Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 1988 Mind Body and Sport NCAA, 2014-11-01 The Death of Expertise Tom Nichols, 2017-02-01

Technology and increasing levels of education have exposed people to more information than ever before These societal gains however have also helped fuel a surge in narcissistic and misguided intellectual egalitarianism that has crippled informed debates on any number of issues Today everyone knows everything with only a quick trip through WebMD or Wikipedia average citizens believe themselves to be on an equal intellectual footing with doctors and diplomats All voices even the most ridiculous demand to be taken with equal seriousness and any claim to the contrary is dismissed as undemocratic elitism Tom Nichols The Death of Expertise shows how this rejection of experts has occurred the openness of the internet the emergence of a customer satisfaction model in higher education and the transformation of the news industry into a 24 hour entertainment machine among other reasons Paradoxically the increasingly democratic dissemination of information rather than producing an educated public has instead created an army of ill informed and angry citizens who denounce intellectual achievement When ordinary citizens believe that no one knows more than anyone else democratic institutions themselves are in danger of falling either to populism or to technocracy or in the worst case a combination of both An update to the 2017 breakout hit the paperback edition of The Death of Expertise provides a new foreword to cover the alarming exacerbation of these trends in the aftermath of Donald Trump's election Judging from events on the ground since it first published The Death of Expertise issues a warning about the stability and survival of modern democracy in the Information Age that is even more important today

Maxine Waller,1995 The closing of local mines and factories collapsed the economic and social structure of Ivanhoe Virginia a small rural town once considered a dying community on the rough side of the mountain Documenting the creative survival techniques developed by Ivanhoe citizens in the aftermath It Comes from the People tells how this community organized to revitalize the town and demand participation in its future Photos interviews stories songs poems and scenes from a local theater production tell how this process of rebuilding gradually uncovered the community's own local theology and a growing consciousness of cultural and religious values A significant aspect of this social transformation in Ivanhoe as in many rural areas was the emergence of women as leaders educators and organizers developing new approaches to revive the economy and the people simultaneously This book is unusually open about the difficult process faced by outside researchers working with community members to describe community life It discusses the inherent dilemmas frankly and presents a model for those who engage in community studies and ethnographic research Author note Mary Ann Hinsdale is Associate Professor of Religious Studies at Boston College Helen M Lewis is Interim Director of the Appalachian Center at Berea College in Kentucky S Maxine Waller is President of the Ivanhoe Civic League and directs community based student volunteer programs in Virginia
