enced belongs to the most fundamental and important events in the regulation of the life cycle of cells During recent years several signal transduction cascades have been elucidated which regulate for instance the growth and the proliferation of organisms as diverse as mammals flies worms and yeast The general picture which emerged from these investigations is that nature employs a combination of non covalent ligand protein and protein protein interactions together with a set of covalent protein modifications to generate the signals and transduce them to their destinations The ligands which are recognized may be low molecular weight compounds like lipids inositol derivatives steroids or microbial products like cyclosporin They may be proteins like for instance growth factors or intracellular adaptor proteins which carry SH2 or SH3 domains and they may be specific DNA stretches which are selectively recognized by transcription factors These and other aspects of biological signal transduction provide an open and rewarding field for investigations by scientists from various different disciplines of biology medical research and chemistry working in academic research institutions or in industry
