer if you are not looking in the right place This applies to many of the characters in the book of short stories by Barbadian author Edison T Williams The ten intriguing stories span almost a century of Barbadian life starting in the 1930s The stories are told with humour and the insight of someone who understands the nuances of this small Caribbean society These stories are about the drama of life in a small community They also deal with the way in which villagers lives can from time to time be impacted by its transient residents But the Bathsheba in these stories is more than a small seaside village it is a microcosm of Barbados Other writers had this to say about the book Reminiscent of some of Mavis Gallant's short fiction The stories all good reads deal with serious current issues of politics economics race sex land appropriation and identity these are hopeful stories Robert Edison Sandiford author of THE TREE OF YOUTH AND OTHER STORIES Edison T Williams is a story teller He has the technique of gripping the reader from the beginning His endings are classic Somerset Maugham O Henry I have my favourites among the stories Desmond Lola and Bassman is fascinating The New Sybaris is a riveting read but I really loved them all Peter Laurie author of MAUBY S QUEST FOR THE MAGIC FLOWER AND OTHER BOOKS an excellent collection of short stories and a couple not so short Good set of characters that remind me of Steinbeck's Cannery Row I would love to meet these characters The New Sybaris is substantial and intricate in describing the many motives involved in a political issue I liked every story If I can speak for the public we want more Lennard Sillanpaa On Canada Author of AWAKENING SIBERIA This book stands out because the stories are great and the characters memorable Children's Books in Print R R Bowker Publishing, Bowker, 1999-12 A Sympathetic History of Jonestown Rebecca Moore, 1985 A study of the People's Temple written with compassion and understanding with special focus on the surviving family members of two of the victims This work seeks to dispel the bizarre image propagated by the media Children's Books in Print, 2007, 2006 With a Highland Regiment in Mesopotamia, 1916-1917 One of its officers,1918 Popular Medicinal Plants in Portland and Kingston, Jamaica Ina Vandebroek, David Picking, 2020-12-05 This book highlights the results from over a year of ethnobotanical research in a rural and an urban community in Jamaica where we interviewed more than 100 people who use medicinal plants for healthcare The goal of this research was to better understand patterns of medicinal plant knowledge and to find out which plants are used in consensus by local people for a variety of illnesses For this book we selected 25 popular medicinal plant species mentioned during fieldwork Through individual interviews we were able to rank plants according to their frequency of mention and categorized the medicinal uses for each species as major mentioned by more than 20% of people in a community or minor mentioned by more than 5% but less than 20% of people Botanical identification of plant specimens collected in the wild allowed for cross linking of common and scientific plant names To supplement field research we undertook a comprehensive search and review of the ethnobotanical and biomedical literature Our book summarizes all this information in detail under specific sub headings Edible Medicinal and Non-Medicinal Plants Lim T. K., 2012-01-03 This multi compendium is a comprehensive illustrated and scientifically up to date work covering more than a thousand species of edible medicinal and non medicinal plants This work will be of significant interest to scientists researchers medical practitioners pharmacologists ethnobotanists horticulturists food nutritionists agriculturists botanists herbalogists conservationists teachers lecturers students and the general public Topics covered include taxonomy botanical name and synonyms common English and vernacular names origin and distribution agro ecological requirements edible plant part and uses botany nutritive and medicinal pharmacological properties medicinal uses and current research findings non edible uses and selected cited references Each volume covers about a hundred species arranged according to families and species Each volume has separate scientific and common names indices and separate scientific and medical glossaries

Seeing the Body: Poems Rachel Eliza Griffiths,2020-06-09 Nominee for the 2021 NAACP Image Award in Poetry An elegiac and moving meditation on the ways in which we witness bodies of grief and healing Poems and photographs collide in this intimate collection challenging the invisible indefinable ways mourning takes up residence in a body both before and after life altering loss In radiant poems set against the evocative and desperate backdrop of contemporary events pop culture and politics Rachel Eliza Griffiths reckons with her mother s death aging authority art black womanhood memory and the American imagination The poems take shape in the space where public and private mourning converge finding there magic and music alongside brutality and trauma Griffiths braids a moving narrative of identity and its possibilities for rebirth through image and through loss A photographer as well as a poet Griffiths accompanies the fierce rhythm of her verses with a series of ghostly imaginative self portraits blurring the body s internal wilderness with landscapes alive with beauty and terror The collision of text and imagery offers an associative autobiography in which narratives of language absence and presence are at once saved revised and often erased Seeing the Body dismantles personal and public masks of silence and self destruction to visualize and celebrate the imperfect freedom of radical self love

Wyke, 2011-11-01 Sam Selvon a contemporary writer of major importance is well known to British and Caribbean readers but his work including ten novels has not attained the prominence it deserves internationally This study is a literary analysis of Selvon s use of Trinidad Creole English as an important component of his style and method of fictional composition Wyke follows the development of Selvon's writing from his early to his late career starting with his first novel A Brighter Sun 1952 continuing with The Lonely Londoners 1956 and the short stories Ways of Sunlight 1957 and devoting a large part of the book to Selvon's middle and later years focusing on such novels as I Hear Thunder 1963 The Housing Lark 1965 and Those Who Eat the Cascadura 1972 He finishes with the last two works of Selvon's trilogy Moses Ascending 1975 and Moses Migrating 1983 The book reveals Selvon as a serious pioneer in the use of dialect in narration instead of mainly in the dialogue of novels and other fiction writing Wyke's concise and penetrating analysis of individual novels and short stories including the lyrical story My Girl and the City and his demonstration of features of Trinidad Creole English as a versatile tool in the hands of a novelist will appeal to literary critics as well as to those who are interested in the relationship between linguistics and literary criticism Selvon's work often combines an interesting and humorous yet serious portrayal of the Commonwealth experience which will sound familiar to Caribbean English and Canadian audiences This book will introduce new readers to his oeuvre and will be particularly appealing to those examining the connection between the Caribbean Canada and Britain places where Selvon has lived and from where he draws the rich material he uses to create his art.
