Max Beckmann Die Frankfurter Jahre Die Silberne Reihe:

Max Beckmann Stephan Reimertz, 1995 Max Beckmann Felix Billeter, Alina Dobzecki, Christian Lenz, 1994

Espressionismo tedesco Stephanie Barron, 1997 Our Courage - Jews in Europe 1945-48 Kata Bohus, Atina

Grossmann, Werner Hanak, Mirjam Wenzel, 2020 Jewish survivors actively took their fate in their own hands after the Shoah. Despite catastrophic and hostile circumstances they built networks and communities fought for justice and started documenting Nazi crimes. Essays, case studies of cities, biographical portraits and numerous illustrations explore the post war years from a pan European perspective. The book accompanies the first temporary exhibit of the Jewish Museum Frankfurt.

Hessische Bibliographie, 1994 Sigmar Polke Margit Rowell, Sigmar Polke, Michael Semff, Bice Curiger, Museum of Modern Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999. Sigmar Polke's thirty five year career during which he has produced a vast range of work in all mediums has earned him a reputation as one of the most significant artists of his generation. Born in 1941 he began his creative output around 1963 in Dusseldorf during a time of enormous social, cultural and artistic changes in Germany and elsewhere. Few of his works demonstrate more vividly his imagination, sardonic wit and subversive approach than the drawings, watercolors and gouaches produced during the 1960s and early 1970s. Embedded in these images are incisive and parodic commentaries on consumer society, the postwar political scene in Germany and classic artistic conventions.

Architecture New York Public Library. Art and Architecture Division, 1975 History of Civilization in England Henry Thomas Buckle, 1868 Artis, 1982 Identity and Image Jutta Vinzent, 2006-06-22. This book explores the image and identity of migr. painters, sculptors and graphic artists from Nazi Germany in Britain between 1933 and 1945. It focuses on a neglected field of Exile Studies: that of exiled artists in Britain. Methodologies used in this study have been developed by Exile Studies and History of Art but also by Postcolonialism scholars of which usually apply their ideas to the Afro-Asian emigration of the second part of the twentieth century. Thus this study represents methodologically a new way of looking at the emigration from Nazi Germany. Identity and Image is divided into five chapters. After an introductory Chapter One, historiography of the topic, methodology of the study, structure of the book, Chapter Two establishes socio-political patterns of emigration and provides an historical framework for Chapters Three and Four which concentrate on the image and identity of the refugee artist the former based on written sources and the latter on visual material In detail Chapter Three analyses the British image of the refugee artists and their works on the one hand and the migr s self representations on the other the latter exemplified by refugee organisations the Free German League of Culture Freier Deutscher Kulturbund the Austrian Centre the Anglo Sudeten Club and the Czech Institute and institutions founded by migr artists Jack Bilbo s Modern Art Gallery and Arthur Segal s Painting School Chapter Four examines the works produced in internment and those exhibited and produced for the refugee organisations discussed in Chapter Three Chapter Five discusses the results of this study in the light of three postcolonial concepts diaspora communities the notion of home and the gendered identity of the refugee The appendix lists all painters sculptors and graphic artists from Nazi Germany in Britain with biographical details Apart from visual and written sources discussed for the first time there are two major results of the study First although the artists were united as refugees this unity did not lead to a unity in art refugee art is a construction put forward by the British press and the refugee organisations particularly the Free German League of Culture Second contrary to claims that modern art was international and formed a universal unity that transgressed nationality neither the West Europe nor modernism form unities instead in the 1930s and 1940s cultures in Europe constructed conceptions of other European cultures on the basis of nation state identities

The Medieval Heritage in Early Modern Metaphysics and Modal Theory, 1400-1700 R.L. Friedman,L.O. Nielsen,2013-04-17 On the most basic level the articles brought together in the present volume aim to contribute to the charting of the often subtle links between the medieval and early modern periods in the fields of metaphysics philosophical theology and modal theory In selecting this line of inquiry the volume is consciously intended to offer support for the stance that in the higher or speculative sciences no sharp divide exists between the later Middle Ages on the one hand and the Renaissance and early modern period on the other In adopting such an approach one emphasizing historical continuity instead of discontinuity the volume can be seen as challenging at least two related sets of convictions concerning the intellectual life of the period 1400 1700 First prominent Renaissance and early modern thinkers portrayed their own intellectual projects and accomplishments as radical breaks with the scholasticism characteristic of the Middle Ages and also dominant in their own time the volume to no small extent takes as its point of departure a reluctance or at least a hesitation to accept these bold claims Second a large part of nineteenth and twentieth century historiography has taken the Renaissance and early modern claims of fundamental innovation at face value in emphasizing the continuity that exists between the thought of the medieval and of the early modern periods the volume is part of an attempt to offer a more balanced view of the intellectual production of the later period
