Maurice the Hippo Claire Bos, Maarten Bos, 1998 Maurice is a shy hippo who tries to hide himself away from his friends until the last spread where he enjoys the best of all surprises

Hot Hippo Mwenye Hadithi, Adrienne Kennaway, 1999-01 Tells how the Hippo came to live in the river instead of dry land

Remaking Mutirikwi Joost Fontein, 2015 Finalist for the African Studies Association 2016 Melville J Herskovits Award A detailed ethnographic and historical study of the implications of fast track land reform in Zimbabwe from the perspective of those involved in land occupations around Lake Mutirikwi from the colonial period to the present day The Mutirikwi river was dammed in the early 1960s to make Zimbabwe's second largest lake This was a key moment in the Europeanisation of Mutirikwi's landscapes which had begun with colonial land appropriations in the 1890s But African landscapes were not obliterated by the dam They remained active and affective At independence in 1980 local clans reasserted ancestral land claims in a wave of squatting around Lake Mutirikwi They were soon evicted as the new government asserted control over the remaking of Mutirikwi's landscapes Amid fast track land reform in the 2000s the same people returned again to reclaim the land Many returned to the graves and ruins of past lives forged in the very substance of the soil and even incoming war veterans and new farmers appealed to autochthonous knowledge to make safe their resettlements This book explores those reoccupations and the complex contests over landscape water and belonging they provoked The 2000s may have heralded a long delayed re-Africanisation of Lake Mutirikwi but just as African presence had survived the dam so white presence remains active and affective through Rhodesian era discourses place names and the materialities of ruined farms contour ridging and old irrigation schemes Through lenses focused on the political materialities of water and land this book reveals how the remaking of Mutirikwi's landscapes has always been deeply entangled with changing strategies of colonial and postcolonial statecraft It highlights how the traces of different pasts intertwine in contemporary politics through the active enduring yet emergent forms and substances of landscape Joost Fontein is Director of the British Institute in Eastern Africa and Lecturer in Social Anthropology at the University of Edinburgh Published in association with the British Institute in Eastern Africa

