How I Became a Quant Richard R. Lindsey, Barry Schachter, 2011-01-11 Praise for How I Became a Quant Led by two top notch quants Richard R Lindsey and Barry Schachter How I Became a Quant details the quirky world of quantitative analysis through stories told by some of today's most successful quants For anyone who might have thought otherwise there are engaging personalities behind all that number crunching Ira Kawaller Kawaller Co and the Kawaller Fund A fun and fascinating read This book tells the story of how academics physicists mathematicians and other scientists became professional investors managing billions David A Krell President and CEO International Securities Exchange How I Became a Quant should be must reading for all students with a quantitative aptitude It provides fascinating examples of the dynamic career opportunities potentially open to anyone with the skills and passion for quantitative analysis Roy D Henriksson Chief Investment Officer Advanced Portfolio Management Quants those who design and implement mathematical models for the pricing of derivatives assessment of risk or prediction of market movements are the backbone of today's investment industry As the greater volatility of current financial markets has driven investors to seek shelter from increasing uncertainty the quant revolution has given people the opportunity to avoid unwanted financial risk by literally trading it away or more specifically paying someone else to take on the unwanted risk How I Became a Quant reveals the faces behind the quant revolution offering you the chance to learn firsthand what it's like to be a quant today In this fascinating collection of Wall Street war stories more than two dozen quants detail their roots roles and contributions explaining what they do and how they do it as well as outlining the sometimes unexpected paths they have followed from the halls of academia to the front lines of an investment revolution

On Their Own Terms Benjamin A. Elman, 2009-07-01 In On Their Own Terms Benjamin A Elman offers a much needed synthesis of early Chinese science during the Jesuit period 1600-1800 and the modern sciences as they evolved in China under Protestant influence 1840s-1900 By 1600 Europe was ahead of Asia in producing basic machines such as clocks levers and pulleys that would be necessary for the mechanization of agriculture and industry In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Elman shows Europeans still sought from the Chinese their secrets of producing silk fine textiles and porcelain as well as large scale tea cultivation Chinese literati borrowed in turn new algebraic notations of Hindu Arabic origin Tychonic cosmology Euclidian geometry and various computational advances Since the middle of the nineteenth century imperial reformers early Republicans Guomindang party cadres and Chinese Communists have all prioritized science and technology In this book Elman gives a nuanced account of the ways in which native Chinese science evolved over four centuries under the influence of both Jesuit and Protestant missionaries In the end he argues the Chinese produced modern science on their own terms

Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission, 2011-01-27 Examines the causes of the financial crisis that began in 2008 and reveals the weaknesses found in financial regulation excessive borrowing and breaches in accountability Prison Legal News, 2005 The Publishers Weekly, 2005 Thank You for Dying for Our Country Chaim Noy, 2015-06-08 Combining ethnographic semiotic and performative approaches this book examines texts and accompanying acts of writing of national commemoration The commemorative visitor book is viewed as a mobilized stage a communication medium where visitors public performances are presented and where acts of participation are authored and composed The study contextualizes the visitor book within the material and ideological environment where it is positioned and where it functions The semiotics of commemoration are mirrored in the visitor book which functions as a participatory platform that becomes an extension of the commemorative spaces in the museum The study addresses tourists and visitors texts i e the commemorative entries in the book which are succinct dialogical utterances Through these public performances individuals and groups of visitors align and affiliate with a larger imagined national community Reading the entries allows a unique perspective on communication practices and processes and vividly illustrates such concepts as genre voice addressivity indexicality and the very acts of writing and reading The book s many entries tell stories of affirming but also resisting the narrative tenets of Zionist national identity and they illustrate the politics of gender and ethnicity in Israel society The book presents many ethnographic observations and interviews which were done both with the management of the site Ammunition Hill National Memorial Site and with the visitors themselves The observations shed light on processes and practices involved in writing and reading and on how visitors decide on what to write and how they collaborate on drafting their entries The interviews with the site s management also illuminate the commemoration projects and how museums and exhibitions are staged and managed

A Little History of the World E. H. Gombrich,2008-10-07 E H Gombrich s bestselling history of the world for young readers tells the story of mankind from the Stone Age to the atomic bomb focusing not on small detail but on the sweep of human experience the extent of human achievement and the depth of its frailty The product of a generous and humane sensibility this timeless account makes intelligible the full span of human history In forty concise chapters Gombrich tells the story of man from the stone age to the atomic bomb In between emerges a colorful picture of wars and conquests grand works of art and the spread and limitations of science This is a text dominated not by dates and facts but by the sweep of mankind s experience across the centuries a guide to humanity s achievements and an acute witness to its frailties

A Locker Room of Her Own David C. Ogden,Joel Nathan Rosen,2013-06-03 Female athletes are too often perceived as interlopers in the historically male dominated world of sports Obstacles specific to women are of particular focus in A Locker Room of Her Own Race sexual orientation and the similar qualities ancillary to gender bear special exploration in how they impact an athlete s story Central to this volume is the contention that women in their role as inherent outsiders are placed in a unique position even more complicated than the usual experiences of inequality and discord associated with race and sports The contributors explore and critique the notion that in order to be considered among the pantheon of athletic heroes one cannot deviate from the traditional demographic profile that of the white male These essays look specifically and critically at the nature of gender and sexuality within the contested nexus of race reputation and sport The collection explores the reputations of iconic and pioneering sports figures and the cultural and social forces that helped to forge their unique and often problematic legacies Women athletes discussed in this volume include Babe Didrikson Zaharias the women of the AAGPBL Billie Jean King Venus and Serena Williams Marion Jones Chris Evert and Martina Navratilova Sheryl Swoopes Florence Griffith Joyner Roberta Gibb and Kathrine Switzer and Danica Patrick

Artificial Hells Claire Bishop, 2012-07-24 This searing critique of participatory art from its development to its political ambitions is an essential title for contemporary art history scholars and students as well as anyone who has thought Now that s art or That s art Library Journal Since the 1990s critics and curators have broadly accepted the notion that participatory art is the ultimate political art that by encouraging an audience to take part an artist can promote new emancipatory social relations Around the world the champions of this form of expression are numerous ranging from art historians such as Grant Kester curators such as Nicolas Bourriaud and Nato Thompson to performance theorists such as Shannon Jackson Artificial Hells is the first historical and theoretical overview of socially engaged participatory art known in the US as social practice Claire Bishop follows the trajectory of twentieth century art and examines key moments in the development of a participatory aesthetic This itinerary takes in Futurism and Dada the Situationist International Happenings in Eastern Europe Argentina and Paris the 1970s Community Arts Movement and the Artists Placement Group It concludes with a discussion of long term educational projects by contemporary artists such as Thomas Hirschhorn Tania Bruguera Pawel Althamer and Paul Chan Since her controversial essay in Artforum in 2006 Claire Bishop has been one of the few to challenge the political and aesthetic ambitions of participatory art In Artificial Hells she not only scrutinizes the emancipatory claims made for these projects but also provides an alternative to the ethical rather than artistic criteria invited by such artworks Artificial Hells calls for a less prescriptive approach to art and politics and for more compelling troubling and bolder forms of participatory art and criticism
