Information Needs of Communities Steven Waldman, 2011-09 In 2009 a bipartisan Knight Commission found that while the broadband age is enabling an info and commun renaissance local communities in particular are being unevenly served with critical info about local issues Soon after the Knight Commission delivered its findings the FCC initiated a working group to identify crosscurrent and trend and make recommendations on how the info needs of communities can be met in a broadband world This report by the FCC Working Group on the Info Needs of Communities addresses the rapidly changing media landscape in a broadband age Contents Media Landscape The Policy and Regulatory Landscape Recommendations Charts and tables This is a print on demand report Defensive Medicine and Medical Malpractice, 1994 The Chicago Food Encyclopedia Carol Haddix, Bruce Kraig, Colleen Taylor Sen, 2017-08-16 The Chicago Food Encyclopedia is a far ranging portrait of an American culinary paradise Hundreds of entries deliver all of the visionary restaurateurs Michelin superstars beloved haunts and food companies of today and yesterday More than 100 sumptuous images include thirty full color photographs that transport readers to dining rooms and food stands across the city Throughout a roster of writers scholars and industry experts pays tribute to an expansive and still expanding food history that not only helped build Chicago but fed a growing nation Pizza Alinea Wrigley Spearmint Soul food Rick Bayless Hot Dogs Koreatown Everest All served up A Z and all part of the ultimate reference on Chicago and its food Trauma Informatics Kimball I. Maull, Jeffrey S. Augenstein, 1998-03-16 Information and the technology to rapidly transmit analyze document and disperse this information are increasing arithmetically if not logarithmically Arguably no discipline better exemplifies this trend than medicine It can be further argued that care of the trauma patient is one of the better examples of informatics and the potential benefit to the health professionals who care for these patients Maull and Augenstein have provided us with a primer on informatics and its use in trauma care The subject matter is timely and covers the gamut of trauma care from prehospital to rehabilitation Who will benefit from trauma informatics A simple answer would be anyone who takes care of trauma patients From a broader perspective however at least three examples illustrate how trauma informatics can be used today to exert a positive effect on patient outcome The first example is care of combat casualties including battlefield resuscitation evacuation acute care and ultimate return to the continental United States Current technology is such that via global positioning satellite a corpsman could transmit to a remote area the vital signs and pertinent physical findings of a combat casualty Furthermore the location of the corpsman and the casualty would be precisely known and consultation and destination disposition would be possible The injured person when admitted to a combat support hospital could be continuously monitored and additional remote consultation obtained Human Nutrition Research Gary R. Tashian,2013-06-29 As we approach the twenty first century the problems of industrialization are evident we find there is a greenhouse effect the ozone layer is being depleted the rain is acidified and there is a terrible problem of increasing CO concentrations in the atmosphere The carbonic anhydrases are a unique family of enzymes that solve these problems in the human body they are responsible for converting CO<sub>2</sub> a gas to H<sub>2</sub>CO<sub>3</sub> which is the biggest intracellular buffer with a concomitant decrease in H+ hydroxyl ion Globally the functions of the carbonic anhydrases in photosynthesis in rain forests and in the algae and plankton that cover our oceans indicate that they are also of utmost importance in the maintenance of the acid base balance on our planet Although the whole field of CO<sub>2</sub> metabolism is enormous and still rapidly expanding because of the research interests of the editors this book is mainly concerned with mammalian carbonic anhydrases However if the interested reader intends to purify carbonic anhydrases from nonmammalian sources Dr Cheg widden has provided the necessary information in Chapter 7 The carbonic anhydrases were first discovered in 1933 until 1976 there were thought to be only two isozymes Since then CA I, II, V, VI and VII have been discovered and well characterized There is of course no reason to believe that we have found them all School Architecture John Joseph Donovan,1921 Caregiver's