The Hippo at the End of the Hall Helen Cooper, 2019-10-08 When Ben receives a mysterious invitation to an odd museum he's swept into a peculiar world of forgotten secrets and wild magic in this illustrated novel The invitation to the Gee Museum was delivered by bees It wasn't addressed to anyone but Ben knows that it was meant for him Why else would the images on the postcard have stirred up memories of his father who was lost at sea long ago Ben makes his way to the old dilapidated building to find a host of curious talking animals awaiting his arrival They are certain he is the only one who can save the museum But Ben and the animals in the Gee collection will have to outwit a devious rival museum owner and a greedy land developer With a bit of luck some strange magic and a little help from his mom Ben might succeed in ensuring the future of the museum and finding the answers about his father that he's been searching for his whole life Helen Cooper's first novel brims with mystery and hope and her lovely illustrations bring the wonders of the Gee Museum to life Ancient Egypt Transformed Adela Oppenheim, Dorothea Arnold, Dieter Arnold, Kei Yamamoto, 2015-10-12 The Middle Kingdom ca 2030-1650 B.C. was a transformational period in ancient Egypt during which older artistic conventions, cultural principles, religious beliefs, and political systems were revived and reimagined Ancient Egypt Transformed presents a comprehensive picture of the art of the Middle Kingdom, arguably the least known of Egypt's three kingdoms and yet one that saw the creation of powerful, compelling works rendered with great subtlety and sensitivity The book brings together nearly 300 diverse works including sculpture, relief, decoration, stelae, jewelry, coffins, funerary objects, and personal possessions from the world's leading collections of Egyptian art Essays on architecture, statuary, tomb and temple relief, decoration, and stele explore how Middle Kingdom artists adapted forms and iconography of the Old Kingdom using existing conventions to create strikingly original works Twelve lavishly illustrated chapters, each with a scholarly essay and entries on related objects, begin with discussions of the distinctive art that arose in the south during the early Middle Kingdom, the artistic developments that followed the return to Egypt's traditional capital in the north, and the renewed construction of pyramid complexes Thematic chapters devoted to the pharaoh, royal women, the court, and the vital role of family explore art created for different strata of Egyptian society while others provide insight into Egypt's expanding relations with foreign lands and the themes of Middle Kingdom literature The era's religious beliefs and practices, such as the pilgrimage to Abydos, are revealed through magnificent objects created for tombs, chapels, and temples Finally, the book discusses Middle Kingdom archaeological sites, including excavations undertaken by the Metropolitan Museum over a number of decades Written by an international team of respected Egyptologists and Middle Kingdom specialists, the text provides recent scholarship and fresh insights, making the book an authoritative resource The Rhetoric of Saint Augustine of Hippo Richard Leo Enos, 2008 It will remain the standard for a long time to come The Nature-study Review Maurice Alpheus Bigelow, Fred Lemar Charles, Elliot Rowland Downing, Anna Botsford Comstock, 1920 Ocean World Maurice Pledger, 2011-06-24 Splash! Dive deep into the ocean with Dewey Dolphin and meet his friends Otto Octopus and Brenda Butterfly Fish There are so many cool things to discover in the ocean: the coral reef, the sea bed, and north and south poles Kids will forget their learning Children will learn to identify different underwater creatures by matching the corresponding stickers to the picture and have the opportunity to create their own scenes with stickers too And let's not forget about the birds of the ocean: seagulls, albatross, and more Kids will want to dive right in to this one The Place of Judas Iscariot in Christology Anthony Cane, 2017-07-05 Exploring the significance of Judas Iscariot for Christian theology and the difficult issues surrounding Judas, Anthony Cane shows that focusing on the tension between providential and tragic interpretations of Judas in the New Testament and in subsequent writing about Judas is the key to understanding his significance Building on the work of Karl Barth and Donald MacKinnon Cane s argument sheds light not simply on the way Judas is understood but on the way Jesus and the whole economy of salvation are understood This book also highlights implications for the way in which issues relating to anti-Semitism and evil and suffering are most effectively explored The Ugly Duckling Hans Christian Andersen,1927 An ugly duckling spends an unhappy year ostracized by the other animals before he grows into a beautiful swan Littell's Living Age ,1892 Origines Ecclesiasticae Joseph Bingham,1840 Life and Death in Early Modern Philosophy Susan James,2021-09-07 This book sets out to convey the breadth of philosophical interest in life and death during the early modern period It ranges over debates in metaphysics the life sciences as we now call them epistemology the philosophy of mathematics philosophical psychology the philosophy of religion the philosophy of education and ethics At the same time it aims to illuminate the relationships between the problems explored under these headings Much of the fascination of early modern discussions of life and death lies in the way apparently disparate commitments merge into strange and unfamiliar outlooks and challenge some of our most deeply rooted assumptions In recent years there has been a wave of interest in the place of the life sciences within early modern natural philosophy and biological questions about life and death form part of the subject matter discussed in these chapters But Life and Death in Early Modern Philosophy has a further ambition to link the predominantly theoretical preoccupations associated with the study of organisms to the practical aspect of philosophy Instead of giving priority to themes that anticipate the preoccupations of modern science the volume aims to remind us that philosophy as our early modern predecessors understood it was also about learning how to live and how to die this above all is why life and death mattered to them

The Child in Christian Thought Marcia J. Bunge,2001 A collection of seventeen essays presenting theological perspectives on children throughout history Discusses the care of children their spiritual education and the role of parents the church and the state in raising children The Encyclopedia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren E. Thomas,2018-09-03 Originally published in 1973 this book reconstructs the political and economic organization and the social life of the Tio kingdom at the end of the 19th century by means of a critical synthesis of documentary and ethnographic data Based on a detailed study of rich documentary sources and fieldwork it analyses the persistent features of Tio social organization and political relations as well as the extensive economic changes associated with the development and later decline of caravan trading at Stanley Pool It is fully illustrated with maps tables and diagrams This book shows the importance for both anthropological theory and historical interpretation of obtaining comprehensive data on the state of a particular society at a given time Belgium and Holland Karl Baedeker (Firm),1881
